Goldwater-Scranton Contest Reaches Platform Committee

By EDMOND LEBRETON

Scranton has the floor of the Republican platform committee, where his outnumbered followers have been trying to build a launching pad for the kind of superthrust take off Scranton would have to achieve to catch up with Sen. Barry Goldwater by the time the convention votes next week.

The Pennsylvanian's supporters have tried various gambits, all designed to hobble the front-running Arizona senator, but there was no sign they had made much impression on the platform committee. Most of its 105 members favor Goldwater.

The Scrantonites kept thrusting, however, and some talked of a fight over the platform on the convention floor if they lose in the committee.

One ripple stirred the platform committee Wednesday when a pro-Scranton member accused it of railroading procedures and demanded changes. But the matter was quickly settled.

Rep. Silvio O. Conte of Massachusetts made the move and got the support of some committee members, mostly from the East. He especially demanded guarantees that the finished draft of the platform, being written under the direction of a 13-member executive committee, would be delivered to members in time for them to prepare amendments if they wished.

Later Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, platform committee chairman, conferred privately with Conte and afterward said there had been a misunderstanding and very little real disagreement. He said the procedures already agreed to give members more than the three hours suggested by Conte for drafting proposed changes before voting on the items in the platform.

Conte, however, called the outcome "quite a victory," contending opponents had backed down at a challenge. "You can throw rocks at them and they won't throw back," he said.

Conte promised he and like-minded members of the platform committee will offer a series of proposed planks and will never compromise on the content of major proposals. For example, he said, they will insist on a plank on extremist movements that denounces by name The John Birch Society.

Other proposed planks, he said, will deal with federal aid to education, retaining in presidential hands control over the use of nuclear weapons, opposition to a federal "right to work" law, and civil rights.

All these topics offer opportunities to challenge Goldwater on positions he has taken — or at least which his opponents say he has taken.

One of the most pointed jabs was the wording of a proposed plank to be introduced by Richard C. Van Dusen of Michigan on legislation that would outlaw union shop contracts. The plank would put the party on record against any such federal "right to work" law, including any law that would ban union shop contracts unless state legislature enacted statutes specifically permitting them. Goldwater has introduced just such a bill.

"I think if we adopt the kind of platform we want, we might get the candidate we want," Conte told newsmen.

Goldwater supporters on the platform committee, operating from strength, did not appear perturbed, but willing to give ground on platform wording to a degree if a fight could be averted.

Scranton Given Gala Welcome In San Francisco

By FRANCES LEWINE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Thousands of fans turned out to give underdog contender Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania a gala welcome to the convention battleground, waving placards and shouting "Bill will!"

Scranton and his wife, Mary, shook hands for 2½ hours at an arrival reception Wednesday night.

Young and old queued up to meet their candidate. There were even two with broken legs who waited hours for a handshake, negotiating on crutches.

Finally, declaring his welcome "sensational" and "beyond expectation." Scranton summoned the remaining crowd of hundreds close for a spoken farewell. He and his wife stood on chairs so they could be seen. Flowers were tossed to them.

Scranton promised he had come to San Francisco to win the presidential nomination and make the GOP "the majority party in the U.S.A."

Scranton himself estimated the turnout at 4,000.

The perspiring candidate made frequent little speeches. He told of finding family diaries that noted his great grandfather joined the Republican party in 1857, the year after the party was born. The family has given the GOP donations every year since, he attested.

Mary Scranton noted some of her forebears built a house nearby on Nob Hill. She said it was a thrill to come back to the city of her relatives "to see Bill nominated for president." Two of their four children Susan, 18, and Bill Jr., 16, shared the handshaking.

Barry Launches Unity Appeal for Republican Race

By WALTER R. MEARS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, front-running candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, said today the party faces "a tough job" in the race against President Johnson—but added: "This is going to be a Republican year."

"United we will win," Goldwater said in an address prepared for an airport rally on his arrival in San Francisco for the Republican National Convention.

The Arizona senator made the transcontinental trip in a two-engine chartered plane, switching from a commercial airliner at the last minute.

"I expect that all Republicans will leave San Francisco to beat Lyndon B. Johnson and win the presidency of the United States" he said.

Goldwater was quoted Tuesday as saying "as of now" no Republican could beat Johnson. He added in a June 29 interview with the German magazine Der Spiegel. "On Election Day there is going to be another horse race."

"I know that we have a tough job ahead," he said today. "I also know that this is going to be a Republican year all across the country, from statehouse to courthouse and from Congress to the White House.

"I know that you are going to come out of this convention united and fighting — not with each other but with the Johnson administration and its failing foreign policy, its phony fiscal policy and its attempt to spend its way to political power," Goldwater said.

He added that "so-called popularity polls" will not win reelection for Johnson.

"I am here today because of only one thing," Goldwater said, "the support of the people in the Republican party, right at the grass roots, who have honored me with their millions of votes, their millions of man hours, of selfless volunteer work and their personal, abiding dedication to this grand young party of ours."

Nothing Decided About Running Mate, Barry Says

By WALTER R. MEARS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater flies to San Francisco today, insisting "nothing has been decided" about a vice presidential running mate should he win the Republican presidential nomination.

But sources high in the Goldwater team said Wednesday night the front-running Arizona senator thinks Rep. William E. Miller of New York "has some real good things going for him" for the No. 2 spot.

And Rep. Gerald R. Ford Jr. of Michigan still is a strong possibility, they said. The same sources said the choice boils down to one between Miller and Ford.

The Goldwater sources said that as of now Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton, Goldwater's leading opponent for the presidential nomination, won't get the nod for the No. 2 spot "unless the convention forces him down our throat."

The word that "nothing has been decided" was relayed Wednesday night from Goldwater by his press aide, Tony Smith.

Goldwater has spent the last three days here in virtual seclusion.

It ends today with a transcontinental flight for the Republican National Convention, an address to an airport welcoming crowd Goldwater aides hope will be 7,000 to 8,000 strong, and a news conference.

Probe of Baker Closed; GOP Cries Coverup

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has closed its Bobby Baker investigation but its political overtones are expected to echo in this fall's election campaign as Republicans have charged "the full story has not been disclosed."

The Senate Rules Committee rang down the curtain on the seven - month probe into the wheelings and dealings of the former Senate aide with a report Wednesday saying he was "guilty of many gross improprieties."

But it left it up to the Justice Department to determine whether Baker should be prosecuted for any violations of criminal law.

The report was submitted to the Senate on behalf of the committee's Democratic majority by Chairman B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C.

A separate minority report turned in by the committee's three Republican members accused the Democratic majority of ignoring their "rights" to have additional witnesses called including White House aide

Eisenhower Will Broadcast From GOP Convention

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The gold and white drapes are up, the modern furniture is in place and workers are hanging the paintings in former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's new television studio.

By air time Sunday night everything will be ready for the general's debut as an American Broadcasting Co. newsman at the Republican National Convention.

Eisenhower will make at least one appearance a day from the studio on the sixth floor of the St. Francis Hotel—discussing developments at a convention in which he is a central figure.

A half hour before each convention session, Eisenhower will go on the air, talking about the events of the day.

One Killed, Four Injured in Blast At Climax Mine

CLIMAX, COLO. (AP) — One man was killed and four others injured in a fire in the Climax Molybdenum mine Wednesday.

Steve Videtich, husband of Mrs. Ione Videtich, Leadville city clerk, was killed. Toby Atencio, Jim Roush and William Brock suffered smoke inhalation, and James Schaeffer received a back injury.

All were taken to a hospital.

The cause of Videtich's death was not immediately determined. Mine officials and a representative of the Colorado Bureau of Mines sought to determine the cause of the fire.

Reapportionment Completed by State Legislature

By GORDON G. GAUSS

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Colorado completed reapportionment of its Legislature Wednesday night, allocating seats in both the House of Representatives and Senate on the basis of population.

The action came only 23 days after the Supreme Court of the United States threw out a reapportionment system adopted by the state's voters because Senate seats were distributed on a geographical system.

Republican Gov. John A. Love praised the accomplishment and said Colorado has become the first state in the nation to realign legislative posts in accordance with the Supreme Court decision of June 15.

Decisions nullifying legislative apportionment systems in New York, Alabama, Maryland, Delaware and Virginia were handed down the same day as the Colorado ruling.

The reapportionment law was hammered through the Republican-controlled Legislature during an eight-day special session.

The final step came Wednesday when the reapportionment bill was taken before a special three-judge federal court for approval. The special tribunal had been given the job by the Supreme Court of seeing that the reapportionment mandate was carried out.

After an hour of arguments, circuit Judge Jean S. Breitenstein announced:

"It is the opinion of the court

Cotton Exchange In New Orleans Ceases Business

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — The New Orleans Cotton Exchange — a historic futures market where fortunes were once made and lost during a single day of trading—ceases operations today.

Across the nation, more than a score of commodity exchanges will suspend operations and observe one minute of silence at noon to mark the passing of the 93-year-old New Orleans exchange.

C. Layton Merritt, president of the exchange, blamed the government's price-fixing system and proposed government financing of cotton industry cooperatives as final blows to this historic institution.

"We cede our role in the market place to the secretary of agriculture, the cooperatives

George Hutchison, the subdivider, presented to the El Paso County Planning Commission a request for the approval of a new final plat for Thunderbird Estates, formerly Sun Valley Estates. The proposed subdivision is located northwest of the Pine Creek Estates Subdivision and southwest of the Air Force Academy, and contains about 100 acres.

Bruce Craig, Rt. 1, Box 229, Woodman Valley, acting as spokesman for most of those protesting the petition, presented three petitions, one from Pine Creek Estates, carrying 26 names, a second from Woodman Valley carrying 50 signa-

'Ghoulish Gravediggers' Denounced by Clergyman

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A leading theologian today deplored the "tearful sentimentality in the face of death" which leads some undertakers to prey upon the bereaved.

Canon Howard A. Johnson of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York labeled some funeral directors as "ghoulish gravediggers, traffickers in death (and) exploiters of bereavement." He added that these persons are in the minority and that most morticians perform their tasks honestly.

But he said he doesn't blame the erring undertakers so much as he does American religious institutions which "no longer teach our parishioners the art of dying."

"If Christians and Jews knew even the rudiments of Biblical teaching, no funeral director could have a field day, as he now has," Canon Johnson said. "Most of America seems to be involved in a vast conspiracy to hush up the fact of death. This hush-hush campaign betrays a deep, neurotic sickness in the American character."

Canon Johnson gave his views to a Senate antitrust subcommittee, which is looking into the practices of funeral directors for possible antitrust violations and other conduct which might not be in the public interest.

Chairman Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., released a price comparison chart listing the cost of 12 different caskets to a funeral director in each of 13 states and the price for which each sells the funeral in which the particular casket is used.

The chart, drawn by the subcommittee staff, showed that the cost of a funeral skyrockets as the price of the casket goes up, although all other services remain the same.

For example, an undertaker in Missouri buys a No. 1 type casket for $50 and charges $150 for the funeral. He buys a No. 12 style casket for $439.15 and gets $1,989 for the funeral.

Two Refugees Arrive From Cuba in Boat

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Forty-two refugees have arrived from Cuba this week in five small boats despite increased fortification of Cuban coasts.

Fishermen arriving from Havana Province Wednesday said a stretch of about 100 miles of the north coast is "solid with fortifications of concrete, wire, trenches, cannon, machineguns and tanks."

A 16-year-old army draftee escaping in another boat said he fled a camp where 1,500 soldiers his age were being given "Communist indoctrination and military exercises."

The Cuban Refugee Center said this week's arrivals brought to 7,000 the number of small boat escapees it has recorded since June 1961.

Unity for Africa Being Sought in London Talks

By LOUIS M. NEVIN

LONDON (AP) — Rulers of Britain's former African colonies moved into a concerted drive today to free all Africans from white rule and unite their continent.

The drive was sparked by Kenya Prime Minister Jomo Kenyatta at the opening business session Wednesday of the week-long conference of Commonwealth leaders.

In calm, measured tones, Kenyatta appealed to the other Commonwealth premiers to form a united front on the question of African liberation and unity.

He called the roll of countries still ruled by whites but his aides said he would specifically attack the white minority governments in Southern Rhodesia and South Africa when the conference takes up the issue of "the progress of British territories towards independence." This will probably come up Friday.

Kenyan sources indicated Kenyatta would call for a Commonwealth boycott of South Africa. That republic has left the Commonwealth but still does much business with its members.

In his speech which replied to Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home's address opening the conference, Kenyatta also touched on the Portuguese territories of Mozambique and Angola. He said there should be a realistic approach and a unity of purpose to secure freedom for the Negro majorities.

The Zimbabwe African People's Union of Southern Rhodesia gave an indication of African demands for that country in a memorandum from its secretary-general, G.B. Nyandoro.

Nyandoro said ZAPU demands "immediate steps to suspend the present constitution" under which the white government of Premier Ian Smith—representing 250,000 whites — is ruling 3 million Africans.

Third District Demos to Stage Pueblo Meeting

DENVER (AP) — Democrats in the 2nd and 3rd Districts will meet Saturday to designate candidates for congressional nominations.

Three are seeking designation at the 3rd District meeting at Pueblo — State Rep. Frank Evans of Pueblo, Hugh J. Ross of Colorado Springs and Henry J. Olshaw of Rye.

Olshaw was an independent candidate — without success — for Congress in 1960 and the U.S. Senate in 1962.

The Democrat winner in the September primary will oppose Rep. J. Edgar Chenoweth, Trinidad Republican, in November.

Indications were today that State Sen. Roy McVicker of Wheat Ridge will be unopposed for the Democratic designation for Congress in the 2nd District.

The party's choice will face Rep. Donald Brotzman, Boulder Republican, in November.

Each district convention will elect six delegates and three alternates to the Democratic National Convention at Atlantic City, beginning Aug. 24. Each delegate will have a half vote.

Army Takes Step to Stop Abuses by Lie Detectors

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has laid down strict regulations designed to prevent any abuses in the use of lie detectors by military police investigators, an unpublicized army order disclosed today.

In the main, the Army order bars MP criminal investigators from taking advantage of a person who may be tired, upset, ill or otherwise not at his best.

It also forbids anything deceptive, such as investigators wearing white coats which might make them look like doctors.

Use of lie detectors by government agencies has come under sharp attack in Congress and has been investigated by a House subcommittee.

The Army order says that no lie detector test will be given without the express approval of the provost marshal of a base and that the device may be operated only by an accredited examiner.

Among the restrictions listed were these:

Criminal investigators will not subject a person to prolonged questioning just before a lie detector examination.

Such an examination "will not be conducted when it is apparent that the subject is mentally or physically fatigued."

"No person will be examined while obviously emotionally upset, intoxicated, under the influence of a sedative, or who is known to have a mental disorder or to be addicted to drugs or marijuana."

A test may not be held while the subject is "experiencing physical discomfort of signifi-

Panamanian Politician Takes Turn for Worse

LONDON (AP)—Panamanian politician - diplomat Roberto Arias, husband of ballerina Margot Fonteyn, has taken a serious turn for the worse because of a chest infection.

Arias, 47, was shot by a disgruntled political colleague in Panama June 8. He suffered a lung wound and a spinal injury which caused paralysis and was flown to England last Saturday for treatment at a hospital 30 miles from London.

After seeing her husband safely into the hospital, Dame Margot flew to Italy to appear in the annual Festival of Two Worlds at Spoleto.

Pretty Good Days In Illinois Are Seen by Scranton

By RELMAN MORIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Gov. William W. Scranton has had two pretty good days in Illinois, cultivating the grass-roots voters and trying to start a political prairie fire against Sen. Barry Goldwater.

The crowds that turned out to hear him were friendly, attentive and largely responsive.

In two instances, at a shopping center in southwest Chicago and in Mattoon, people braved rain to listen to him. In Evanston, where he lashed at Goldwater in one of his sharpest attacks since he declared for the Republican presidential nomination, supporters shouted "Give it to him," and "Give him hell, Bill."

But the pivotal question remains: Can Scranton, through his appeal to the Republican man-on-the-street, put enough pressure on the 58-man Illinois delegation, to pull any considerable number of votes away from Goldwater?

The delegation voted 48-0 for Goldwater last week, with 10 abstaining.

Scranton adopted the maneuver of taking his case to the voters. He asked them to write and wire the Illinois delegates in San Francisco, expressing their preference for him. Scranton claims polls show that 65 per cent of the Republicans in Illinois want him, not Goldwater as the GOP candidate.

Scranton on Tuesday revived a fine and effective old tradition of presidential campaigns—the whistle-stop. It paid off for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1952.

The reaction to Scranton's railway foray caused him to say, "I believe we have picked up some delegate votes. It looks good. I was surprised by the size of the crowds because this has been heralded as Goldwater territory."

He traveled from Springfield to Decatur, Mattoon, Champaign in Evanston.

In Kankakee, he was hit in the leg by an egg. "It was a nice egg," he said, "well fired."

Goldwater placards greeted him at every stop. They were in the minority.

In Evanston, a crowd gathered in Fountain Square, on four sides of the rostrum, to hear Scranton. It looked to be in the neighborhood of 10,000, and it was vociferous. Again, the Goldwater placards appeared, along with "We want Barry" chanting.

Scranton drew cheers with phrases criticizing "the philosophyof negation—the slow death of blind reaction—an exclusion-minded minority — a never-never-land that puts our nation somewhere back in the 19th century."

Once or twice, the applause and banner-waving went on so long that Scranton had to halt it with gestures.

CONTINUANCE GRANTED

DENVER (UPI)— A 16-year-old boy accused of the bludgeon spaying of a 79-year-old widow a year ago was granted a continuance of his case Friday by Dist. Judge Sherman G. Finesilver. Funeral Industry Advertising Prices Probed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate investigation into the funeral business heard both sides of the argument on advertising prices today.

Arguing against such a practice were witnesses from the National Funeral Directors Association. On the other side was a Washington mortician, W. W. Chambers, who believes in advertising and said he survives on volume trade.

Without advertising, Chambers said, there is a tendency to "let the undertaker charge whatever the traffic would bear."

But Harry J. Gilligan, past president of the funeral directors association, told the Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee that he saw no point in it.

After all, he argued, the primary purpose of advertising is to expand the market, and he added in his statement:

"There isn't anything anyone can do to create a new market or expand the existing market for funeral directors. A given number of people will die each year and there isn't anything funeral services can do to make more people ready for their services."

Gilligan also contended that price advertising was misleading, usually nothing more than "bait advertising," and said it was not in the public interest.

Chambers, on the other hand, argued that only constant publicity and advertising would eliminate all deceit in the business.

Price advertising "educates the public to what a funeral should cost," Chambers said. "Everyone cannot afford a high price funeral. For those who cannot afford it, then give them a funeral at a price they can afford."

The subcommittee, in the second day of its hearings into possible restraint of trade and antitrust violations in the funeral industry, heard Tuesday that the casket is the key to the funeral price.

Meany to Urge GOP for Strict Civil Rights

By NEIL GILBRIDE

WASHINGTON (AP)—George Meany, AFL-CIO president, reportedly will urge Republican platform-makers Wednesday to pledge strict civil rights enforcement and to repudiate Sen. Barry Goldwater's right-to-work views.

Meany, who is leaving today to appear before the GOP platform committee in San Francisco, will ask that the party campaign on the promise to put enforcement of the new rights law in the hands of "people who mean business," sources said.

Shaping the civil rights plank will be one of the committee's touchiest chores.

Although most congressional Republicans voted for the civil rights bill, Goldwater, who has the party's presidential nomination almost in his grasp, voted against it. He argued that he believed some of its provisions were unconstitutional. But the Arizona senator has said he would enforce the law if elected president.

On another issue, Meany will ask the committee to pledge repeal of a section of federal labor law which permits the states to enact right-to-work laws, the sources said.

These laws, on the books in 20 states including Arizona, outlaw union shop contracts between labor and management.

Under the union shop, a worker must join the union after he is hired. In the right-to-work states, he does not have to join even though the union bargains for him along with its members.

Goldwater has introduced legislation, sharply opposed by the AFL-CIO, to ban the closed shop except in states which permit it under their own laws.

This would reverse the effect of present federal law and put the burden on unions to campaign for the closed shop in all 50 states.

Meany is expected to detail his views on international relations and the problem of high U.S. unemployment before the committee. And he is expected to oppose the Democratic administration's policies of limited trade with Communist bloc satellites to exploit differences in the bloc.

Meany has argued that the United Sates should demand concessions, such as removal of the Berlin Wall, for any economic help to Communist nations.

LITTER JAM

NEW YORK (AP) — This year's highway litter, if laid end to end, would create the world's record traffic jam.

In fact, it would bring all traffic to a dead stop on the 3,000 mile route between New York and San Francisco, reports Keep America Beautiful, the national antilitter organization.

Keep America Beautiful says the rubbish that will be dumped on U.S. streets and highways in 1964, if concentrated, would bury the transcontinental route a foot deep in discarded cartons, paper bags, chewing gum and candy wrappers, garbage, cans, bottles and such assorted trash as old mattresses and automotive parts.

Quints' Parents Expect Another Baby in Family

The parents of America's only quintuplets are expecting another child, reportedly around the time of the quints' first birthday, Sept. 14.

Mrs. Fischer told the Aberdeen American-News she would make no formal announcement of the long-rumored pregnancy. "Everyone knows it anyway."

The quints—four girls and a boy—were born nearly 10 months ago. The Fischers have five other children.

They live in a rented home in Aberdeen while their new farm dwelling is under construction. Fischer expects to enter the cattle business on their 800-acre tract but is still working at a wholesale grocery firm.

House for Civil Rights Workers Shaken by Bomb

MCCOMB, Miss. (AP)—Three small explosions shook a civil rights organization's "freedom house," where 10 persons were sleeping, early today.

The McComb police department said it was investigating the incident.

A police officer said there was no fire, although fire department trucks were standing by.

The explosions occurred about 4 a.m. at the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee house at 702 Wall St. in this southwestern Mississippi town.

A spokesman for SNCC's national headquarters at Greenwood, Miss., said Curtis Hays, 21, a McComb Negro SNCC staff worker, was cut about the face and body by debris from the explosions.

The spokesman Ed Rudd, said Hays was not seriously hurt and would be treated by a McComb Negro physician.

Rudd said he had been notified that Dennis Sweeney, 21, a white summer volunteer from Portland, Ore., also had been slightly cut.

Rudd said most of the 10 people in the freedom house at the time were SNCC staff workers, b t one was a representative of the National Council of Churches, the Rev. Don McCord, a white minister from Stafford, Kan.

AW, COME ON RALPH, GET ON WITH IT — Zamva, a 500-pound jungle-born African lion, opens wide and growls as he gets a blood transfusion from owner-trainer Ralph Helfer and actress Lucy Garcia, in Hollywood. The lion and Lucy have parts in a movie called "Fluffy." Helfer says working on a movie set takes a lot out of a lion like Zamba. So the owner-trainer got a couple of quarts of blood from Damba, another lion. He used it for a transusion which he says peps up his lion star. (AP Wirephoto)

Calhan News

By MRS. CHARLES WARREN
Phone 3447-2365

Sunday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. George Kobilan and family called on Mr. and Mrs. Harold Young of Simla.

Mr. Rby Agee and his sister and her family of Colorado Springs were Thursday callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Buckner.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Little called at the J. Buckner home Sunday.

Mrs. Kenneth Butler and family of Colorado Springs spent a few days visiting with her sister, Mrs. Charlie Dungan and family and also Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carter and family.

Mrs. Tressa I. Owen, passed away at her home during the evening of July 1. She was the wife of John Owen and had been a resident of Calhan for forty-nine years. She was an active member of the Calhan Methodist Church, a member of Leonore Rebekah Lodge number 113, and a member of the Ladies Auxiliary. She is survived by her husband John, two daughters, four sons, two sisters, four brothers and several grandchildren and great-grandchildren and many nieces and nephews.

Mrs. Owen was buried in the Calhan Cemetery with the Rev. Frances Bigelow officiating.

St. Mary's Orthodox Church in Calhan was the scene of the recent marriage of Miss Gladys Trojanovich and Edwin Glaser, both of Calhan. The Rev. Paul Fedec performed the double ring ceremony against a background of white baby mums and carnations.

"Because" and "The Lord's Prayer" were sung by Alice Arnpriester and Lyn Bonnie. Both girls are room-mates of Gladys'.

Given in marriage by her brother - in - law, Kenneth Kraft, the bride wore a full length gown of lace over satin, fashioned with long tapering sleeves, a fitted bodice, and a Sabrina neckline, etched with seed pearls and sequins.

The bouffant skirt was accented in the front with a lace rose and the back fell into a chapel train. The bride's fingertip veil of illusion fell from a high crown of pearls and sequins. She carried a white prayer book adorned with white carnations and baby pink roses. She wore a string of pearls which were a gift of the groom.

Miss Sharlene Trojanovich attended her sister as Maid of Honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Diana and Sandy Trojanovich, Miss Bonnie Baumann, Miss Joan Mae Salmich, Miss Dorothy DeWitt. Mrs. Mary Ann Parks and Mrs. Millie Derer were matrons of honor. Miss Kathy Kraft was a junior bridesmaid.

Attendants wore street length dresses of mint green chiffon over satin with brocade bodices, matching veil hats of mint green and bouquets of pink carnations with tapered candles were carried by the bridesmaids.

Flower girls were Misses Kim Kraft and Fawn Parks. They wore white chiffon over mint green and each carried a basket of pink peony petals.

David Glaser attended his brother as Best Man. Tony Trojanovich and Ray Kosley were the senior attendants. The ushers were Darrel Deihl, Darrel Fargo, Joe Long, Gary Hanish, Bill Dzuris, Bill Trojanovich, David Dzurovchin and Kenneth Kraft.

The bride's mother wore a dress of peach lace over satin with beige accessories and an orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a blue lace over satin dress with blue and white accessories and an orchid corsage.

Following a honeymoon trip to Yellowstone Park, the couple will reside in Calhan till this fall when they both will return to C.S.C. at Greeley.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Tipton and family left for Iola, Kan. Sunday where they will make their new home.

Mrs. Les Craig is keeping their little granddaughter, Roberta Aregi while her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Aregi are visiting her brother, Gary, stationed at Travis Air Base, Calif.

June 28, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Warren had as dinner guests their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. James C. Warren and son, Jim Jr. of Huntington Park, Calif., Mrs. Joe Alvis and sons of Pueblo, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Warren and daughters. Later that evening, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Warren and family were visitors.

Also, June 28, Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Kucerik and Mr. and Mrs. Hal Warren and family spent the day up at Deckers and the Lost Valley Park, sightseeing and camping.

Brunettes Are Better, Blonde Actress Says

By JAMES BACON

"No! No! No!" says actress Sandra Waner, a ravishing brunette who recently had to turn blonde for a role.

"My experience as a blonde was a complete disaster. It even ruined my health. I wouldn't go through the experience again for a million dollars. Well, maybe for a million."

Sandra was cast as a movie queen.

"The studio insisted that I turn blonde. I argued: 'Would Liz Taylor qualify as a movie queen?' But it was no use. I had to turn blonde. Producers think all movie queens are blonde.

"It took three days to make me a blonde. Right there, I figured, blondes don't have time enough to have fun. And how many men can you find in a beauty shop? Blondes spend half their lives in beauty shops.

"As a blonde, my whole personality changed. I may have looked flashier but I sure didn't feel it.

"Maybe it's different for natural blondes — if any exist—but the whole bleaching process is turning against nature.

"As a brunette, I consider myself a warmer woman. As a blonde, I was cold, reserved—entirely different from my real personality.

"Brunettes are sexier—even though blondes may look it.

"I know I had less sex appeal as a blonde because I didn't feel sexy—not like I do as a brunette.

"I can see why Liz is the No. 1 star. She never would have made it as a blonde."

Sandra admits bitterness.

"The bleaching process put me in the hospital with toxic hepatitis—and I lost the role besides. They couldn't wait until I got well. I also lost 15 pounds."

Tina Louise took the part instead.

Assassin of Bhutan Executed in India

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The assassin of Premier Jigme Dorji of Bhutan and an army officer charged with masterminding the plot have been executed in public, the newspaper The Statesman reported today.

The report said Naik Jambey, the asassin, and Lt. Sange Dorji, faced a firing squad at a parade ground in Thimbu Saturday.

Brig. Bhadur Namgyal, deputy commander of the Bhutan army, was executed two months age for complicity in the assassination. Naik Doley also was sentenced to death, but the sentence was later commuted to life imprisonment.

Dorji, an anti-Communist, was shot April 5 near the Indian border. The Indian government said it believed Red China was behind the assassination.

Israel Says Border Situation Worsening

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Israel has warned that the "deteriorating situation" along the Israeli-Syrian frontier is a serious threat to international peace and security.

In a note to U.N. Security Council President Ahmed Taibi Benhima of Morocco Wednesday, Israeli Ambassador Michael S. Comay accused Syrian forces of 29 "utterly unprovoked and obviously premeditated" attacks on Israeli positions between June 9 and July 6. He said his country had suffered six casualties and extensive property damage.

Syria previously had blamed Israel for the border clashes and put its border forces on the alert.

STRANGE BEDFELLOW

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—Mrs. Irene Korgan got out of bed in record time when she awakened about 1:30 a.m. to find a six-foot snake lying beside her.

Thunderstorms Strike Midwest, Rockies Regions

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thunderstorms and showers swept scattered sections of the nation east of the Rockies today, again hitting Midwest areas which have been pounded by stormy weather the past few days.

Severe thunderstorms struck the area of North Platte, Neb., during the night with heavy rain and winds up to 81 miles an hour. Heaviest rainfall Tuesday was reported in sections of lower Michigan, northern Indiana and northeastern Illinois. Wind storms caused extensive property damage in sections of Nebraska.

The storms moved into the Ohio Valley and the southern Appalachian region. Rain was reported in parts of the plateau states.

Temperatures soared to 110 in the arid Southwest Tuesday and readings of 100 and higher were reported in south central areas.

CRYSTAL GAZER

NEW YORK (AP)—A Columbia University business student's predictions about education 100 years from now have been sealed in the cornerstone of Uris Hall, home of the Graduate School of Business and Columbia's newest building.

Alex Ruskewich, president of the School's Graduate Business Association, addressed his letter to the "GBA President of the Class of 2064." Among his predictions: computerized libraries of television tape recordings of lectures by the world's great thinkers; and elimination of all language barriers by machine translation.

Sonic Booms Magnified by Cloud Layers

FAA engineers say they can still make such predictions accurately for ground areas directly below the sky track of a supersonic airplane

The sonic boom distortions show up for the most part off to either side of the plane's course For "off-course" communities a sonic boom can be greater than expected or so slight as almost to escape detection

In case you haven't heard one, a sonic boom is a sound resembling an explosion It's produced when a shock wave formed at the nose of an aircraft traveling at supersonic speed reaches the ground

2,700 Trees Trimmed In Springs

The City Parks and Recreation Department trimmed 2,700 trees on side and center parkings in the city during June and carried out an extensive road repair job in the Garden of the Gods and North Cheyenne Canon.

At the same time, residents were reminded that grass clippings and other debris should not be raked off side parkings into the streets.

Gene Garman, city park superintendent, said that the forestry division of the parks and recreation department is now in its third complete trimming of trees on side and center parkings since the damaging snowstorm of 1959.

The city embarked on the trimming program after the storm in an effort to preserve the damaged trees. Since that time, the forestry division has trimmed all of the trees —about 29,000 — and is now on the third go-round.

Driver's Teeth Loosened When Car Hits Pole

Betty L. McNeil, 31, of 3109 Marion Dr., suffered loosened teeth when her car hit a steel light pole Wednesday morning in the 1800 block of N. Circle Dr., police reported. Mrs. McNeil was taken to the Ent AFB Dispensary for treatment.

Police said there was $500 damage done to the 1960 car when it hit the pole at an Enco service station at 1807 N. Circle Dr.

Crystalized Dynamite Stolen From Tractor

A quantity of crystalized dynamite which the sheriff's office describes as "very dangerous" was stolen from a tractor at Crystal Park Wednesday.

The tractor belongs to Cliff Corder, 2520 Robinson St. A $19 umbrella and a spud bar were also taken.

Portable Billboard Displayed Here

The billboard, furnished by the Naegele Outdoor Advertising Company, is a replica of those being placed at approximately 18 key points throughout the state by the Chamber of Commerce Tourist Promotion Committee.

The billboard message is: "Visit the Pikes Peak Region — see your Air Force Academy."

The Air Force Academy has become the largest single tourist attraction in the Rocky Mountain West, with more than two million visitors each year, Chamber officials said.

Lagoon-Type Sewage System Being Disputed

tures, and a third from the Falcon Estates area.

Craig said the principal objection of the petitioners was aimed at the lagoon-type sewage system which has been proposed for Thunderbird Estates. He said that the lagoon would be adjacent to Monument Creek and would endanger the health and welfare of children who play in the area as well as of the residents of Colorado Springs who live along the creek.

He also protested that the new subdivision has no fire protection and that the volunteer fire department in the Woodman Valley area does not have sufficient equipment to control the fires which he believed would develop in a high intensity housing area. He said the fire department is equipped chiefly to fight brush fires.

William Tudor, 7500 Tudor Rd., who is a property owner in the area of the proposed subdivision, told the commission he had seen "a good portion" of the platted area under water from floods coming down Monument Creek. He objected to the location of the lagoon, stating that as the plans now stand it will be located in the creek bed.

Tudor said the lagoon location is only 9½ feet above the present creek bed and that any slight flood would wash the contents of the sewage system down the creek into Colorado Springs.

Leo E. Oyler, assistant director of the City-County Health Department, told the commission that the state board of engineers would have to approve the plans for the lagoon, with regard to construction and its location in a flood area. He said that the state health department supervises the operation and maintenance of lagoon-type systems.

Oyler reported that other lagoons in the area are operating successfully and without odor.

Thomas J. Russell, surveyor for the project, stated that all regulations and requirements would be compiled with by the developer. He said that the state health board requires flood protection for lagoons.

"As far as the area being underwater," Russell said, "I think most of you have seen south Colorado Springs under water."

Russell said he believed that adequate fire protection was not a requirement for a housing development.

Opponents to the lagoon system suggested that the individual cesspool system might be employed by the developer of Thunderbird Estates. Oyler pointed out that the state health department would object to individual sewage systems due to the concentration of houses in the development.

Prior to voting on the plat, Ed Strand, attorney for the planning commission, opined that the subdivider should get the approval of the lagoon system from the state health department and the El Paso County Board of Adjustment before expecting the planning commission to give its approval of the plat. He said the planning commission's responsibility is to approve or reject the plat.

John Straus, a member of the commission, made a motion that the plat be approved. His motion died for want of a second.

A second motion made by Egmont Vrooman was approved by the board. The motion called for tabling the proposal until the developer can secure the proper approval from the state for the lagoon operation and from the board of adjustment for its location.

Chamber Official Welcomes Secunda Corp. to Springs

Speaking for the industrial committee of the Chamber of Commerce, William E. Carraway, director of industrial development for the chamber, welcomed the Secunda Corp., direct sales organization, to Colorado Springs business circles today.

Secunda has established home offices at 1703 N. Weber St., and will sell the Esteem Course in a seven-state area — Colorado, Utah, Arizona, New Mexico, Washington, Oregon and California.

"The Esteem Course is a unique 'self improvement' course designed for busy people in a busy age," Tucker said. "The course is presented on long-play recorded narrations and is accompanied by a complete set of workbooks for implementing the various sections of the course. The course is being used by thousands of men and women in states east of the Rocky Mountain Region, Tucker said.

"Secunda's function is to introduce and sell the course in the western states," Tucker said. "Of special interest to Colorado Springs businessmen is the fact that men and women from the seven-state area will be coming to Secunda's home office here for extension training in Secunda's methods of operation."

Tucker said the company is now hiring salesmen and management personnel from the Colorado Springs Area. These men and women will have a chance to fill top positions with the company, he said. More than 200 men and women will be hired from various cities of Colorado alone.

Bill Stern, dean of American Sportscaster, narrates "How to Succeed With Your Hidden Treasures, which is the introduction to the course.

Tucker said the material has been endorsed by some of America's top business leaders who have seen the results the course can produce in an individual and in an entire work force. Some of the material in the course includes areas such as "How to Budget Your Time," "How to Think Your Way to Riches," "How to Enjoy the Power of Enthusiasm," "How to Fulfill Your Dreams Through Action," "How to Make and Keep Friends," "How to Capitalize on What You Have," "How to Gain the Confidence of Others," "How to Have More Money" and "How to Enjoy a Happier Life."

In addition to these subjects, a special memory development section is available with the course. This section is designed to improve a person's ability to remember names and faces, telephone numbers, addresses, price lists etc.

"Thousands of men and women have written testimonials of what this course has done for them," Tucker said. "The founders of the course realize that there are certain success principles which make the difference between a successful person and one who does not succeed. These principles have been hidden in obscure, quaint little phrases of the world's great philosophers and in the lives of great men. Now they are available through the Esteem Course and are presented in such a way that a high school student can understand and yet in such a manner that top business executives appreciate."

Driver Injured Wednesday in Two Car Crash

Thomas A. Monnett, 19, of 2218 Mont Eagle St., suffered a broken nose, a head cut and abrasions in a two-car accident Wednesday morning at Caramillo Street and Union Boulevard.

Police said Monnett was traveling south on Union when his car collided with an auto driven by Tammarra E. Skidmore, 21, of 1601 E. Caramillo St. The Skidmore car was turning left from Union at the time of the accident.

cant magnitude or while possessing physical disabilities which, by themselves, might cause an abnormal response to be recorded."

An examiner will confine his test questions to matters pertinent to the offense being probed.

The Army order also incorporated the Defense Department's basic instructions that no lie detector examination shall be conducted without first getting the written consent of the person involved, and only after the person has been advised of his rights to refrain from doing anything that may tend to incriminate him.

Franklin Case Slated for Jury Today

The case of Oliver B. Franklin who is being tried in District Court for burglary and larceny will go to the jury sometime today.

Franklin, 18, 930 N. Spruce St. is accused of breaking into the home of Carlton R. White, 929 Raymond Pl. and taken money and jewelry worth a total of $36, April 22.

Judge G. Russell Miller sustained a motion argued by counsel for the defense Tom Gresham, that an alleged signed confession was inadmissable as evidence as it was involuntary. He ruled however that an oral confession be admitted.

In the presence of the jury Police Sgt. Tom Kosley admitted during crsos-examination that when Franklin was arrested May 1, he was never advised of his constitutional rights, nor was he told he might use a telephone to call his parents or that he was entitled to the services of an attorney.

Only breakfast and dinner is served in City Jail and for three days the defendant had no lunch apart from a sandwich and coke Kosley and a fellow officer gave him Saturday after interrogation. The witness admitted to Gresham that Franklin was held for 48 hours in a windowless cell with the minimum of furniture, that there was no mattress on the bed, and that there was no reading material, radio or television.

"And yet," the lawyer said in a withering tone, "You said you treated him like your own son."

Earlier, still during the jury's absence, testimony was given by Mrs. Ethel Franklin, the defendant's mother, an employee at the Ft. Carson Hospital.

She said she came home from work May 1 and a neighbor told her that her son had been picked up that morning by two plainclothes men.

At 3:30 p.m. she called the police station and was told there was no record of her son. At 10 p.m. a further call elicited the information that he was being held for investigation. The witness stated that the spokesman at the police department refused to say what the charge was and that she would have to speak to Officer Kosley.

She finally got hold of him at 1 p.m. the next day, but, she said, he refused to let her see her son and would not tell her with what he had been charged. Kosly testified he did not recall speaking with Mrs. Franklin.

More abortive attempts to speak to her son followed and she finally learned the charges when she read the newspaper Sunday morning, the witness told the court.

Franklin telephoned her about 9 a.m. that morning and after Kosley had also spoken to her she went to City Jail and finally saw her son about 4:15 p.m.

He was "scared and shaking" she said, and told her, "They asked me so many questions Mommy. I don't know what I answered." She added that he never finished the 11th grade and had attended a mental hygene clinic for 18 months. Mrs. Franklin said she told this to Kosley who had replied that he could see something was the matter with him.

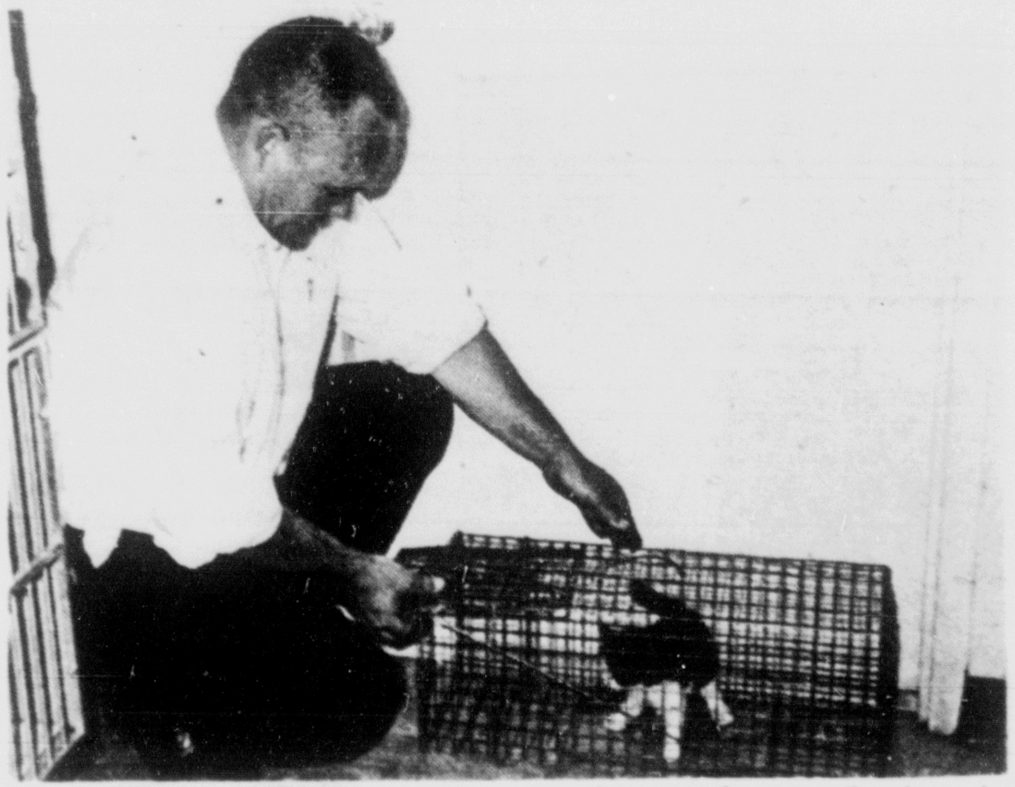
The boy's steapfather, Cass Franklin, a Ft. Carson sergeant, took the stand and still in the absence of the jury, repeated his wife's statements about the many telephone calls and the repeated efforts to obtain information and to see him.

The defendant testified how he had asked several times for permission to telephone or have police officers call for him. They told him "they would," or "they would see about it," he repeated. He went on to tell how he was constantly questioned from Friday to Sunday and how he admitted breaking into several houses and later retracting the statement. He never asked for an attorney as he was unaware it was his right and he did not know he could refuse to speak to the officers or refuse to sign the statement.

Franklin added that he signed the statement voluntarily and that he received no threats or promises.

Dr. Douglas Freed, a psychology lecturer at Colorado College, testified in the presence of the jury which returned to the box after lunch. A great deal of testimony Tuesday and Wednesday was given in its absence.

The doctor said he had examined Franklin in jail and given him a standard, widely accepted test, the Stanford-Benet test, to determine his mental age. The witness said Franklin was 14 years and 10 months old mentally.



WILD KITTENS CAPTURED—A howling litter of abandoned kittens have found a temporary home in the Humane Society Animal Shelter, 633 S. 8th St., after they were captured in live, bait traps, such as the one shown here in the hands of shelter manager M. L. (Skip) Seabolt. The kittens were born in a woodpile in the Cheyenne Canon area and were cared for by residents until they were weaned and ran away. Uncared for, they created a noisy disturbance in the area and residents called the Humane Society. The cats were hard to find so the officers placed the cages in the area with food in them. When the cats walked in the cage the door closed behind them. A short time later drivers picked up the cages with the cats and took them to the shelter to await adoption.

Reapportionment Completed by State Legislature

that for the purposes of the 1964 election the apportionment by Senate Bill 1 (the reapportionment act) does not offend the 14th Amendment of the United States Constitution and is adequate to comply with the mandate of the Supreme Court of the United States."

Love signed the measure less than an hour later.

The new law shifts control from rural to urban areas. It gives the state's 10 largest counties 27 of the 35 seats in the Senate and 49 of the 65 seats in the House of Represenatives. The other 53 counties will share 8 Senate posts and 16 in the House. Under the change, Denver alone will have 27 legislators—9 senators and 18 representatives.

Probe of Baker Closed; GOP Cries Coverup

Walter Jenkins, and charged a "cover-up."

Jenkins figured in testimony by Don B. Reynolds, a local insurance agent with whom Baker was associated and who sold two $100,000 life insurance policies to President Johnson before he became president.

The GOP members, however, said they had no major criticism of the analysis of the evidence in the majority report. "It does reveal gross wrongdoing, gross improprieties, and conduct which we believe to be unlawful," they said.

They said their criticism "is centered upon the fact that the majority refused to call all the witnesses and refused to get all the facts."

Police Search For Two Stolen Motor Vehicles

Police this morning reported the theft of two motor vehicles. Richard J. Martinez, 225 S. Wahsatch Ave., told officers his car was stolen from a parking place in the street in front of his home early Thursday morning.

Five Theft Cases Reported in Area

Five cases of theft were reported to the sheriff's department Wednesday.

J. Gordon Sorensen, Salt Lake, Utah, told Broadmoor Police Officer J. Weide that he left his $500 camera on a chair by Lake Terrace Broadmoor, and when he returned it was gone.

Two fire extinguishers worth $146 were taken from the Imperial 400 Motel, 1231 S. Nevada Ave., Deputy Sheriff Larry Holien reported. He said they were at the front of the motel. The previous night four other extinguishers valued at $256 were stolen.

Ray Winters, 34 E. Clover Circle, reported that a $75 electric motor for a power saw had been stolen from his garage. Two men were seen leaving with the motor and saw in the back of their car and the saw fell off and was recovered.

The fourth case was reported by Paul Morris of the Security Park and Recreation Department. He told Deputy Sheriff Jack Ames that $10 were stolen from the Talbot School in Widefield. Five dollars were in a cash box near the school office and the remaining $5 in a purse belonging to Gail Nelison, 220 Sherri Dr.

The final incident happened at the home of Mrs. R. Risberg, 2509 Chimayo Dr. She said $38 were taken from her purse which was in the linen closet. According to Ames, Mrs. Risberg was not away from home at the time of the theft but was working in the yard.

Suit Dismissed Against School

District Court Judge Hunter D. Hardeman dismissed a civil suit involving a three - year old boy Wednesday.

The boy's mother, Lorna Mae Ginn was suing A. L. Vette, Lincoln Holman, Paul Pease and Ruth Chisman individually and as members of School District No. 28, and School District No. 28.

According to the complaint, Mrs. Ginn stated that her son, Andrew R. Ginn was burned on the left ankle, foot and leg when he walked into a hot ash pit at Hanover School, Dec. 21, 1959 which was "created and maintained" by the defendants.

In an answer to the complaint, Vette Holman, Pease and Chisman claimed that any ash pit at the school was maintained by Lorna Mae Ginn and Richard Edwin Ginn, the plaintiff's parents, who lived on the premises.

Governor Council To Tour California Area

The Governor's Economic Development Council will tour the "Peninsula" area of California this November, said Donald F. McMahon.

McMahon is director of the Area Development department of Colorado Interstate Gas Co. and a member of the governor's council. He spoke Wednesday to the Pikes Peak Advertising Club in the Antlers Hotel.

The development council toured New York last spring to promote Colorado for industrial sites.

"We've determined there is a great deal of interest in Colorado," McMahon said, "much more than we had anticipated."

He said that the California delegation will concentrate its efforts, to lure electronics and other light industries to Colorado.

He stressed the role of advertising and public relations to the state's industrial growth. "No industry makes the decision to move into any area without good factual information," he pointed out.

"We (Colorado) don't have the water for the heavy industries," he said.

Instead, McMahon suggested that efforts of all groups be directed to lure industries that are compatible with Colorado — space, electronics and educational industries.

"The electronics industry has grown since the war and will continue to grow," he predicted. But McMahon said the real growth will be in the educational industries and atmospheric and space sciences.

"I don't see how it can miss," he said of the Front Range educational facilities and the industries they spawn. He mentioned the University of Wyoming at Laramie and federal and private research facilities that are mushrooming along the Front Range.

McMahon said these industries will bring scientifically trained and well - educated persons who will elevate the cultural climate of Colorado Springs and the state.

He stressed the increasing role of Colorado in foreign exports which he set in excess of $300 million a year.

McMahon is also chairman of the Industrial Development Council of the Colorado State Chamber of Commerce and the Governor's Advisory Committee of the Division of Commerce and development.

Petitions Tabled, Approved by Planning Group

Four petitions were tabled, one of them indefinitely, one was denied, one withdrawn and six others approved by the El Paso County Planning Commission in public hearing Wednesday.

Tabled indefinitely at the request of the petitioners was a request by John Otteman, Waldemar Schulz, Franklin Vogel and F. R. Potter for permission to change an A-4 Airport Farming district to a C-1 Roadside Service district. The area concerned is located east of Highway 24 and north of Highway 94 near the junction of the two highways. The area contains about 100 acres.

Also tabled was a request by Robert D. and Bernice M. Stevens to change an A-2 Farming district to a C-2 Suburban Business district of an area located west of old Highway 85-87, south of Security. The petitioners failed to appear, but the commission studied the proposal anyway. The petitioners are seeking to enlarge a present trailer park. The request was tabled after Leo E. Oyler, assistant director of the City-County Health Department said he did not know to what extent sanitation facilities had been provided in the expansion area.

A new final plat for Pine Park Estates, presented by Charles W. and Edna R. Eaton, was also tabled. The action took place after the commission approved a resolution to follow a procedure of disallowing action on plats unless the title opinion is cleared. The resolution provides that new plats would be kept off the agenda until the title opinion is cleared and is given full approval by the county planning engineer.

The Pine Park Estates petition was then tabled by the commission because it did not meet the requirements of the resolution in not being accompanied by a clear title.

The commission tabled a new final plat filed for Thunderbird Estates by George Hutchison. The area is located northwest of Pine Creek Estates, southwest of the Air Force Academy. Residents in the area objected to a lagoon sewage system proposed by the developers. The request was tabled until the developers are able to secure approval of the sewage system from the state board of health and the county board of adjustment.

Denied was a request by Fred J. and Nadene Koch who wanted to park a trailer behind their house located north of Busch Avenue between Arch Street and Calvert Avenue in South Colorado City.

Koch said he understood that the R-2 Residential district in which his property is located had to be changed to a C-1 Roadside Service district before he could park the trailer behind his house, either on a permanent or a temporary basis.

Koch told the commission that some portions of the surrounding area are already zoned C-1, and that a number of persons living on the same block already have trailers parked behind their houses. The petition was denied by a vote of three to two.

Withdrawn was a previously tabled final plat for Stratmoor Valley, fourth filing, prevented by Stratmoor Development Co. The area is located south of Bates bridge and east of Interstate 25. The request was withdrawn because the developers were unable to meet the requirements of the county with regard to water and sanitation facilities.

Approved were two new petitions and four new final plats, as follows:

Petition by Robert D. Cumming and Mary A. Cumming to change an A-1 Garden Home district to an M-Industrial district of an area located south of Colorado Springs.

Petition of Janitell Farms, Inc., to change an A-2 Farming district to a C-2 Suburban Business district of an area located north of Colorado Highway 29.

New final plat submitted by Cimarron Hills, second filing, presently by Cimarron Development Co., located north of Peterson Field.

New final plat submitted by Red Rock Valley Estates, filing No. 2, presented by Realty Development Co., and located west of Highway 115, about 10 miles south of Colorado Springs.

Forest Heights second filing of new final plat, presented by Raymond H. Schreiner and located north of Highway 50 and about a mile west of Roller Coaster Road.

Brookwood Subdivision, new final plat presented by Willowbrook, Inc., and Floyd L. Stanley. The area is located on the south side of Woodmen Road and east of Academy Boulevard.

Three Cases Of Vandalism Reported

Three cases of malicious mischief, all involving broken windows, were reported to the sheriff's department Tuesday.

The first happened at the home of Jake Schaaf, 1505 Rosemont Dr., where the living room window was shot with a BB gun causing $40 damage.

Joe Martinko, 2310 N. Institute St., reported the final case. He told Deputy Sheriffs Lee Quein and David Sturgeon that his car was parked at 3121 N. Arcadia St. Tuesday night and the windshield was badly cracked with a rock.

Chipita Park News

By CAROLYN McADAMS — MU 7-9065

With the exception of one member all board members were present at the regular board meeting of the Chipita Park Homeowners Association Wednesday, July 1. A discussion was held regarding the purchase of fire extinguishers for Marcroft Hall. Also under discussion was the summer program. The president appointed a nominating committee to present a slate of officers for the annual meeting to be held August 20.

July 16 a covered dish dinner will be held for members and guests at 6:30 p.m. at Marcroft Hall, preceding a lecture with pictures, by Don Young, district forester. The subject of Young's program will be native trees in the area, their diseases and the care of such diseases.

Co - hostesses for the Friday afternoon card party in Marcroft Hall were the Misses Anna and Edith Edwards. Starting at 1:30 p.m. each Friday, these card parties have been growing each week and anyone interested in joining in the fun and relaxation is cordially invited. Last week's get - together filled six bridge tables.

Valerie Tanner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Tanner of Chipita Park, accompanied Sharon Gralapp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gralapp, of Cascade, home for the weekend from Adams State in Alamosa, Colo.

Guests for the weekend of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Osborne of Chipita Park, were their daughter Marlene, her husband James, and month - old daughter DeeAnn, all from Laramie, Wyo. Other weekend guests were Mrs. John DeVinney, Sr., from Montrose, Colo., mother of Mrs. Bill Osborne, and brother Ralph DeVinney and family from Montrose. Melodie Osborne left with the James Bradleys to spend a two weeks' vacation with them in Laramie.

Offices in Chipita Park Lodge are now open every day and by appointment. Conrad Wilson is spending the summer in a body cast and can be reached by telephone 684-9367.

Rex Speckmann continues to serve as park caretaker. Garbage collection, weather permitting, will be made Monday and Thursday mornings, except on holidays.

A new, printed copy of roads in Chipita Park is now available. Property owners may have individual copies for the asking.

The Milfords of Milford Haven entertained Mrs. Jean Vick and son Gary from Oklahoma City for 10 days in June. They have as their guests at this time and for two weeks, their daughter, Mrs. Gerald Snyder and children Janna, Gina and Kevin Snyder from Sioux City, Ia.

Mr and Mrs Earl F. Ross and daughter Lisa, of Kansas City, Kan., arrived June 12 to stay in their cabin, "Red Sails." As their guests for 10 days were Mr. and Mrs. T. Lloyd Ross, parents of Earl Ross. Earl Ross and father, Lloyd Ross, returned to Kansas City. The rest of the family continues to vacation here.

C. R. Downing, of Tulsa, Okla., and granddaughters, Jeannie and Sandy Turley, are vacationing till July 18 in Oak Lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hoener of Fairfield, Ia., and Miss Della Hoener, from McPherson, Kan., visited the Paul Johnsons at Whispering Pines Guest Lodge for a few days.

The Glen Mallett's of Chipita Park are presently constructing a new home on the Old Highway near the parsonage.

Mrs. R. W. Rine of Scottsdale, Ariz., has as her guest, Mrs. R. A. Johnson, who is her daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Butts are in their summer home. It is particularly interesting to note that this will be the 48th consecutive year that Mr. and Mrs. Butts have spent in this region.

Mr. and Mrs. Giles Hulseman, of Prairie Village, Kan., arrived early in June to spend the summer. Frank Hulseman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Giles Hulseman, visited his parents and also an aunt, Gertrude Gill, last week. Frank has lived in Toronto, Canada, for the past 15 years and has not been in this area since he was 16.

Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Noah, of Galveston, Tex., have opened their summer home, "The Ark." Also at "The Ark" for the summer is Earl Shelly, of Coffeyville, Kan.

Tshombe Selects Entirely New Cabinet Lineup

By ROBIN MANNOCK

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP)—Moise Tshombe says he has lined up a new government for the Congo made up of 12 men who hav never held Cabinet posts. It was not known whether President Joseph Kasavubu would accept Tshombe's lineup.

The former president of Katanga, who led his province in a breakaway attempt that United Nations troops ended, announced Tuesday night he would hold four key posts.

Tshombe was named premier-designate by Kasavubu on Monday, 10 days after returning from a year of voluntary exile in Spain. In addition to premier, Tshombe said he would be foreign minister, information minister and minister of planning and coordination.

Ex-Premier Cyrille Adoula and his Cabinet, who resigned on the Congo's fourth independence day June 30, continue in a caretaker status until a new government takes over.

Tshombe said his government of 12 "new and dynamic men" will concentrate on pacifying the big central African nation torn by tribal rivalries and revolts, some aided by Communist China.

After feverish consultations since his return, Tshombe, 44, has claimed support from all major political groups including extremist exiles of the dissident "National Liberation Committee."

But leaders of this latter group in Brazzaville, capital of the former French Congo across the Congo River, have indicated strong reservations or opposition to Tshombe.

The ebullient Tshombe said his government would rely on persuasion and conciliation rather than force of arms to reconcile the Congo's warring political factions.

The Tshombe government would rule for a maximum of nine months, until elections are held after a new constitution is approved in a referendum now in progress.

Lumumba's political heir, Antoine Gizenga, has been imprisoned for 2½ years on an island in the Congo River estuary. Tshombe has promised to release him, but Lumumbists have claimed that they alone should form the new government.

Four Theft Cases Reported Tuesday

Four cases of theft were reported to the sheriff's department Tuesday.

Deputy Sheriff Charles White said four fire extinguishers worth a total of $256 were taken from the Imperial 400 Motel, 1231 S. Nevada Ave.

Two Ford engine blocks from the storage lot at the Snow Automotive, 2712 E. Highway 24. According to Deputy Sheriff Bob Snuggs they are valued at $100.

John W. Moore, 2241 Ivanhoe Dr. reported that two hubcaps were stolen from his car while it was parked outside his home Tuesday night. They are for a 1958 Porche and worth a total of $14.

Romney Fails To Line Up With Scranton

By JACK BELL

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney failed to line up today with Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton for a stop - Goldwater GOP platform declaration that the new civil rights law is constitutional.

In an advance text of his remarks furnished the convention platform committee for a Wednesday appearance, Romney did not mention the constitutional declaration Scranton's forces obviously had chosen as a vehicle for a convention floor fight they believe might torpedo Sen. Barry Goldwater's apparent grip on the Republican presidential nomination.

Scranton's backers also were reported in line for another setback in a ruling by Rep. Katherine St. George, R-N.Y., the convention parliamentarian, that rules of the House of Representatives will govern convention actions. The platform committee adopted similar rules Monday night.

The parliamentarian's ruling would mean that Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., chairman of the platform committee, would control the time and designate the speakers on both sides for convention debate on any proposed amendments to his committee's platform recommendations.

Laird is opposed to any platform declaration about the constitutionality of the civil rights bill. Goldwater, who has more than enough delegate votes to win the nomination unless they slip away, voted against the legislation in the Senate on the grounds that the public accommodations and equal employment sections were unconstitutional.

In Washington, Goldwater's campaign manager, Denison Kitchell, said there will be a fight if efforts are made to put the constitutionality issue in the platform. "I'd welcome that kind of fight," he said.

Laird is understood to have argued with Romney against proposing action on the constitutionality question. The governor's omission of any mention of it in his prepared statement was taken as an indication that he had abandoned the project. He could revive it, however, by departing from his text or bringing it up in response to questions.

No Advice for Younger People

By CHARLES L. WEST

STONY BROOK, N.Y. (AP)—H. V. Kaltenborn, the dean of news commentators, reached his 86th birthday tolay without a single word of advice for the younger generation.

"I've never believed much in giving advice," he said in a birthday eve interview at his Long Island estate. "We all have to make our own mistakes and learn from those mistakes."

But in the assured tones known to millions of Americans since the pioneer days of radio, Kaltenborn reminisced about his life and the career that took him all over the world.

"Practically every country," he said, "except those favored by Lowell Thomas — such as Tibet."

Nothing elaborate was planned for the day. He and his wife, the former German Baroness Olga von Nordenflycht, expected their son and daughter and seven grandchildren to visit "Point of View," the roomy Kaltenborn summer home.

Kaltenborn spends much of this time reading. He describes his health as excellent, but he is troubled by a muscle pressing a nerve in his back. His mind is quick and active.

The voice of radio's original news analyst first was heard on the air in April 1922, discussing a coal strike.

He was born in Milwaukee, son of Baron Rudolph Van Kaltenborn, a Hessian guards officer wh ocame to America, and was raised in Merrill, Wis.

He was a clerk in his father's building supplies store at the age of 16, a sergeant in the 4th Wisconsin Volunteers of the Spanish-American War at 20, a newspaper reporter at 21, a traveling salesman in France at 22, a reporter again at 24, a Harvard University special student at 27, a secretary for a Harvard exchange professor in Berlin at 29, a traveling tutor for John Jacob Astor's son, Vincent, at 30, and then, once again, a newspaperman.

Kaltenborn ranked his coverage of the Munich crisis in 1938 — 102 broadcasts in 21 days — as his greatest professional accomplishment.

At the peak of his career, a time he refers to as "in the chips," Kaltenborn earned $8,000-$9,000 a week.

D.C. WASH

By GERRY VAN DER HEUVEL

Washington — Attorney General Robert Kennedy, one of the prime architects of the Civil Rights Act, sat unsmiling, a lone, enigmatic figure, while the last scene of the historic legislation was played out in the East Room of the White House July 2.

When President Johnson began the task of forming his signature out of little dashes from a hundred pens, and the congressional leaders responsible for the bill's enactment happily gathered around him to receive the pens as souvenirs, Bobby hovered quietly in the background. He had already received recognition for his role in the civil rights struggle — in a most unexpected and unforgettable way.

Two days before, he had driven into Warsaw, Poland, from the town of Czestochowa, where he had gone in the face of Communist disapproval to visit Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski. Some 1,000 Poles had waited more than two hours for his return and when he finally arrived they gathered around the car until it had to be stopped.

BOBBY, ETHEL, THE KIDS CLIMB ATOP THE CAR

They had done this many times before and each time the Kennedys, Bobby, Ethel, and their three oldest children, who were along, would get out and climb on top of the car.

This time a young Negro climbed up beside them with a bouquet of flowers which he presented to the Attorney General, kissed him on both cheeks and explained that he was a Sudanese and the flowers were on behalf of the African students who were studying in Warsaw. Then a group of African students in their colorful native dress paraded up to shake hands and each in his own way told him they just wanted him to know how grateful they were for what he had done for the Negro in the United States.

While the GOP was beginning its mass exodus westward this week for the convention at San Francisco July 13, the Democrats had to cancel a crash course in government for their 1964 Congressional candidates. The President, who was due to take part, including having those valuable campaign pictures made with each of the candidates, bowed out because of the critical Cyprus situation.

The school will be rescheduled in August, either before or in conjunction with the Democratic National Convention at Atlantic City. Guest lecturers will be cabinet members.

KEATING DENIES HE'LL QUIT FOR TOP BASEBALL JOB

Sen. Kenneth Keating is bluntly denying reports that he will not seek reelection this year in order to become commissioner of baseball. Washington sportscasters have made the New York Republican the No. 1 contender for Ford Frick's $65,000-a-year job, which is up for grabs this year. Frick was elected commissioner in 1951 and reelected for anohter seven-year term in 1957. Keating, a renowned sport's buff, says it's "poppycock," that he hasn't even been offered the job.

A Westchester schoolboy recently wrote Sen. Keating a letter complaining that it was bad enough that his friends in public school got longer vacations than he did, but he said he really got burned up when he heard that Senators got time off from the Senate to go to the conventions and then campaigned all fall and didn't have to get back to work until after New Year's.

Keating wrote back that things weren't all that good. He said the Senators had failed a few of their exams this year and it looked like they were going to have to go to summer school to make up the flunked courses.

Those who are still working on a fitting memorial to Eleanor Rossevelt will be chagrined to learn there is no portrait of her in the White House. As a matter of fact, there is none of Mrs. Truman, either. As far as can be learned Mrs. Truman never wanted to have her portrait made, and none exists.

Mrs. Rossevelt sat for very few portraits. Her sons, James and Elliot, each have one. Elliot's was made after the 1932 election and, according to Franklin Jr., she is wearing a formal gown, but he wasn't sure whether it was her inaugural gown or not.

Congress has never made any appropriation for portraits of First Ladies as it has for Presidents. Probably for this reason, more than any other, there are only 18 paintings in the White House of the women who presided over it.

Overheard in a Capitol corridor — one of the tour guides being asked if the "Bill of Rights" had been passed yet. The guide laughed and said, "Yes, about a hundred years ago."

NEXT GOP FIRST LADY HAS A GIFT WAITING

The GOP has some native American art it would like to contribute to the White House for its historical collection. It is a quilt — a year's work by a group of Congressional wives and it will be on display at the convention in San Francisco. Then it will be put away for the next Republican First Lady to use at the White House.

Done, of course, in a Republican motif, it has 216 gray elephants on red, white and blue squares. On each elephant is the embroidered signature of a Republican Congressman or Senator. The signatures were all arranged alphabetically with the Senators' names in a diamond cluster in the center. Proceeding alphabetically, the names that come out almost in the exact center of the quilt are Barry Goldwater and Everett Dirksen!

Dirksen told the ladies that "if it would help to give it a little history" he'd be glad "to give it a night's sleep."

HEAT MAKES SENATORS LOOK FOR A COOL IDEA

With temperatures simmering here, some Senators were willing to help the town of Coldwater, Mich., the "washing capital of the United States."

They had all been solicited for some "dirty wash" that was representative of their state. The laundry included, among other things, a New York World's Fair T-shirt sent by Jacob Javits, a Harvard crew shirt from Leverett Saltonstall, a Maine lobster bib from Margaret Chase Smith.

Sherri Finkbine Expecting Her Fifth Child

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — Sherri Finkbine, center of considerable international controversy when she had an abortion two years ago after taking the drug thalidomide, doesn't care whether her fifth child is a boy or girl.

"I want a healthy, normal baby," said the Phoenix television personality who is expecting in January.

Mrs. Finkbine, 31, known as Sherri Chessen to Phoenix TV viewers, confirmed Wednesday night that she is in her third month of pregnancy. She was reluctant, however, to make further comments.

"Two years ago I had a valid reason for telling my story," she declared. "To expose the dangers of a drug. Anything I would say now would be only to satisfy curiosity."

Two years ago, on July 22, Mrs. Finkbine revealed her plight when she gave a Phoenix newspaper, the Arizona Republic, her story. She had taken the tranquilizer early in her pregnancy and was 2½ months along when she learned the drug was causing the birth of severely deformed babies in Europe.

The Finkbines attempted to get a court order declaring an abortion necessary, but Arizona courts turned down their pleas. They then went to Sweden where the abortion was performed and doctors reported the baby would have been deformed.

Speaking of the drug Wednesday night, Mrs. Finkbine said she originally told her story because, "it happened to me, it could have happened to others."

"We're very happy," she said of the impending birth. But that is about all she wanted to say.

Her husband, 33, had a few fatherly words to add.

"We're out to break the tie," he said happily, "we have two boys and two girls. It's kind of exciting, we like kids."

Their children are ages 3 to 9.

Finkbine said that a series of articles they did for a magazine paid the bills which were run up during the legal action in Arizona and the trip to Sweden in 1962.

Mrs. Finkbine agreed to pose for a photographer so news media wouldn't "use one of those pictures from two years ago."

She was concerned that the yellow shift she was wearing "looked like a maternity dress" saying she isn't ready for that type of clothing yet.

Desegregation Is Protested

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — State Sen. Harold Montgomery pitched a makeshift tent on the grounds of the Louisiana Capitol Wednesday night to protest desegregation of Baton Rouge hotels.

Montgomery provided himself with mosquito netting after Gov. John McKeithen declined an invitation to join him because I am afraid there'd be too many mosquitos."

Before Montgomery retired, other legislators and local residents gathered around his tent. Some women brought the senator chicken and cake. A few small boys ran around the tent waving Confederate flags.

The 60 - day session of the Montgomery didn't say how long he planned to "tent out" on the Capitol grounds.

Early American Indians Graceful, Paintings Show

By TOM A. CULLEN

LONDON (NEA) — Contrary to popular belief, American Indians in the 16th century were not the naked and ferocious savages portrayed by history books. They were a handsome, gentle, even sophisticated people, according to a unique collection of drawings now on show here in London.

The drawings are the work of John White, who accompanied Sir Walter Raleigh's first colonizing expedition to Roanoke, Va., in 1585. They are the earliest known pictures of North American life by an English artist.

Now the property of the British Museum, they will travel to the United States this autumn and will be shown in Washington and in New York.

When this collection is exhibited in America, some cherished illusions are due to bite the dust.

Take the early Indian squaws, for example. Critics here have been comparing them to the French beauties who flourished at the time of Napoleon, although it is generally admitted that the squaws wore fewer clothes.

The Indian women wore their hair in bangs on their foreheads similar to the hairstyles of the Empress Josephine. They also tended to bare their breasts, a habit popular with French Empire beauties.

As for the Indian braves, they had their hair crew cut, and were not too distinguishable from present - day American males. For one thing, they smoked pipes, although there was no cigarette scare in the 16th century.

Tobacco was not the only crop they grew in their neat Virginia and Carolina villages. White's drawings show rows of corn, sunflowers and pumpkins.

The drawings also reveal the Indians as a graceful people. Their dances were stately and more like the traditional English Maypole dance than the warlike stomping usually associated with Indians.

The Indian medicine man depicted by White as imitationg a bird is more like a figure from a Diaghlief ballet than the hideous-looking magician that linge in the American mind.

In 1577, John White, who was born in Cornwall, England, had accompanied Frobisher in his attempt to find a Northwest Passage to Asia. His drawings of Eskimos on this trip brought him to Raleigh's notice.

White, an excellent draftsman, not only drew Indians, but made studies of North American birds, reptiles, fish and plants. In 1587 he was made governor of Roanoke. Virginia Dare, the first English child to be born in the colony, was his granddaughter.

Forced to return to England for supplies, White's efforts to relieve the colony were hamstrung by the preparations then underway against the Spanish Armada. It was not until 1591 that he returned to Virginia, on to find that the Roanoke colony had been dispersed, its inhabitants presumably killed by the Indians.

New Success Scored For Athena Missile

WHITE SANDS MISSILE RANGE, N.M. (AP)—The third time was a charm for the Athena missile, as it streaked 450 miles from Green River, Utah, to White Sands Missile Range in southern New Mexico Wednesday.

Only the first two of four stages were used in the successful flight which took an estimated 15 minutes and reached an altitude of about 250,000 feet.

The Air Force said the missile carried a subscale experimental re-entry vehicle as part of a test program for space vehicles which eventually will re-enter the earth's atmosphere.

The missile fell apart on the first try this year and the second was destroyed when it veered from its prescribed course.

TAVERN RAZED

MALDEN, Mass. (UPI) — A 258-year-old wooden structure, which once was known as the "Half Moon Tavern," is being razed to make room for a new apartment building.

Thomas Newhall built the tavern and operated it until his death in 1716. His son Daniel then took over and operated it until his death in 1760. During the American Revolution, soldiers wounded at the Battle of Bunker Hill in Charlestown, a few miles from here, were brought to the tavern for treatment.

TO PRESENT PLAY — The King's Players, dramatic club of Gulf Coast Bible College, Houston, Tex., will present a three-act play entitled, "The Debtor," at 7:30 p.m. Friday at The Community Church of God, corner of West Pikes Peak Avenue and 15th Street. The play is based on the life of the Rev. Donald R. Brumfield who will portray the leading role. The Rev. Mr. Brumfield is dean of students at the college and staff advisor for the group. The Rev. V. Ray Foster, pastor, invites the public to attend. A free will offering will be taken for the cast.

Mine Disaster Blamed On Lighting of Match

SAARBRUECKEN, Germany (AP) — A match struck to light a cigraette most likely caused one of Germany's worst mine disasters, in February 1962, a court was told Wednesday.

A total of 299 miners died in the Luisenthal coal mine following an underground explosion. Thirteen mine officials are on trial on charges of negligent homciide.

Dr. Walter von Koenigsloew, a mining expert, testified that the evidence uncovered in investigations allowed only one conclusion — that methane and firedamp in the mine probably were ignited by a match struck to light a cigarette.

NEW SEWER

TOKYO (AP) — Laos asked Japan today for $7 million in aid to build a sewer system for Vientaine, the Laotian capital, and pave streets there.

A new water system for Vientiane is now under consrtuction with part of an earlier Japanese grant of $2.78 million.

MERLE VISITS HOLLYWOOD ON HER WAY TO LONDON

HOLLYWOOD — The town was awash with visitors over the weekend. Merle Oberon came in from Mexico for two days before flying to London where Bruno Pagliai joins her for two weeks. She's brown as a berry, loves Mexico and will put her beautiful Beverly Hills home up for sale. She gave her husband a surprise birthday party last week. Former President Miguel Aleman flew out from New York to attend.

Maryland McCormick, widow of Col. Robert McCormick, former editor and publisher of The Chicago Tribune, came up after visiting her daughter in La Jolla. She's en route to the orient — her seventh trip — with Claire Chennault's beautiful widow, Anna.

The Tom Morrisons here for the summer. She was Lydia Buhl of Detroit. I'll be darned if she hasn't gotten mixed up in show business. She met MacDonald Carey in Palm Beach and he told her about a play he liked called "Sugar City." She became interested, and may help back it. Says it's about two great skiers and a girl and is very amusing. The Morgan Marees gave her a big dinner at the Bel Air Club. Mrs. Maree also comes from Detroit.

The Bill Doziers celebrate his son, Robert's, birthday July 18 at a party in Malibu. Bob did the script of "The Cardinal," is now doing a TV show for his father called "Head for the Hills," and a script for "The Praying Mantises."

Billy Rose, that delightful Indian giver who tried to get some paintings back from his then wife, Eleanor Holm, is now trying to rescue the presents he gave to Doris Warner Vidor. I think they were married all of two months, and she's in the throes of a divorce. Doris gave wonderful parties for him. She can't take them back, but Billy's trying for the gifts.

Lucille Ball spent part of her week-end doing interviews for her radio show. The one she had with Lovebirds Ethel and Ernest is a dilly. Her sidekick Vivian Vance went all out. After Lucy and I rolled for 30 minutes, she said, "Have you breath enough for 30 more?" I said, "Not today, Josephine."

Jock Mahoney bought himself an island about 20 miles off the northern tip of Luzon and will build an A-frame house to get away from it all. He finished a western in the Philippines, is here raising funds to shoot another film there, and is considering moving the family over permanently.

With "Hush Hush" closed down, Joe Cotten's in New York for a TV show with Craig Stevens, and Agnes Moorehead will narrate the Shakespeare program in the Hollywood bowl. If they don't finish the picture soon, they'll have to get a replacement for Aggie. She's due to start "Bewitched," her series with Elizabeth Montgomery and Dick York, around the first of August.

Jim Francisis back from Seattle where he picked up an award from N.E.A. — representing 810,000 classroom teachers — for doing the most to enhance the teachers' image.

Was Laurence Olivier's "Othello" worth a trip across the Atlantic? Tony Randall says yes: "It's the best performance I've ever seen in my life. I'll never get over it. It may have destroyed me. How will I ever have the gall to act again? If you don't hear of me again it's because I simply dissolved."

Glenn Ford and George Hamilton are running a race to see how many girls they can take out in a week. Every night it's a different one. George had the duke of Bedford's stepdaughter with him the other evening, and Glenn Ford was pitching woo with lovely Katherine Crawford. As I passed their table in La Scala, I said, "Watch him, Katherine, he's the biggest wolf in town."

Greeks and Romans were among the first to establish parks for public use on a large scale.

'Non-Candidates' Were In GOP Race All the Way

By GLENN URBAN
Gazette Telegraph

Three men who have claimed all along they were not candidates have nonetheless figured in the GOP presidential horse race since it began.

The three non-candidates:

—George W. Romney, 57, former chairman of the board and president of American Motors, now serving his first term as governor of Michigan. So far as is known, he can not at this time claim a single delegate, though he probably could take at least half of the 48 Michigan delegates on the first ballot if he is nominated.

— Richard M. Nixon, 51, U.S. congressman from California, 1947 to 1951; U.S. senator from California from 1951 to 1953, and vice president from 1953 to 1961. He's estimated to have as many as 15 delegates.

Henry Cabot Lodge, 62, U.S. senator from Massachusetts from 1937 to 1944, and 1946 to 1952. Recently completed about 10 months as U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam. He won the first primary, New Hampshire, with 14 delegates and also has 29 delegates out of his home state's 34.

Romney has attracted attention ever since he first indicated that he was interested in politics in 1959.

He was born in a Mormon colony in Chihuahua, Mexico, in 1907, and did not live in America until 1912. This caused some speculation about his eligibility for the presidency a couple of years ago, but legal experts have since said that his Mexican birth would not rule him out.

He went to work for the Nash-Kelvinator Co., in 1948 after making a record of business success for himself. In 1954, when American Motors was formed out of a merger of the Nash-Kelvinator and Hudson Motor Car Co., Romney was the second man. He became the president, chairman and general manager later in the year when a heart attack claimed the top man.

In 1959, he formed a nonpartisan group, Citizens for Michigan, to campaign for a Constitutional Convention to write a new Michigan constitution. Ht was vice president of the organization.

In 1962, he announced he would seek the Michigan governorship and then resigned as chairman and president of American Motors.

In his announcement he promised that if elected, he would not be a candidate for the presidency in 1964.

He won, defeating the incumbent Democratic governor by about 80,000 votes out of nearly 3,000,000 cast.

While other people boomed him as a possible presidential candidate, he kept saying he would not be one, although as all men do, he left the door open for a genuine draft.

Romney emphasized his stand as not seeking the nomination when he took action to have his name removed from the ballot in the Oregon primary in May. He was the only one to do so.

Nonetheless, when the Republican governors met in Cleveland in June as sort of an informal GOP convention of their own as an adjunct to the 56th Annual National Governor's Conference, Romney was again being mentioned.

At that time it looked like Arizona Sen. Barry M. Goldwater already had the nomination. Nixon urged Romney to become a candidate to offer a "clear choice" between GOP moderates and conservatives.

Romney gave the request serious thought, and then declined. It was after that decision that Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania made his decision to run.

Romney has since said he backs Scranton. Commentators and analysts now state they think he will seek releection as governor.

Nixon, the man who urged Romney to become a "Stop Goldwater" candidate, was the man most feared by Goldwater, the Arizona senator often said. Nixon said and kept saying he was not a candidate.

Nixon came within a hair's breath of winning the presidency in 1960, when he and Lodge ran against the late Pres. John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson.

Out of a total of 68,834,602 votes cast in the 1960 election, Nixon got 34,108,546, trailing Kennedy by only 112,803, which was the smallest margin since 1888. Nixon carried 26 states while Kennedy carried 23, although Kennedy won the election with 303 electorial votes against 219 for Nixon.

With his background as a representative, senator, vice president and almost-president, Nixon would have seemed a cinch to be the GOP standard bearer again in 1964.

But he made a run for the governorship of California in 1962 and was trounced by Democrat Edmund Brown. Before that defeat, columnists had been predicting that Nixon woudl be the 1964 nominee, but after that potential nominees began bursting out like flowers in the spring.

Nonetheless, on Dec. 15, 1963, the Gallup Poll released the first poll it had taken after the assassination of President Kennedy in Dallas on Nov. 22. It showed that Nixon was the top contender in the minds of Republican voters.

Nixon continued to say he was not a candidate although he offered to "make an sacrifice."

In the nation's first primary, in New Hampshire March 10, Nixon supporters mounted a write-in campaign, but their man finished fourth, behind Lodge, who was also a write in, and Goldwater and New York Gov. Rockefeller, second and third, who were on the ballot.

Just before that vote, the New York Times had carried a lengthy story about Nixon headed, "Nixon's Resurrection."

Nixon kept making speeches

Speeder to Have Radar Explained by Police Dept.

Municipal Court Judge Allan Asher Wednesday fined a man $15 for speeding but suspended the fine on condition that the defendant have the operation of the radar employed by the police department explained to him.

The judge urged Raymond Whang, 25, of 1426 N. Walnut St., to "get the word out to people that radar is accurate." Whang had said in his defense that the radar used by ticketing police officers Victor Morris and Robert Hapke must have been wrong since he was sure he was not speeding.

Judge Asher expressed confidence that the radar was accurate. Whang agreed to have the operation explained to him at the police department after court.

Patricia Barrett, 201 Ridgewood Ave., who also faced a speeding charge Monday, told the court that the officer who issued her a ticket was "very curt."She said the officer gave her "an odd look" and asked her if she was military. Mrs. Barrett said, "It was obvious that I was military. There were two military stickers on the back of my car and one on the front."

Acting city attorney Gerald Tolley asked Mrs. Barrett if she thought she was being "picked on" because she was a military dependent. She replied that she thought it was unusual for the police officer to ask if she was military.

The judge said he was sorry if Mrs. Barrett had been treated rudely, and fined her $15.

In other traffic cases, Tommy Thompson, 20, of 36 Garden Dr., was fined $15 for speeding, and Christopher Pratts, 25, of 710 S. Prospect St., received a $5 suspended fine for stopping in a traffic lane to discharge a passenger.

Dennis Morse, 20, of La Junta, forfeited a $10 bond when he failed to appear in court for a signal light violation. A signal light violation charge against John Mosely, 63, of 716 Castle Rd., was dismissed when the ticketing officer failed to appear in court. And a signal light charge against William Paul, 49, of 230 N. Walnut St., was continued until July 22.

Two men pleaded guilty to charges of drunkeness. They were Louis Aleman, 30, of 925 S. Nevada Ave., who was fined $25, and Jojo Red Cloud, 46, of Pine Ridge, S.D., who received a 10-day suspended sentence.

Three Drivers Fined by JP

Three traffic violators were fined in Justice of the Peace James F. Quine's court Wednesday.

Richard Alan Porter, 25, 2403 E. St. Vrain St., was charged with having no operator's license Sunday when driving on Boulder Street. He was fined $5 and costs. The officer was Cpl. Roy Stanley of the police.

Edward Anthony Bolton, 49, 1523 W. Colorado Ave., was ticketed by State Patrolman Al Smith for the same violation and fined $5 and costs. The incident happened June 22 on U.S. Highway 85-87.

Careless driving south of Colorado Springs June 20 cost Walter S. Goodyear, 56, 1923 W. Bijou St. $5 and costs. Robert DeFelice was the state patrolman.

Charges Filed Against Two in District Court

Criminal charges were filed in District Court Wednesday against two defendants.

Jacob John Martinez, 29, 215 E. Las Vegas St., was charged with possession and sale of narcotics. According to police officers, Martinez attempted to sell marijuana to two employees in a local bar June 14.

The defendant is alleged to have said that he found the drug in a matchbox in the gutter and wanted to make some "fast money." Judge Hunter D. Hardeman set bond at $5,000.

Robert L. Gagnon, 32, 206 E. Bijou St., was charged with no account check and bond was set at $1,000.

According to the information filed against him he issued a $5 no account check June 2 with intent to defraud Murray's Drugs.

Youth Fined $50 in JP Court Wednesday

Samuel Reyes was fined $50 and costs by Justice of the Peace H. C. McShane Wednesday for driving at 100 miles an hour in a 70 zone June 15. Reyes, 19, 414 S. Cascade Ave. was ticketed on U.S. Highway 85-87 by State Patrolman John L. Baker.

Ralph K. Kelley, 20, 150 Vessy Rd. was charged with not complying with the inspection law and fined $3 and costs. Baker gave him the ticket June 10 on U.S. Highway 85-87.

State Patrolman Robert DeFelice cited Robert E. Selwyn Jr., 20, Golden, for careless driving on U.S. Highway 85-87 Saturday. A $15 fine and costs was imposed.

Sarah M. Bloom, 34, 21 Wolf Ave. paid a $10 fine and costs for speeding, and being without a valid operator's license. According to State Patrolman Dan Morrissey, the defendant was driving at 45 miles per hour in a 35 zone on Cheyenne Boulevard Friday.

Careless driving on North Circle Drive Monday cost Mary Margaret Thornton, 34, 2619 E. Pikes Peak Ave. $15 and costs. Arnold Ferrero was the state patrolman.

Douglas Andrew Davis, 17, 1132 E. Costilla St. got a ticket from State Patrolman John L. Baker for not complying with the inspection law. The incident happened Thursday on U.S. Highway 85-87 and the defendant was fined $3 and costs.

Hans Jurgen-Pfeiffer, 20, 1535 Mesita Rd. was charged with reckless driving on Mesita Road Friday and fined $25 and costs. The officer was Deputy Sheriff Larry Holien.

Robert Gene McWhorter, 31, Woodland Park paid a $6 fine and costs as his vehicle exceeded 35 feet in length and he had no permit. State Patrolman John L. Baker ticketed him June 9 on Colorado 38.

Madeline Lois Robinson, 22, 2019 N. Prairie Rd. was charged with driving before obtaining a license. The violation happened July 2 on East Platte Avenue. The officer was H. A. Grondahl of the police and the fine was $6 and costs.

Donna Marie Ford, 27, 1716 S. Corona St. was fined $10 and costs for speeding. According to State Patrolman Dan Morrissey, the defendant was traveling at 36 miles per hour in a 30 zone on Cheyenne Road July 2.

Vagrancy Count Brings Jail Term

Jack Newman, 42, no address, pleaded guilty in Justice of the Peace H. C. McShane's court Wednesday to vagrancy and was sentenced to 10 days in County Jail plus $5 costs.

The defendant was picked up Wednesday north of Security by Deputy Sheriff Jack Ames.

Second Concert in CC Summer Series Set Friday

The second concert of the Colorado College Summer Series will be presented by the artist faculty at 8:30 p.m. Friday, in the Fine Arts Center Theatre. Works by Mozart, Hindemith and Schubert are programmed for this evening.

Abraham Skernick, violist of the group, will be featured in Paul Hindemith's Sonata for viola and piano Op. 11 No. 4, with Max Lanner playing the piano part.

This work will be performed in memory of the great composer who died last December. The sonata is melodious and in every respect typical of the early style of the German master who was himself an outstanding violist.

Skernick joined the summer artist faculty last year returning for the second season. He is solo-violist of the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra and professor at the Cleveland Institute of Music. He was on the faculty of the International String Congress during the summers of 1959 and 1960 and for the last four years he also participated regularly in the famous Casals Music Festival in San Juan, Puerto Rico.

The Hindemith work will be preceded by Mozart's quartet in E flat major (K. 493) for piano, violin, viola and cello. It will be performed by Max Lanner, Ronald Hudson, Abraham Skernick and Leslie Parnas.

Mozart wrote two quartets for this particular combination in which the three string instruments form a balanced, antiphonal unit contrasting the piano or appear in solo - and duo combinations with the piano.

After intermission, Mrs. Hudson will join the string group for the presentation of the closing work. Schubert's famous quartet in D minor, known as "The Death and the Maiden." The slow movement of this quartet uses the melody of the well known song as theme for a set of variations, giving the nickname to the whole work.

Tickets to the concert will be sold at the evening box office at $2.00.

Water Use Hits 70 Million At Manitou

Other department heads have submitted reports for the month.

Police Chief Russell Paul said there were four burglaries reported in June and 13 thefts over $50. He said the department made 149 arrests, including 123 for traffic violations. Thirteen dog complaints were answered. Police vehicles logged 7,491 miles.

Police Magistrate M. L. Dunn reported that $1,171.50 in appearance bonds were forfeited in June. $920 in fines were assessed and $976 in fines were paid. The total take was $2,287.50 for the police court, including $140 from parking tickets.

Librarian Helen B. Hill reported that 1,150 persons visited the library in June. 1,459 books were circulated and 18 new cards issued.

Honor Guard Will Mark Farewell To Gen. Johnson

An honor guard ceremony at Ft. Carson at 8:30 a.m., Friday, will mark the official farewell to Brig. Gen. C. L. Johnson, assistant commander of the 5th Infantry Division since August, 1963.

Gen. Johnson will report to II Army Corps headquarters at Ft. Wadsworth, N. Y., on Aug. 1 as the new corps commander. He has been nominated for promotion to major general's rank.

The general was honored at a reception July 8 in the Ft. Carson Officers Club attended by senior commanders and staff officers and their wives.

He came to Carson and the division from a two-year assignment as military attache in Mexico and has headed the Ft. Carson Dads Club which sponsors youth activities in addition to his official duties.

Gen. Johnson began his Army career as an artillery officer in 1937 after his graduation from the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, N. Y.

The 5th Battalion, 4th Artillery, will fire the 11-gun salute for the departing general. Support Command will supply the honor guard made up of men from the 5th Medical Battalion and 5th Supply and Transport Battalion commanded by Capt. F. T. Moore III of 5th S&T.

Motor Cyclist Causes Damage to New Road

County Road Commissioner Charles Smith reported to the sheriff's office Wednesday that a motorcyclist caused between $75 and $100 damage to a new asphalt road on South Hancock Avenue.

According to Deputy Sheriff Larry Holien, the cyclist ran through the barricade, turned back, tore up some of the new asphalt on the median and almost knocked down one of the workers who tried to stop him.

Teachers Tour Industries In Springs Area

Nineteen high school and college teachers from many parts of Colorado and seven states visited Colorado Springs today as part of a fourteen hundred mile ten day tour of industries and businesses in the state.

The tour, part of a five week summer workshop in business education is sponsored jointly by the Colorado State Chamber of Commerce through the University of Colorado.

Clay Banta, manager of the local Chamber of Commerce pointed out that the purpose of the tour is to give educators first hand knowledge of business economics and provide an opportunity for them to actually see business procedures in operation. "The group visited both Hewlett-Packard plants in Colorado Springs and Kaman Nuclear Co.," Banta said. "An economic report of the area was given during a luncheon at the Palmer House by William Carraway, director of Industrial Development for the local Chamber," Banta added.

The luncheon, hosted by the Colorado Springs Clearing House gave the teachers a chance to meet with local business men, informally discuss some of the economic factors of the Pikes Peak region and ask specific questions concerning growth.

Braun Mayall, visitation chairman of the Colorado Springs Clearing House Association and director of public relations for the Colorado Springs National Bank described the tour as an excellent opportunity to get the Colorado Springs economic story into class rooms.

He added that each visit to industry in the area is followed by an informal seminar with company executives to provide an opportunity for the teachers to ask specific questions concerning the business, its problems, its contribution to the economy of the area, state and nation and its position within the national industrial scope.

Prior to arriving in Colorado Springs, the group visited several industries in Ft. Collins and Denver. Other communities included in the State Chamber tour include Pueblo, Canon City, Durango, Grand Junction, Rifle, Glenwood Springs and Leadville.

Don McMahon, director of industrial development for Colorado Interstate Gas Co. and chairman of the Economic Development Council of the State Chamber described this annual visit to Colorado Springs as one of the most important stops in the tour. Each year a differnt group of teachers participate in the program that provides four hours of graduate credit through Colorado University School of Business.

McMahon pointed out that present plans call for expanding the program into other universities next year with the hopes of eventually having such a course available at all state supported universities and colleges.

JP Gives Man Suspended Sentence

Leroy Johnson, 50, 1015 E. Cucharras St., pleaded guilty in Justice of the Peace H. C. McShane's court Wednesday to obtaining unemployment benefits illegally and received a suspended sentence of 60 days in County Jail.

He was also ordered to make $48 resistitution and pay $8.60 court costs. According to the charge the benefits were received April 20 of last year.

Springs Police Report Increase Of Offenses

Police Chief Cecil J. McKissick said today that 2,371 offenses were known to the Colorado Springs police department during the first half of this year, which is an increase of 341 over the same period in 1963.

About two thirds of the increase was reflected in burglaries, larceny under $50 in value and malicious mischief cases.

Malicious mischief cases increased from 373 to 515, larceny cases under $50 from 594 to 679 and burglaries from 195 to 232.

Of the 2,371 offenses so far this year, 1,135 were in the part 1 or more serious category. Burglaries and larceny under $50 were included in these, but others included the following:

Rape, four cases; robbery, 19; larceny $50 and over, 83; and auto theft, 93. For the same period last year there were four rape cases, robbery, 18; larceny $50 and over, 115; auto theft, 60; and aggravated assault, 7 (2 this year).

All other offenses for the first half of the year totaled 1,236 and included accidental injury, 162; deaths, 33; arson., 10; assault, 48; disorderly conduct, 21; suicide, 6; attempted suicide, 34; indecent exposure, 18; molesting, 7; forgery, 11; bad checks, 17; assault and battery, 8.

The 1,236 cases included 515 of malicious mischief and 274 losses of various kinds.

There were no homicide or manslaughter cases during the first six months. There was one homicide case last year and three involving manslaughter.

CSPD Handles 90 Juveniles In June

The juvenile bureau of the Colorado Springs Police department handled 90 juveniles last month, according to Chief Cecil J. McKissick.

Of that total, 82 were boys ranging in age from 6 through 17 and eight were girls from 13 through 17.

The chief said 42 case reports were cleared, involving such things as assault, auto theft, burglary, child molest, grand larceny, indecent exposure, larceny from a person, malicious mischief, petit larceny and robbery.

There were 38 juveniles referred to the juvenile court and probation office, five were referred to the state juvenile parole officer, 46 were released to their parents and one was held for other agencies.

Ten Buildings To Be Condemned At Monument

The Monument town clerk will notify overseers of ten transient buildings that necessary action to legally condemn and remove the buildings will be taken. This was decided at the Monday meeting of the town board.

In other action at the meeting, it was moved at $6,000 of the town funds be deposited in a Colorado Springs savings account.

It was also announced that street repairs will begin shortly in Monument.

Youth Pleads Guilty to Larceny Count

Lester J. Durkins Jr., pleaded innocent in District Court Wednesday to burglary and guilty to a second charge of larceny. Judge William M. Calvert then dismissed the first charge at the request of Deputy District Attorney Herman Ratner.

Derkins, 18, 511 Arawanna St. is accused of stealing four cases of oil, a tachometer and various other items worth a total of $136 from the Pay Less Service Station, 431 W. Colorado Ave. May 23.

Resuscitator Crew Assists Ohio Visitor

The Fire Department sent a resuscitator crew to the Embers Motel at 1:28 p.m. Wednesday when Rita Alsaker, 48, of Canton, O., had difficulty in breathing. The firemen used an inhalator for 15 minutes. The patient was restored to normal breathing.

Company 2 at 3:12 p.m. made a run to 1420 N. Cascade Ave., where a fire occurred in a garbage can.

Children Teach Themselves to Read

NEW YORK (AP) - Without benefit of teachers, 20 children in a public school kindergarten have taught themselves to read at second-grade level. The instruction was by "computerized typewriter."

And they learned faster than did a control group that was given enriched instruction by teachers, it was reported Wednesday.

The results of the five-month state sanctioned experiment at a Freeport, Long Island, school were announced by the superintendent, Dr. John H. Martin.

The youngsters used an electronic machine called the Edison Responsive Environment, which permits the child to type letters, words and sentences that are then reproduced on a screen and spoken by the machine.

'Non-Candidates' Were In Race All the Way

Meanwhile, in Oregon, a former state chairman there, Wendell Wyatt, announced a Nixon drive, the aim being to win the GOP primary there on May 15.

Those seemingly contrary situations were in keeping with what happened in April when Nixon asked that his name be kept off the ballot in Florida because he didn't want to enter any primaries, and the Associated Press released the results of an informal poll of 150 newspaper editors in the country which showed that the editors expected Nixon to be the GOP nominee this year.

While Nixon men were pushing for a victory in Oregon, another Nixon push was being mounted in California, this one aimed to drumming up votes for Rockefeller, but at the same time letting it be known that the work was being done by Nixon supporters.

And in Nebraska, Nixon made a good showing, although he did not get any delegates. Goldwater was the only Republican on the primary ballot there in the May 13 primary, but Nixon got 31 per cent of the vote, and Lodge finished behind him, also as a write-in.

In round figures, Goldwater got 66,000 votes, Nixon had 42,000, and Lodge netted 22,000.

Despite the good showing made in Nebraska, Nixon failed to do much in Oregon, and despite support given by his backers to Rockfeller, the New York governor lost in California.

After that, Nixon turned to his "Stop Goldwater" movement in Cleveland. He is scheduled to make a speech at the convention after the balloting is finished. No one knows if he will be put in nomination.

Nixon's running mate in the 1960 campaign, Lodge, is believed to have more delegate strength at this stage than Nixon.

Lodge surprised the nation when he won the New Hampshire primary with write - in votes while he was thousands of miles away in Saigon, South Viet Nam, as U.S. ambassador for the Johnson administration after taking the assignment under Kennedy.

Goldwater and Rockefeller had stumped New Hampshire, and one of the other was expected to win.

A national Draft Lodge Committee had been set up, but no one expected it to accomplish a victory in New Hampshire. But it did.

The New Hampshire victory shook up Rockefeller and Goldwater and boomed Lodge's stock. A poll taken before the primary showed that he was first choice of about 14 per cent of the Republicans, and another taken after the victory showed him with a whopping 43 per cent.

His backers looked forward to capturing the nomination.

In a write-in vote in his home state of Massachusetts, on April 28, Republicans gave Lodge an eight to one victory over Goldwater.

At the same time, Lodge also polled more than 55,000 write in votes in Pennsylvania against Scranton, also a write-in, who got more than 177,000 votes.

In the April 21 primary in New Jersey, Lodge topped his competitor's in the write-in vote, with no candidates listed on the ballot. He had more than 7,000 votes, while Goldwater got nearly 5,000 and Nixon picked up about 4,500.

Lodge was becoming a star attraction in the Republican party and some writers began talking about a two-man race—Lodge against Goldwater.

A six-man national committee was formed to promote Lodge's candidacy and activities in Oregon were stepepd up, looking, of course, to a victory there May 15. Meanwhile Lodge remained at his duties in Viet Nam.

The pollsters announced that Lodge would win Oregon, beating Goldwater, who was not campaigning there, and Rockefeller who was.

But the bubble broke in Oregon. Rockefeller claimed the state with a startling victory, and Lodge came in behind him.

Lodge was not on the California ballot, but his workers asked their supporters to cast their votes for Rockefeller in the June 2 clash between Rockefeller and Goldwater.

That meant that in addition to Rockefeller's own supporters, he also would have in that primary the support of Nixon, Lodge and Stassen people, by request of the men running campaigns for those three.

But Goldwater whipped Rockefeller, and another candidate but the dust, for Lodge was finished.

Since then, Lodge has resigned his post in Saigon and returned home to work for the nomination of Scranton, thus joining the Stop Goldwater movement Nixon publicly opened at the governor's meeting in June when he asked Romney to become a candidate.

Dryland Yields Of Winter Wheat Below Normal

DENVER (UPI)— Southeastern Colorado farmers who completed their winter wheat cutting last week reported dryland yields far below normal, the State Crop and Livestock Reporting Service said Tuesday.

Harvesting was only 20 per cent completed by July 4, compared with a normal 80 per cent completion by that date.

The service said irrigated wheatlands produced 30 to 45 bushels per acre in the southeast.

Oats and spring barley plantings matured rapidly because of the dry, hot weather which has covered the state and corn prospects were reported dimmed because of moisture shortages.

Western Slope ranchers moved cattle to higher grazing land where they reported excellent grazing. The dryness caused range land deterioration in northeastern Colorado, forcing supplemental feeding of livestock.

Mrs. Cynthia Edwards Services Here Friday

Mrs. Cynthia B. Edwards, wife of Herbert E. Edwards, 832 E. Vermijo Ave., died Tuesday at her ome, after a short illness.

Mrs. Edwards was born in Higbee, Mo., Aug. 1, 1893, and resided in Larkspur, Colo., most of her life. She was married in Colorado Springs in 1909 to Lile Shelton, who died in 1938. She was married to Herbert Edwards, in Pueblo, in 1946. Besides her husband she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Cynthia A. Oberheide, of Bonanza, Ore., and Mrs. J. Beatrice Ashbrook, Pueblo; a son, Lile A. Shelton, Pueblo, and four grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 1 p.m. Friday at the Swan Drawing Room. The Rev. James L. Barber, of St. Paul's Methodist Church, of Pueblo, will officiate. Burial will be in Evergreen Cemetery.

New big home.
Small wonder.

HERE TOMORROW—A BIG GRAND OPENING
THAT OFFERS A LITTLE SOMETHING FOR EVERYONE

Big for the VW owner. Our new service area gives us the room we need to service VW's even faster. Room for more lifts and equipment. Room for more mechanics. Room to stock all of Volkswagen's integral parts. All 5,008. A comfortable lounge for you to relax in as we service your car.

Come in and look at our new building. While here, take a look at our complete Volkswagen line-up.

The VW sedans, for instance, are the same classic gas-savers we've always offered. (Same price, too. $1745 plus state tax and license.)

But if you've never kicked a tire on a VW convertible, you're certainly welcome to do so. Or look for a flaw in the fine coachwork of a Karmann Ghia. Or chuckle at our bus-like station wagon.

We're having open house this Friday and Saturday, 8 a.m. to 9 p.m., so please come. (After all, it's not often that we can show you something that's new and big.)

Today In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—A force of Soviet submarines and supporting ships reportedly cruised through the Mediterranean recently, under close scrutiny of a U.S. hunter-killer task force.

The U.S. ships, including one carrier and six destroyers, followed the Soviet subs, took pictures of them and tried to get them to respond to radio signals, it was learned Tuesday night.

Some of the Soviet force entered the Mediterranean through Gibralter and others from the Black Sea. All are now understood to have returned whence they came.

Asked about the report, a Defense Department spokesman said "we do not comment on movements of fleet units." Officials noted that U.S. and Soviet vessels from time to time encounter each other in international waters.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has received a report that nearly 20 million workers are now covered by federal efforts to achieve equality in all areas of employment.

He told members of the Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity, which he headed when he was vice president, that their report shows "we mean business" in government efforts to wipe out bias in employment.

The President added that despite the large strides made so far much remains to be done.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air National Guard hopes to send about 30 jets, piloted by "weekend warriors," across the Atlantic next month to demonstrate its ability to reinforce the regular Air Force in Europe within hours.

If the Air Force approves, the guard for the first time will fly abroad non-stop, using its own tanker planes for aerial refueling.

In Europe the guard planes would fly operational missions for about four days for the U.S. 7th Army.

Picked for the mission were 18 F100 fighter bombers from the District of Columbia Air Guard and 12 RF84 reconnaissance jets from the Alabama Guard, probably including some crews from Mississippi and Arkansas.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy says President Johnson's leadership is responsible for what he described as nationwide compliance with the new civil rights law.

"He has spoken out," said Kennedy of the President. "There is confidence in him and confidence in his judgment, and the people have followed him."

In an address Tuesday to a conference of U.S. attorneys, Kennedy reiterated that the federal government will become involved in enforcing the rights law only when such action is deemed necessary.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Assistant Senate Democratic Leader Hubert H. Humphrey predicts Congress will set up a health care plan under Social Security before it quits work this year—probably by Aug. 23.

Humphrey said in an interview that the health care plan would be added to a bill expanding Social Security benefits already approved by the House Ways and Means Committee.

The Minnesota senator also predicted approval of the food stamp and anti-poverty programs. He said he believes Congress will be able to finish its work before the Democratic National Convention starts on Aug. 24.

LIKE LBJ MORE

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Research Institute of America predicted Tuesday that President Johnson would get substantially more votes from the nation's businessmen than did the late President Kennedy four years ago.

The institute said a recent poll of 6,000 businessmen showed Johnson with at least one-third of their votes, as opposed to Kennedy's one-fifth.

Adm. Felt Says 'I Can't See Us Losing' War

By MALCOLM BARR

HONOLULU (AP)—Don Felt sat in the shade of a breadfruit tree, pensively stirred his glass of iced tea, and talked about Southeast Asia and communism.

Three days before, four-star Adm. Harry D. Felt, commander of all United States military forces in the Pacific, exchanged his uniform for the conservative sport shirt and slacks he was wearing at his new home in a fashionable Honolulu suburb. This was his first three consecutive days off work in six years.

Felt's mandatory retirement at 62 came after 41 years service in the Navy. He was Pacific military commander for six of those years.

Red China shelled Taiwan's off-shore islands during Felt's first weeks on the Pacific job. The Viet Nam crises were among his more recent worries.

Felt, in his first interview as a civilian, was asked what a Communist victory in Viet Nam would mean.

"I can't visualize us losing," he replied.

But, he said, "Psychologically we'd lose all our Asian friends, and you couldn't hardly blame them. They have their own interests to look out for. They'd have some hard decisions to make."

Felt is heartened by the Sino-Soviet split. "It's always good if enemies fall out between themselves. Now if only Mao Tse Tung and the North Vietnamese leaders got to falling out."

But he wondered how deep the Soviet-Chinese dispute runs. "If things heat up (in Southeast Asia) with the chips on the line, would Russia support the Chinese?" he asked.

Red China could become the world's No. 1 power "if it got control of the breadbasket of Southeast Asia," Felt said. This is the food-and-mineral rich area of Viet Nam, Laos, Cambodia and Thailand.

He believes a mjaor obstacle in the fight against Communist aggression in South Viet Nam is lack of leadership outside Saigon. "A big problem is to get people to go into the villages and administer these areas honestly," he said.

The people living outside major cities in Southeast Asia are just now beginning to realize what the fighting is all about, Felt said. He stressed the importance of providing them with material things—a well, a road, a hospital, a schoolhouse. "Things they can see, things which will help them, things they can understand."

The admiral thinks the U.S. military effort should be followed up by civilian advisors to help rural populations.

"But all this takes time," he said. "The programs are all there but they have to be implemented."

Looking farther north, Felt discussed the problems of Korea. He made two points:

—The econmoic situation in Korea is not good. Yet the country is maintaining a large military force that costs the Koreans—and the United States—a lot of money.

—Norht Korea has built up a modern jet air force, making South Korea vulnerable to air attack.

Felt said South Korea's generals have emphasized to him that the level of their forces must be maintained. If forces are reduced, will the Communists try another invasion?

Felt thinks they very likely would.

He looks on Thailand as a showpiece of how Communist subversion can be beaten by a methodical and sensible "people to people" program.

"The people upcountry (Rural dwellers) realize that their government in Bangkok is willing to do something for them," Felt said.

"They have a preventive program which looks good to me," the admiral said. "Hell, the people up there have even got television and radio now."

DISCUSS JFK LIBRARY

CHICAGO (UPI)—Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy was in Chicago for a few hours Tuesday to discuss plans for the Kennedy Memorial Library with architect Ludwig Mies van Der Rohe.

With her during the unannounced visit were Mrs. Stephen Smith, the late president's sister, and William Walton, an advisor on the library. The party returned to Boston Tuesday night.

COLORADO SPRINGS
GAZETTE TELEGRAPH
Your Freedom Newspaper
Ever striving for the Pikes Peak Region to be an even better place to live

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is self-control, no more, no less. It must be consistent with the truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

No Time for Hatred

There seems to be a resurgence of the idea that, if we hate communism enough, it will dry up and go away. The approach is what could only be classed as "anti-intellectual."

It is as though the anti-communist is saying: "I don't have to understand communism in order to know that I don't like it. Let the intellectuals have their little discussions over what it means and what it does. As for me, it is all very simple. I hate it. I hate everyone who is a communist, too. If all of us can hate enough, communism will dry up."

Perhaps, without realizing it, the anti-communist is merely saying: "Don't bother me with the facts. My mind is made up."

To our view, this emotional type of approach is not only wholly useless in any war of ideas, it is positively dangerous. And if the anti-communists aren't yet aware of it, it is high time they discovered that the great contest of our time is a war of ideas, and that the front lines are being held by intellectuals, not by emotional haters.

You are simply not prepared to fight in a war of ideas if you cannot grasp the ideas and refuse to consider them. Hatred builds nothing. It may bring on a war, riot, murder. But hatred does not engender a condition of freedom.

Right now, one of our major concerns in this country is that hatred, in certain parts of the nation or in certain groups of the nation, will erupt into open violence, either as a domestic conflagration, or as some kind of international war. If either of these eventualities occurs, then understanding and progress will have been set back by many years.

After the hostilities die away and the hatred begins to subside, only then will we be able to take up the cause of freedom which will have been so seriously derailed by these excesses.

The truth is that the communist and the beliefs he holds which we call communism, are being defeated at the intellectual level. They are not being defeated elsewhere. On virtually every frontier, except the frontier of the mind, the communist has gained and is gaining ground. But, when we turn to the realm of ideas, the communist has to sit down and take a back seat. Yet there are those in our midst who call upon us to relinquish this ground we have gained and are gaining so that they can hate more thoroughly.

An erroneous idea can only be defeated by an idea less erroneous. To hate the person who holds to a wrong system of belief is to put yourself on his level.

Communism is intellectually barren. It is passe. Even communists can no longer defend it. And in various nations where it has been adopted more or less, its concepts are being abandoned in favor of more private ownership and more capitalistic development.

At this juncture, hating communists is an unrewarding luxury. Hating anyone is not rewarding. But now that we are beginning to get the communists to admit in various ways that their ideas are not as good as they had believed, and to cause them to accept and consider superior concepts, now is no time to revert to barbarism in order to demonstrate how well we can hate.

Most people tend to hate that which they do not understand. Also, they tend to hate and distrust persons whom they cannot corrupt.

This is one of the major places where communists made some serious errors. Communists did not learn capitalism, they merely were taught to hate it. Also, communists found that there are certain men, capitalists, producers, and so on, who cannot be corrupted. These men have integrity and have withstood fantastic pressures without cracking.

Now the communist is beginning to discover that he is up against something he cannot defeat. Intellectually, the communist has been defeated, and already he senses this, though he has not publicly admitted it.

His only hope, quite frankly, is to get the anti-communists to become so emotionally aroused and so non-thinking in what they do, as to engender a kind of martyrdom for himself. If the communist can be held up as a victim of hate and violence, then sympathy can be engendered for him.

There has never been a time when reliance upon truth and understanding has been more important. But now is the time, when patience is wearing thin, that the temptation arises to put aside intellectual truths and descend to the hate level. Such a descent would be a disaster and could sweep away the gains we have made.

If We Were Perfect

By GEORGE BOARDMAN

At least once a month I receive a letter which includes these words or something similar, "If we were all perfect, communism (or socialism or fascism or mob rule) would be fine but obviously we are less than perfect." I want to take a running kick at that idea once more.

To begin with, I do not understand the definition of the word "perfect" in connection with human beings and their actions IF perfection would lead towards communism, in which even the most pure of theories seem totally degrading to me. On every count I hold every theory of communism and socialism and fascism and mob rule to be degrading to the individual.

Only in freedom will human beings be capable of striving for their own concept of perfection, whatever that may be to each individual, and unless that concept be their very own, it will be of no importance.

More and more I realize how few people understand the absolute fact that collective control, as an abstract idea, is practically and realistically impossible and this reminds me of the fact that when all the hogwash is washed away, we should be able to recognize the simple truth: that government, per se, is a trick.

Now, let's take another look to see if "perfection" is even a logical goal. Will I know the perfect fish when I catch it? Will it have no bones, no scales? Exactly what size will the perfect fish be?

How will I write a perfect column, compose a perfect song, write a perfect novel or perfectly live in a perfect day? Should I be even concerned with perfection since the chances are I would not recognize perfection as anything but an abstract word and what might be perfect for every other human being in the entire world, might be less than perfect to me?

Certainly, I may strive to avoid burdening others with my load and without government and the vicious hordes on my back, I would have a mighty good chance of being able to stand on my own two feet. Could I then achieve a single perfect happiness, a single moment of perfect joy, or hope to view a single perfect sunset which could never be surpassed?

I can say this. I have enjoyed moments I would not have changed by the tiniest iota but I did not say, that was perfect, there's nothing more towards which I can look forward.

Perfection is that which I desire. It could never be shared communally unless there be no individualism, only uniformity — and uniformity would be just that, never perfection. With all my strength, I resist the very idea that if human beings were perfect they could live with a communist system, because the very nature of the system is directly contrary to the laws of nature and the system itself is based upon a refusal to seek individual perfection in anything. Only conformity would suffice.

A man said, "If each of us could depend upon all of us, this would be Utopia regardless of what system we utilized to bring about this state of perfection." The statement is exactly opposed to the truth unless we believe that absolute dependency and total enslavement may achieve a state of perfection and that such a condition would be perfect.

For as long as I can remember, I have heard people say, "Well, you'll have to admit that if we were all perfect any system would work." and I have watched as others nodded their heads in agreement and I may have nodded my own head a time or two unthinkingly, but never again will I let this remark pass by without proclaiming my complete disagreement.

Only in freedom may an individual human being reach out for perfection and only in freedom may individuals enjoy a million or more perfect moments in their lifetime and ONLY in freedom may those perfect moments be theirs—perfect individual moments of happiness, comprehension of truth or even the realization of dawning knowledge.

I believe the very idea that perfect human beings might live in any collective condition illogically dignifies collectivism, per se, and tends to degrade individualism.

Good luck and good health to you, in Freedom.

Like Attracts Like

Those who live by the sword will perish by the sword, so runs the old Biblical quotation. Those who favor violence in their affairs with others will find the violent hand of man turned against them.

Gresham's Law

Sir Thomas Gresham, of the days of King Henry VIII, observed certain phenomena about money. He discovered that when government intrudes into the economy to the extent of seeking to supply or regulate whatever is being used as money, bad money continues to circulate while good money disappears. His finding is now known as "Gresham's law." It can be stated: In a government-dominated money market, bad money drives out the good.

Last year, a decision was made by the U.S. Treasury to retire from circulation all silver certificates. At that time, all of the one-dollar bills being used in this country were silver certificates. A small fraction of the five-dollar bills being used then were also silver certificates. This was the extent of silver backing to the currency in circulation.

Other paper monies in use were called "Federal Reserve notes." These notes have no silver backing nor have they had any since they were first printed. They are simply "fiat" money.

In other words, a silver certificate is a piece of paper which certifies that there is on deposit in the U.S. Treasury a certain amount of silver for which the certificate can be exchanged.

Thus, a silver certificate, while it is used as though it has a value of its own, merely "represents" that value. Somewhere in a vault is a portion of silver that can be presumed to have some utility and hence some permanent value. That value may fluctuate and, indeed, it will fluctuate on the basis of all other values as viewed by fallible human beings. But the silver won't fluctuate. It will still be silver if and when anyone wants to come forward to claim it.

The Federal Reserve note had no backing at all. That is, it was not claimed that it "represented" something of value that was being saved in a vault somewhere. The Federal Reserve note was declared to be "legal tender." That is, the Federal Reserve note, a piece of paper, was declared to be money. It did not represent anything; it was assumed that it contained value in itself.

Now it is obvious at once that a Federal Reserve note is just a piece of paper. It has no utility of any intrinsic nature. Indeed, a blank piece of paper might have greater utility for at least something could be written on it. A Federal Reserve note could only be used as a medium of exchange. It is not and could not be made into a commodity, unless, if a person had enough of them, he could bale them and sell them for waste paper. That might provide a utility.

When the news leaked out that all silver certificates were to be withdrawn, a curious thing began to happen. Coins of all sizes and metals began to be in short supply. When the new federal one-dollar and five-dollar bills appeared, the coin supply got even tighter.

In Las Vegas, where slot machines are constructed to handle coins of almost all denominations, gamblers stopped using silver dollars, silver half dollars and so on. Nowadays, the clink of silver money has been replaced at the green felt boards with the dull clatter of plastic chips. All across the nation coins began to disappear.

To offset the shortage, the Denver and Philadelphia mints began to work overtime. They are working even on weekends, where an extra five and a half truckloads of coins are minted over Saturday and Sunday. But as fast as the coins are poured into the money stream, they disappear as into quicksand.

Bureaucrats are claiming that the shortage is arising because of our "booming economy." Those who look a little closer may see the workings of Gresham's law.

For reports are coming to us on all sides that the people do not like the appearance of the new $1.00 federal notes. And they resent the final removal of direct backing from the currency they use in ordinary affairs. Hence, in spite of all, coins are going into hiding and money which is viewed as less satisfactory remains in circulation.

As an example of the disdain with which the new bills are being greeted, some persons are refusing to accept them for any reason. A New England bank, in order to get its hands on coins which it has to have to take care of merchant demands, has held a "green sale" in which 98 cents worth of coins will buy a $1.00 Federal Reserve note.

If others follow suit, a discounting of the new notes may precipitate what is called a "flight" from the dollar. It will not really be from a dollar. It will be from paper dollars which the people are beginning to distrust.

TIME RUNNING OUT

To the Editor:

From Bondage to Spiritual Faith
From Spiritual Faith to Great Courage
From Courage to Liberty
From Liberty to Abundance
From Abundance to Selfishness
From Selfishness to Complacency
From Complacency to Apathy
From Apathy to Dependency
From Dependency back again into Bondage

In just 12 years our country will be 200 years old. You and you alone might save it.

If your income is $50 per week and you spend $51 per week, eventually you will be in serious trouble. This applies to you, to your family, to your city, to your county, to your state and to our government.

When a politician votes for an appropriation of funds he may not be thinking so much of the cost, or of the welfare or benefit to his country, or of your welfare, but only as to how many votes he might garner to propagate himself in office at your expense. Make it your business to KNOW POSITIVELY the character and qualifications of the man you vote for regardless of his political affiliations.

When we die and leave our children a heritage of a national debt of $308,000,000,000 they will look back upon us and say, "Our parents must have been insane."

Take an active and sincere interest in your country or you will lose it. For your sake, and your children's sake, write, write, write to your government representatives. Express your ideas of the subjects in which you are most interested. Here are a few for your consideration:

1. Huge National Debt
2. Union Racketeers
3. Deficit Spending
4. Cuba and Russia
5. Crime and Dope Addiction
6. Dole to the Indolent
7. Political Graft and Corruption
8. The Fallacy of Trying to Buy Peace and Friendship
9. The Result of Subsidizing Farm Products.

MODESTY

To the Editor:

On July 4 I read in your newspaper that the topless bathing suit for women was accepted because there was no law in the District of Columbia, the seat of our national government, to stop this practice.

It has been observed by Arnold Toynbee, the British historian, that "of 21 notable civilizations, 19 perished not from without, but from decay from within."

What is the motive behind this increased immodesty? It doesn't appear to me to be money. Could it be that the communists, who've also studied history, are deliberately using our American women as tools for our own loss of freedom and destruction?

When our country was first settled, the women dressed so modestly that men respected them so much they would travel a thousand miles just to kiss the backs of the fair ladies' hands. Do the men of today have this respect for our American women? No, I'm afraid not.

As one woman said, her husband treated her with so much disrespect she felt like just another piece of furniture around the house.

A number of foreign students visiting in our country expressed only disgust for the way many of our women dress in public. They had heard that this was a Christian country and found more indecency here than in their own so-called heathen countries.

Where there is respect arising from high moral principles, and modesty, there is also a higher kind of love — the kind that leads to noble pursuits and inspiring deeds.

I'm aware that I may use my American freedom to either try to inform and help our society or to defend the sin and corruption that is already here.

What motive would I have in writing on such an issue as this, if not for my concern for our people and the precious little kids who have to survive all this oversexed nonsense that always brings harmful consequences?

Laws aren't the only way to help solve our problems. Look what the information on cigarettes contributing to the cause of cancer has done to inform and protect the public. Public opinion helps to give strength to the individuals within the society. Let the public be aroused by information on the harm done by immodesty. Let the women be emancipated from immodesty and indecency and arise to noble modesty and constructive Christian love.

Through the sacrifice and love of Christ, the Prince of Peace, we can find forgiveness and the satisfaction our hearts are longing for. Then we won't have to continue to search for satisfaction in the shameful and harmful practices of a rapidly declining empire whose decline is being pushed in every way by the perverted concepts of atheistic communism.

WOMEN

To the Editor:

This letter is in regard to the American woman, her point of view and her place in society.

To my way of thinking, the ideal American woman is independent when she has to be and dependent when she can afford to be. Contrary to this thinking a lot of women today are dependent when they have to be, and independent when they darn well please. To understand my point of view on the two phases above, I will explain.

When I say a woman should be independent when she has to be, I am saying a woman should be able to stand on her own two feet, hold a job and make a contribution to society no matter how small, when it is necessary, and it will be for a great deal of her life. When I say dependent when she can afford to be, I mean she should be capable of leaning on someone else, like for instance her husband in marriage. To a certain degree she should not be the lethally independent type. I resolve that in most marriages a husband does not want a boss, he wants a partner. Just how much of a partner a woman should be is up to how aggressive the man is and how passive the woman happens to be.

The old saying a woman belongs in the home is true, part of the time. But only part. As Freud did say, "Anatomy is destiny." This is very true. A woman can never shirk her duties in the home and indeed how many would really want to? Very few, I say.

The reason why the woman is in such a kettle of fish today is because she wants to be president of the United States but she also wants that man next to her on the bus to give her his seat. In other words, women want equal rights but they also want to keep their special privileges. This line of thinking is shallow.

Don't get me wrong. I fully believe in woman's suffrage. I fully believe women should not spend their whole lives in kitchens and in parallel to this statement I believe a woman should be a partner to her husband. She should never lean back and say, "Let him do it, let him worry." A man does not marry to have a woman passively hanging around his neck, he wants a woman to help him. I believe that the ordinary man wants his wife to be creative, independent to a degree, likewise dependent to a degree, and competitive as long as she isn't competing against him. It is old sock everybody saying a woman should be dependent on her husband. This is true but have you ever considered this: The husband is dependent on his wife as much as she is on him. If he isn't dependent on her for an ego boost or a smile at the front door, he is probably dependent on some other woman for this in his life. I think just what I've written in the last paragraph is very true, the husband could not and cannot see anything good about a passive wife afraid to make decisions lest it hurt her femininity, hanging around his neck. Such a woman could become a bloody bore mighty quick. The husband needs the wife as much as she does him.

Marriage is fine as long as it does not stifle the individual person in the partnership.

EFFECTS OF THE U.N.

To the editor:

Our national sovereignty was destroyed by the Korean War. It was not declared by Congress as the Constitution says it should be, but by President Truman, on orders from the U.N. American soldiers were compelled to fight under the U.N. banner, and tens of thousands were buried under that banner. General MacArthur won the war with U.N. forces (90 per cent of them Americans) and then was denied the right to bomb beyond the Yalu river; thus, by U.N. orders, our defeat was guaranteed. The cost: $20 billion, and 145,000 casualities.

Do you know that by secret agreement of Alger Hiss and Molotov, the chief of the U.N. military staff is to be permanently a Soviet communist? We are bound to enter no war without U.N. consent. With communist aggression the only reason for war today, their consent will be withheld.

Since U.N. was founded, communists have incited 17 major wars: Chinese civil, Indonesian, Philippine civil, Malayan, Indochina, Greek guerilla, Korean, Viet-Nam, Katanga, Cuba and Venezuela. Seventeen wars in 17 years. Nice peaceful U.N.!

Senator Jenner said in 1954, "We are bound hand and foot, under U.N., to put no aid into states on the communist frontier in southeast Asia. We cannot lift a finger to give military aid to the little countries the communists plan to devour next. Let us be honest with ourselves. The U.S.A. is guaranteeing communist conquests."

Soviet planes have shot down 13 American planes, ten of them on international waters, unarmed, with a loss of 67 Americans.

Question Box

Question No. 538: "There seems to be unlimited power in the hands of the nine men in the Supreme Court. Since our government is founded on a checks-and-balance system and the Supreme Court seems to be excluded from this, how does one go about correcting this situation?"

Answer: This is a question which has been of concern ever since the Constitution was adopted. In 1819, Thomas Jefferson wrote to Spencer Roane:

"The nation declared its will by dismissing functionaries of one principle, and electing those of another, in the two branches, executive and legislative. Over the judiciary department, the Constitution had deprived them of their control. That, therefore, has continued the reprobated system, and although new matter has been occasionally incorporated into the old, yet the leaven of the old mass seems to assimilate to itself the new, and after 20 years' confirmation of the federal system by the voice of the nation, declared through the medium of elections, we find the judiciary on every occasion, still driving us into consolidation."

Further on he said, "Experience has already shown that the impeachment (the Constitution) has provided is not even a scare crow..." In 1820, in discussing the federal judiciary in a letter to William Charles Jarvis, he wrote, "Their power (is) the more dangerous as they are in office for life, and not responsible, as the other functionaries are, to the elective control..." He seemed to believe the judges should be elected for specific terms.

There have been some suggestions that if Supreme Court justices are to continue being appointed, the appointments should be elective for a specific term of years. One suggestion is that appointments be for nine years, with a new appointment to be made each year and no judge being permitted to serve a second term.

Jefferson contended that the separate branches of government were not bound by the others. He did not hesitate to disregard the Supreme Court edicts when he had a different interpretation of the Constitution from the courts. Through the years, before the federal government seized powers previously not claimed by them, states have used the doctrine of interposition, refusing to be bound by what they considered unconstitutional rulings or invasions of state authority.

This seems to have failed now, with the Civil War determining that states were subservient to the federal authority. And adoption of the 16th amendment (income tax) gave the federal government the power to regulate the states through granting or refusal of subsidies.

What is needed is to get individuals to respect private property and to get a supreme court whose members' thinking is in harmony with the Declaration of Independence. Since the present collectivist trend has been a long time developing, the reversal also will take a long time coming. The place to start is to get the people in each community to respect private property. When the people respect private property their officials will also. Then the President will respect private property and will appoint judges who will do the same. The present judges do not seem to understand the principles of the Declaration of Independence and respect for private property.

To The Point

Unity Can Be Boring

By RUSSELL KIRK

About the time Chief Justice Warren wrote his astounding opinion that state senates must be apportioned solely on the basis of population, he had to prepare also a commencement address at Stanford University. While this latter is not so startling as the majority ruling of the Supreme Court, it is in similar spirit.

For in the Stanford address, Mr. Warren demanded "unity." The United States, he implied, must become one enormous uniformity. "All true union is the integration of diversity," he said, and urged the abolition of differences among groups.

In this, the Chief Justice sounds much like John Dewey, at the beginning of this century. The practical consequence of Dewey's social theories would have been to reduce this country to a kind of egalitarian tapioca-pudding society, in which everybody would be just like everybody else. Mr. Warren seems to be trying to give flesh to this confused ideal.

Certainly the Chief Justice abhors the very notion of any person or group being different. He has been much praised because of his decisions concerning school integration; but possibly the Chief Justice was not so much solicitous for the colored person as he was worried because Negroes are different — and ought to be assimilated to standard white society.

Such a passion for "unity" can produce intolerance, sometimes, as well as benevolence. Most people have forgotten Earl Warren's record as attorney-general of California, at the time America and Japan went to war. It fell then to Attorney-General Warren to put the case of his state against those Americans of Japanese ancestry who objected to being expelled from their homes and concentrated in desert "relocation centers."

Mr. Warren won his court-case. He admitted that, true enough, not one act of espionage or sabotage had been proved against any Japanese-American. But this, Warren argued, only demonstrated how subtle and elusive the Japanese were — and so they must be shipped off to the camps, due process of law or no due process of law. Chief Justice Warren gives much lip-service nowadays to civil liberties; but the unfortunate citizens of Japanese descent were different. They got their dose of unity, all right.

Not a dreary levelling "unity," but a proliferating variety has included the rights of the several states to frame their own constitutions and organize their own legislatures. It has included the right of communities and states to teach or not teach the Bible in public schools, as they might choose. But these prescriptive rights, formerly guaranteed by the Constitution, don't fit Chief Justice Warren's notion of "unity"; so they have to go, like the Japanese-Americans.

I should not care to live in the America which Mr. Warren is trying to create by radical court decisions.

It would be as boring and as smug as a Warren commencement-address.

cans. We cannot protect the Cubans today from atrocities, murders, confiscation of property ($1 billion of it American) by Soviet's Castro. Castro's sister Juanita said that there were 75,000 prisoners in Cuba and it is just a prison, surrounded by water, where the prisoners are treated shamefully. We do nothing about that, even though they are armed with the most powerful weapons that Russia can produce, and they are in range with half the largest cities of the U.S.A. This is on account of our membership in the U.N. We are bound as long as we are members. The President can break the U.N. Treaty; Congress may withdraw from the U.N. Instead, President Johnson says he will support the U.N. He cannot tell of one thing the U.N. has done to help the U.S.A. in any way. They have cost us billions of dollars and many thousands of lives. We should send such a barrage of letters to Johnson and Congress that they will know if they don't get us out of U.N., we will get somebody in there that will get us out.

The U.N. world court does what? It has world laws, which it breaks constantly; 15 members, no trial by jury. Soviets have three judges, we have one. Judges are elected by the U.N. Five may render a decision final. We have accepted the court, except for the Connally amendment, which reserves our national affairs to our own courts. Many congressmen have been trying to abolish this amendment, which would be a great mistake. More than half the members have not accepted the court, and they are smart. Britain, France, Canada, Australia, New Zealand have filed even stricter reservations than the Connally amendment.

No communist nation accepts the decisions of the court. The Soviets refused to submit their attack on our plane at the Turkish border to the world court. They returned four coffins instead. Where are the other thirteen men? Gen. MacArthur said the U.N. lacks judicial strength because there is no accepted international code to guide its decisions.

The Communists, the ADA, U.N. devotees, and minority groups favor annulling the Connally amendment. They seek to undermine what they cannot destroy. I say, "Get out of the U.N. Save the expense. Get rid of world court. Send the communist spies back where they came from and quick. Save New York and Washington from that mob which is ruining them."

Exiles Work On Cuban Farm Reform

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cuban exile farm specialists are working on a program of agrarian reform to be put into effect if Fidel Castro is overthrown.

The purpose is to give Cuban peasants hope for a better future and thus a reason to join the move to oust Castro, according to Dr. Armando Fleites, secretary-general of the Second Front of Escambray.

Main features of the program are redistribution of the land and the use of modern methods for getting maximum production, Fleites said Wednesday. He had just returned from Washington, where he said he outlined his group's plans to ambassadors of Latin-American countries.

Fleites said a committee of 15 exiles, headed by Jose M. Osorio, former dean of the University of Havana agriculture department, is working on the program.

Four Men Are Killed As Trench Collapses

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Two construction men jumped into a 14-foot-deep sewer trench Wednesday to rescue two other workers trapped by a small earthslide and all four were killed when three tons of earth broke loose and buried them.

The men were digging a trench for a new sewer line in the nearby town of Camillus.

Police said the dead were John Carr, 35, of Jamesville; Bruce Phillips, 40, of Syracuse; Alexander Sitnick, 57, of Bridgeport, and Harvey Lose, 51, of Syracuse and Lewisburg, Pa.

Martin F. Hilfinger Jr., county medical examiner, said the men had suffocated.

Case Wants Bobby Baker to Return Ill-Gotten Gains

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., today urged the attorney general to bring suit in an effort to force Bobby Baker to turn over to the government the money he made while on the Senate payroll.

"Bobby Baker can be compelled in a civil action to pay over to the United States every penny he has made through the use of his influence and the prestige of his office," Case said in a statement.

Case also renewed his attack on what he termed the "inadequate and timid" investigation of Baker's affairs by the Senate Rules Committee.

"The entire effort thus far has the ring of an investigation handcuffed before it started, kept that way no matter what, and now, hopefully, destined for the category of 'file and forget'," he said.

Disappointment with the investigation also was expressed by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., author of the resolution adopted by the Senate last October directing the Rules Committee to probe Baker's outside business dealings.

"The majority membership of the Rules Committee have backed down when confronted with a possibly embarrassing disclosure, and by their failure to pursue this investigation they are vulnerable to the charge of attempted whitewash," Williams told the Senate Monday.

Williams charged that Baker, before he resigned under fire last Oct. 7 as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority, "apparently charged an estimated $3,000 in personal telephone calls to the government."

He protested the committee had dropped the matter after Baker, when called as a witness, invoked his Fifth Amendment protection against possible self-incrimination and refused to answer questions about his telephone calls.

The committee's Democratic majority and the Republican minority are to file reports Wednesday on how Baker accumulated a claimed fortune of more than $2 million while on the Senate pay roll at $19,600 a year.

Case said the committee apparently feels "there is no way to call Baker to account unless violation of specific criminal statutes can be proved."

"There is another way," he said and then went on to contend that the attorney general could bring a civil suit to compel Baker to disgorge any profits he made from use of his official position or prestige.

"The time has come in the field of public affairs to put an end to all short cuts to big loot, to easy money, to the 'fast buck'," Case said.

Items Valued At $700 Taken In Burglary

A man arrived home rom work Tuesday night to discover that thieves had broken in through a basement door and stolen an estimated $700 worth of suits, jackets, shirts, underwear and other clothing.

Glenn D. Lilly, 2922 King St., told officers all his clothing was taken from drawers and closets. Three guns were also taken but were left at the entrance to the basement.

In other theft cases reported this morning, two golf clubs and three golf balls worth a total of $42 were stolen from the car of James O. Perrine of Wheatridge Monday night while the vehicle was parked in a lot at 19 S. Wahsatch Ave. The clubs were taken from the rear of the car. Perrine said he might have left a window open.

Thomas W. C. Birge told police Tuesday that his 1961 Oldsmobile was stolen from a parking place outside his home at 1114 Bowser Dr. The car was taken Monday night. The vehicle is blue and bears license number KC 8552.

The Hayes Motor Co., 24 S. Walnut St., was broken into early this morning. Intruders entered the building after breaking a window but nothing was taken.

Scranton Claims 'Smear Campaign' By His Opponent

By RICHARD L. GRAVES

CHICAGO (AP) — Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton heads for San Francisco today to try to upset what he termed the "political steamroller" of Sen. Barry Goldwater at the Republican National Convention.

Scranton has challenged the front-running Arizona senator for the GOP nomination. Tuesday night in a nationally televised political program on NBC the governor accused Goldwater managers of "smears" and "every conceivbale kind of pressure and threat" to keep the nomination from Scranton. The convention opens Monday.

Said Scranton:

"They (the Goldwater managers) are trying to create a political steamroller unparalleled for its toughness, its callousness, its total disregard for the opinion of rank-and-file Republicans."

The governor declared that "every survey taken shows that I'm leading him in the number of rank-and-file Republicans—Republican voters that is—who would prefer that I be the candidate.

"Sen. Goldwater's managers know this, so they have undertaken a no-holds-barred campaign to see to it that the delegates at the convention do not reflect the wishes of the people back home."

Scranton said the Goldwater forces are circulating a pamphlet "that questions my patriotism." The pamphlet, said the governor, is prdouced by "extremists" who urge that the GOP convention be deluged with them.

One line of the pamphlet was quoted by Scranton as saying the governor has "a record of actions which prove his softness on communism."

"The American people will revolt against this kind of smear campagin," said Scranton, "and I think the Goldwater managers are insulting the common sense of the delegates to ask them to believe it in San Francisco."

Scranton said "every conceivable kind of pressure and threat is being brought to bear" on delegates to line them up or keep them lined up for Goldwater.

The Goldwater campaign "is not representative of the Republican party," said Scranton.

Scranton will appear Thursday before the GOP platform committee to press for a strong civil rights plank and also present his foreign policy views.

The governor outlined his views on the Southeast Asia situation today in another of a series of position papers.

Scranton contended "we cannot afford a moratorium on (foreign) policy during the months of this presidential campaign."

He proposed that a comprehensive policy be formed for Southeast Asia to replace what he described as a country-by-country piecemeal policy.

"The United States must shift its policy emphasis in Viet Nam from a defensive strategy to a policy of winning the war and helping to build a stable civil VENUS DE DALI—With the real Venus de Milo on show in Tokyo, artist Salvador Dali placed his own "Venus a Tiroirs" on show in Paris. Dali's creation has drawers set into the body, complete with fur handles. Dali didn't explain the drawers—or the handles—in his version.

Spencer Tracy Learns Much By Watching

HOLLYWOOD (AP) —"First team" shouted the assistant director, signaling the standins to step out of the scene and the stars to take heir places.

Vivien Leigh, Simone Signoret, Jose Ferrer, Elizabeth Ashley and Oskar Werner entered the shipboard dining room set, and Spencer Tracy rose from his chair to join them.

The cast and crew laughed at Tracy's gag; he was responding like an old fire horse to the clanging of the bell. Although the actor is frequently on the set of "Ship of Fools," he is not working in the movie.

There had been reports that Tracy is observing Stanley Kramer's making of "Ship of Fools" with the idea of turning director himself. I asked him about that.

"I don't know," he replied. "It might be an interesting experience, but I'm not sure I have the patience to direct. I will say that I am learning a great deal by watching. You'd think I'd know all the tricks by now. But you miss a lot when you have to concentrate on your own job.

"Another reason I'm hanging around I won't go into, but it happens that this company is still paying me a lot of money. (apparently) for previous Kramer films.)

But if you want to know the real reason, it's because I get a free lunch every day."

He made the remark with a twinkle and it reflected his present mood, which is mellow. Tracy has been known to get his Irish up.

He is all smiles on the "Ship of Fools" set. He gives Miss Leigh a buss on the cheek. He exchanges stage memories with Ferrer. He joins with Kramer in ribbing Miss Ashley.

He look great, belying all the fears for his health when he was stricken with a long congestion last July and later had to withdraw from a role in "Cheyenne Autumn." His face is ruddy and his figure trim.

"Yeah, I've dropped 35 pounds," he said. "Now I can't understand how I was able to pack all that weight around. How did I get rid of it? Just by cutting down on the chow. And I get some exercise every day. I've got a dog, and we go for long walks in the country."

Tracy has signed to return to his old home grounds at MGM for "The Cincinnati Kid" with Steve McQueen. "We'll begin in October—or whenever McQueen gets back from the motorcycle races," he said.

Tracy's health kick has not caused him to give up cigarettes. He doesn't drink any more.

"But," he added with a grin, "if I never touch another drop, I figure I'll still be ahead.

Delayed Open House Held for 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Adcock of 1333 Elm, Canon City, were honored Sunday at an open house in their home from 2 to 5 p.m. Hosting the reception were the couple's children, their wives and husbands: Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Adcock, Newport, R.I.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Dickenson, Wichita, Kansas; Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Adcock, Alamosa; and Mr. and Mrs. Harlo Hansen, Cheyenne, Wyo.

Although the Adcocks were married on Feb. 25, 1914, they celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday in order that their son in the Navy could be present.

A white, gold and blue color scheme was carried out at the tea table which featured a three tier gold and white wedding cake with accents of blue. Gold bell and blue mints were served along with nuts and punch. The cake was served by Kathy Hansen of Cheyenne. Virginia Dickenson of Wichita served the punch.

A bouquet of yellow carnations, a gift from the couple's grandchildren, was placed on a table by the guest book which was submitted by Shirley Adcock of Alamosa and Yvonne Adcock. Presiding at the gift table were Mrs. Donald Snavely and Mrs. Richard Dickenson, both of Wichita. The affair was attended by over 100 well wishers.

Mrs. Adcock wore a white orchid with gold throat and Mr. Adcock, a gold carnation boutonniere. Before his retirement, Mr. Adcock operated cafes in Canon City, Walsenburg and Alamosa. They have lived in Canon City for 12 years. The couple has four children, nine grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Shoups to Entertain Rev. William Shannon

The Rev. William Shannon, rector of Christ Episcopal Church in Aspen will be the overnight guest of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill E. Shoup of Saturn Towers tonight.

Never stick your sewing needle through the thread on the spool. This weakens the thread. Also, you are likely to prick your finger on the exposed needle point when reaching into your sewing bag. Insert some absorbent cotton in the hole of the spool to act as a pincushion.

Mrs. Collier Is Delegate To Delta Gamma Meeting

Mrs. Verne Collier, Jr., has recently returned from Miami Beach, Fla., where she served as the Colorado Springs Alumnae Chapter delegate to the forty-first biennial Delta Gamma convention.

Collegiate and alumnae delegates representing 89 college chapters and 263 alumnae groups met at the Doral Beach Hotel from June 25 through July 1. Of the 562 registered, 268 were official delegates; the others were visiting members of Delta Gamma. The group conducted the business of the fraternity, which boasts a total membership of 56,326.

Beta Delta chapter at Colorado College was voted second place in the coveted "Outstanding Chapter Award." This was based on scholarship, activities, chapter organization, and spirit and cooperation with fraternity officers and alumnae.

The Colorado College chapter won a plaque for 100 per cent initiation of their pledge class and a trophy for highest pledge class scholarship in their Province. These awards were based on performance during the two year period since the last convention.

Mrs. Collier serves as the vice president of the Colorado Springs Alumnae Chapter. She is a past president of the group and has served as an adviser to Beta Delta Chapter for many years. She resides with her husband and three sons at 2629 Holiday Ln.

She Delivers Silent Sermons

WACO, Tex. (UPI) — Sara Sheffield, a 21-year-old Dallas woman, commutes to Waco, Tex., every other weekend to deliver silent sermons to a group of deaf mutes.

She translates into sign language the sermons of the Rev. Joe Weldon Bailey, pastor of Columbus Avenue Baptist Church in Waco.

After becoming interested in the world of silent people during a visit to Missouri in 1962, Miss Sheffield learned sign language in the Silent Friends' Church in Dallas.

"I took me about six weeks to learn," she said.

She began her work with deaf mutes in January when she came to Waco to attend Baylor for post-graduate study in music and religion. She has a Bachelor of Education from North Texas State University.

DIRECTOR APPOINTED

GREELEY, Colo. (UPI)—George Meyers, 39, student activities coordinator at the University of New Mexico, Friday was appointed director of the new student center at Colorado State College. Meyers will take over the post at the $3 million center Sept. 1, a year before it officially opens. Meyers is a graduate of Colorado State University.

Pikes Peak Bridge Club Reports Scores

The Pikes Peak Bridge Club held its July Master Point game in the cafeteria at Divine Redeemer Church. A nine-and-a-half table Mitchell movement was conducted and the following were the winners:

North —South: first, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Bass; second, Mrs. M. E. Bybee, Larry Wolff; third, Mr. and Mrs. M. Meier; fourth, Mrs. W. M. Godfrey, Col. A. Damron.

Kansas Woman Wins Powder Puff Derby

By TOM SEPPY

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Mary Ann Noah, Mission, Kan., winner of the 18th annual Powder Puff Derby, never wanted to fly, even though her husband has flown since 1938.

"I guess I was chicken," she said after the announcement of her victory Wednesday night. "My husband had a plane in business and he wanted me to learn. But I didn't think I was capable of mastering the art.

"He dragged me down to take a lesson and after the first hour I was hooked. I just fell in love with it."

Mrs. Noah's first lesson was late in 1959. She has competed in every Powder Puff Derby—a 2,573-mile cross - country airplane race for women — since 1960.

Winning the derby is a matter of getting the most out of a plane. Official standings are computed on the basis of total air time and a handicap based on the plane's capabilities.

"It was wonderful," said Mrs. Noah, a pretty blonde mother of four. "We were fortunate to get good winds on the second day out," she said. "We just whizzed from Winslow, Ariz., to Fayetteville, Ark."

Mrs. Noah, and her copilot, Mary Aikins, Wichita, Kan., a mother of three, were in the air some 17 hours.

Use your imagination in carrying out the theme further in decorations and refreshments.

ZETA TAU DELEGATE—Miss Deanna Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Johnson of 208 Morningside Dr. was a delegate to the international convention of Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority held recently at the Americana Hotel in Miami Beach, Fla. Miss Johnson was a representative of Province XVII, Colorado University.

Many Italian Women Gain Grip on Jobs

ROME (UPI) — A Neopolitan widow who knows all about electrodynamics, likes classical music and lives in an apartment furnished in 19th century taste has become the highest-ranking woman in Italy's civil service.

But Eugenia Grillo Nicolo, appointed recently as Director General of the State Telephone Agency, does not consider her career as a triumph of the feminist cause. In fact, she does not like to talk about it.

Mrs. Grillo, who lost her husband one year ago and has no children, is 64. She graduated in civil engineering in 1925 and has been with the civil service since 1928, first in the post and telegraph department and then in the telephone agency, where she mounted to the top step by slow steps.

For all of her matter - of-course attitude, Mrs. Grillo's appointment made headlines in a country where the role of women in business and public life is still limited, but growing.

Latest figures show that women — not counting housewives—account for 28 per cent of Italy's working force and that they are represented in 97 of the 99 professions listed in official statistics, the exceptions being court clerks and railroad engineers.

The highest percentage of women—more than 50 per cent—are primary and secondary school teachers, nurses, tailors, furriers, hatters, shirt - makers, hosiery workers, lace makers, laundry and dye-house workers, paper workers, cooks, servants.

But also such professions as pharmacists, bookkeepers, statisticians, shop owners and attendants, barbers and hairdressers had a proportion of women above 25 per cent. And there was more than one woman out of every 10 mechanics, goldsmiths, chemical analysts, tire vulcanizers, gun makers.

In other fields, women are less numerous. But there are 2,000 women doctors—many of them specialized in pediatrics, and a sizable number of women engineers, electronic experts and architects.

Among the best-paid female professions is that of interpreter, with salaries as high as $272 a month.

Bus to Be Bought With Trading Stamps

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Religion will be brought to migrant farm workers in eastern North Carolina through a bus purchased Wednesday with trading stamps.

The United Church Women of North Carolina turned over 1,063,200 trading stamps for the new compact bus in Charlotte and began saving for a second bus.

The first bus, named the "Harvester —a Chapel on Wheels," will be used to transport children of migrant farm workers to two child care centers sponsored by the UCW in Henderson and Elizabeth City.

Anniversary Celebrated with Open House

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brady of 1420 Chestnut Ave., Canon City, observed their golden wedding anniversary at an open house in their home June 20 from 1 to 5 p.m. The affair was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gallegor, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Clark, Mrs. Edward Strubel, all of Canon City, and Mrs. Ruth Kissell of Pueblo.

The reception, held on the lawn of the Brady home, was attended by a number of out-of-town as well as local guests. Wedding cake, punch, coffee, mints and nuts were served from a tea table centered with a large bouquet of yellow and white carnations, a gift from the Clarks.

The Bradys were married June 20, 1914, at Harlen, Ky. They have five living children, Mrs. Pauline Gallegor, Mrs. Lorraine Clark, Mrs. Ruth Kissell, Mrs. Wilma Strubel and Marvin Brady of Santa Clara, Calif. The couple has 17 grandchildren and six great grandchildren. Mr. Brady is a retired carpenter.

ESA Chapter Entertained by Mrs. J. Rampone

A special meeting of the Beta Zeta Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority was held recently at the home of Mrs. Joseph Rampone Jr., Canon City. Among summer activities planned were a hayrack ride for July 18 and a family picnic at Buckskin Joe on Aug. 16.

Committee heads for the new year include Mrs. Donna Chappell, educational director; Mrs. Charles Wagner, publicity; Mrs. Gus Oliver and Mrs. Carl Zupan, social; Mrs. Jack Martin and Mrs. Carol Roberts, ways and means; Miss Jerri Blanchard, jonquil girl.

Mrs. Rampone was assisted by Mrs. Dan Oliver in serving coffee and pie to the Mmes. Roberts, Zupan, Joseph Zupan, Dan Di Angelo, Chappell, Wagner, Miss Alice Gillen, Miss Blanchard and guests, Mrs. Jim Wershom.

Mrs. Fulton Hostess To Home Economics Club

Mrs. Dean Fulton was hostess at a covered dish luncheon in her home July 1 for members of the Royal Gorge Grange Home Economics Club 382. Mrs. T. M. Fulton will host the next meeting.

Luncheon guests from Canon City included Mr. and Mrs. U. V. Wilson, the T. M. Fultons, Mrs. Fred Helton, Mrs. Carl Mees, Mrs. Della Mix, Mrs. Dean Fulton, Mrs. Leroy Schneider and Regina, Mrs. George Elley, Georgene and Tommy and guest, Mrs. Ethel Morrison.

HINTS FROM Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

It is becoming quite popular to carpet bathrooms with cotton carpeting, and it is so pretty.

Before you cut the carpeting to fit your bathroom (be sure to buy the carpeting "at least" six inches larger than your bathroom measures) have the "whole piece" of carpeting washed and dried so that it will do all of its shrinking "before" it is cut to fit . . .

There have been many people who have cut their rug to fit and after it was washed, it pulled away from the walls about two inches. —Frannie Ely

You are "so" right! That's exactly what mine did. Oh, how I wish you had written this hint earlier. —Bless you, Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I am the mother of three little dears, ages two, three, and four. Did I say dears?? Well, they are—until mealtime.

We had a constant squabble over who would wash first and for how long. If I sent all three to the bathroom to wash their hands together, they would all come out drenched!

If I sent them one at a time, each child spent forever playing in the water!

I solved the problem by alternating turns and sending one child at a time, with a portable kitchen timer, set at two minutes, and instructions that when the bell rang they must dry their hands and return the timer to mommie.

The children all look forward to this, and best of all, no more fighting . . . a balm for mothers' ragged nerves. —Saved by the bell

Dear Heloise:

Hey! How about this for your nylon net?

Use it as a piece of manicure equipment — for pushing back cuticle and removing dead cuticle. Works marvelously!

You know how manicurists warn about not using metal or anything too hard in manicuring . . . but orange sticks can get too soft to be effective. One or two folds of the net is just right.

As a daily aid to lovely nails, keep a small piece of net by your wash basin, and when you wash your hands, put cuticle back gently and effectively by working net back on each nail with the pad of the thumb. —C. B.

Letter of Laughter

Dear Heloise:

Once in a while make out a long grocery list and send your son or daughter to the store alone. They will be amazed to find out how much it costs to eat, and they will be more saving and more appreciative.

Also, it won't be quite as much of a shock when they are married and have to pay for everything themselves! —A Reader

Dear Heloise:

While having a cup of coffee to celebrate the completion of a long-dreaded job, I thought I'd write to tell you how I did it. To clean my grimy Venetian blinds, I attached our long-handled car-washing brush to the garden hose, then spread out an old shower curtain on the grass to protect the blinds from grass and leaves.

I dipped the brush in a cleaning solution and scrubbed both sides of the blinds, then turned on a strong spray of water and rinsed them with the same brush.

After tossing them over the back fence to dry for a few minutes, I realized that it had taken only an hour to accomplish what might have been half a day of drudgery. —June O'Neill

Dear Heloise:

Yesterday I saw a man painting a wrought iron fence.

Instead of a brush or roller, he had a large lambs' wool mitten on his hand and that is what he painted with.

He just dipped and rubbed, and the fence looks wonderful! —Ellen Bolger

FILES FOR DIVORCE

The couple married last Feb. 22 and separated June 15, according to the suit.

Goldwater's Wife Notes 55th Birthday

The wife of the man favored to win the Republican presidential nomination spent the day quietly at the Goldwaters' hilltop home overlooking Phoenix.

She was to leave today for the Republican National Convention in San Francisco. Goldwater is flying to the convention from Washington today.

The couple's two sons and two daughters also plan to attend the convention.

Dear Abby--

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

It's a Vicious Circle!

DEAR ABBY: My husband positively refuses to tip anyone unless (as he puts it) they have "earned a reward" for doing something special for him. He says waiters are paid to serve customers, doormen are paid to open doors, taxi drivers are paid to drive, and barbers are paid to cut hair, and he's sick of all these people with their hands out. When we leave a restaurant, if looks could kill we'd both be dead. I get terribly embarrassed, but it doesn't seem to bother my husband a bit. How can I get it through his head that "tipping" is an accepted custom, and people who do not tip are considered strange? — NON - TIPPER'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Many jobs (bellboys, waiters, doormen, hairdressers, manicurists) are considered attractive only because of the "tips" that go with them. And the salaries paid take "tips" into account. So in many cases, a tip is more than a fringe benefit. It is bread and butter. Granted, no establishment should expect the customers to pay their help, but until the system is changed, why punish the working folks?

DEAR ABBY: I am a middle-aged man in love with a woman a few years my junior. We are both mature people, we both have had a previous marriage. She and I are completely congenial. We like the same things, have similar educational backgrounds and can talk for hours without running out of conversation. I love her deeply, but she says she only "likes" me, she doesn't love me—and so no marriage. All I can do is hope and wait, but she says I'm wasting my time, that she knows her feelings for me won't change. Any suggestions? —UP AGAINST A STONE WALL

DEAR UP AGAINST: Believe her. Her answer might change, but her feelings are not likely to. Then you could have a wife who "likes" but does not "love" you. That would be dandy if it's only companionship you're both looking for—but don't expect more.

DEAR ABBY: Do you think it is proper to refer to a single woman who has never been married as an "old maid"? I have a dear friend who has never been married. She is attractive, popular, self-supporting and nobody's fool, and I am outraged every time I hear someone call her an "old maid." Some women turn down chances to marry because they can't get the man they want, and will settle for none other. Others have families to support. There is probably not one unmarried woman who hasn't turned down at least one chance to marry. Why, then, do so many married women who are married to beasts get a smug satisfaction out of calling their unmarried friends "old maids"? I would like your comments, please. —MARIE

DEAR MARIE: The term "old maid" is not always intended as a slur. It can be used with gentleness and understanding. And self-sufficient women, unmarried by choice, probably couldn't care less. But I agree with you—when its connotations are cruel, those using the term should be ashamed of themselves.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "Johnny On The Spot": Keep right on being punctual—it's one of the most beautiful of all attributes, although I personally have lost more time being on time than anyone I know.

Pale Colors, Light Look Rome Fashion

By LOUISE HICKMAN

ROME (AP)—Pale colors and a light look are predicted for the new Italian fashion showings opening in Rome July 13. The collections will be for fall and winter but they may look more like spring.

Black, of course, followed every color listing given by designers this week. No one is about to abandon basic black.

But this season it will be preceded by pale hues—dusty pinks and blues, soft almond greens, light grays and beiges. For evening there are colors so pale they seem reflected on white.

Almost all houses will be using reversible wools for coats.

No designer in Italy seems to be planning to bare the bosom or drop the hemline.

A wider look for shoulders without padding is in the air. Most designers achieve the look with seams and shaping that give a soft roundness.

In recent seasons the Italian couture has shown a tendency to high, though never empire, waistlines. The silhouette will have less importance this season. Forquet, Antonelli and Fontana talk of waists slightly dropped. Galitzine and De Barentzen promise a waistline where waistlines traditionally go.

The Rome showings will run for five days. On July 18 the spotlight will shift to Florence for five more days of fall and winter fashion news.

South opened the bidding with one club and, over his partner's response of one spade, he rebid two hearts—known in the trade as a "reverse." This is a strength showing call inasmuch as it forces partner into the three level to show a mere preference for clubs. North had a sound holding and in order to show that he was not carrying on simply because South had shown a strong hand, he jumped to four hearts. South took charge at this point and drove to six hearts.

West opened the eight of diamonds and South won the trick with the queen. A spade was led to the ace and a trump was returned. Declarer put up the king from his hand and West played the ace. A diamond came back and was won by South. He cashed the ace of clubs and ruffed a club in dummy. The closed hand was reentered with a trump and another club was trumped with the nine of hearts. East was out of clubs, but he had no more trumps. South ruffed himself in with a spade, drew the last heart, cashed the king of clubs dropping West's queen and claimed the balance.

West could have defeated the slam if he had held off on the first heart lead for, if declarer leads a second trump, West can play the ace and another heart. South will be unable to establish his club suit. If, on the other hand, declarer leaves the trumps alone and tries to ruff clubs, East will overruff the dummy on the third round with the ten of hearts.

West had no good return to make when he was in with the ace of hearts, and he should have retained his only control until such time as the proper course of action became clear.

SWISS SUITE

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Patrolman Otto L. Rieben wears his regulation blue uniform on duty, but at home sometimes he shows his family and friends how he looked as a Swiss Guard in Vatican City, protecting the Pope from 1949 to 1951.

Add Zest to Salad With Lobster

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

We enthusiastically recommend this superb lobster salad as perfect for a wedding buffet or any festive bridal function. It is elegant with chunky tender pieces of rock lobster meat. It is also very easy to put together.

Even easier, if your local market or delicatessen carries first-class potato salad. Then you can mix the lobster meat and the potato salad, thereby saving time. However, if time is not of the essence, for very best results we suggest you prepare the potatoes yourself and follow this recipe all the way.

Elegant Lobster Tail Salad
(6 servings)

6 (4-ounce) South African rock lobster tails
2 pounds potatoes
½ cup diced onion
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon white pepper
1½ cups mayonnaise
¼ cup heavy cream

Drop frozen South African rock lobster tails into boiling salted water. When water reboils, lower heat and simmer 7 minutes. Drain immediately and drench with cold water. Cut away thin underside membrane and remove meat from shells. Chill. Boil potatoes; drain and peel. While still warm, cut in cubes in bottom of large bowl. Add onion, salt and pepper immediately. Mix mayonnaise with cream until smooth. Pour over potatoes and onions and leave in a thick top layer. Cool, then chill. At serving time, cut chilled rock lobster tails into bite-size pieces; add to potato bowl and toss together until all ingredients are well blended.

They All Chant for Chili in New Mexico

By ROBERT E. HUBER

The natives here have almost 400 years of chile cooking tradition behind them. And chile has become one of the most important crops raised in New Mexico.

The chile plants, first introduced by the Spaniards, was taken over by the Indians as the first spice introduced into the new world. Since then, chile in one form or another has been employed to add zip to beans and most other native foods. While still green, chile is stewed, fried, baked, boiled or fricasseed.

When it turns red in the fall, it's the fiery hot powder used on almost all food.

Mixed with corn and flattened into a cake, chile becomes a tortilla. Mixed with meat it's chile con carne. Add some beans and it's chile con frijoles. To most "anglos," it's the nearest thing to rocket fuel, but to the native, it's sublime.

Regardless of its name, chile is almost always red and always hot, unless it's green and then it's hotter.

But with lots of milk or chilled wine, the newcomer to New Mexican food can also enjoy sopa de albondigas, a rich stock soup with tender meatballs made from beef and mixed with blue cornmeal and spices.

Pasole, a dish of hominy cooked with pork, onions and green chiles, can be a filling meal while arroz con pollo, made of chicken, rice and fresh herbs, is an Indian favorite.

For the iron clad mouth, salsa picante is a sauce poured over everything. It has been known to cure colds and keep away relatives indefinitely, but those who love explosive foods swear by it.

Quesadilla, a pastry filled with cheese, eggs and milk is often served with enchiladas, a blue or yellow corn meal tortilla with meat filling. Fried rice and huevos racheros—fried eggs topped with tomato or chili sauce—most often go together.

The entire meal may be topped off with a dessert like emphanadita — a mincemeat turnover — or bunuelos, a tiny sweet cake.

MOUSE SUIT

AKRON, O. (UPI) — Scientists here have received an order for a space suit — to fit a mouse.

The request was sent to B. F. Goodrich, which made the suits worn by American astronauts. It came in a letter from 11-year-old Stephen Rayle of Toledo who explained that he and some friends are planning to launch a space capsule with the help of helium-filled balloons and they wanted a live mouse for a passenger.

Liver and Onion Saute Rice
Panned Asparagus and Carrots
Fruit and Cookies Beverage

Panned Asparagus and Carrots

1 bunch medium or thick asparagus
¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ to ½ cup water
½ to ¾ teaspoon salt
1 cup thinly sliced carrots, cut crosswise on the bias

Cut off tough ends from asparagus, wash thoroughly and drain; pare off outer covering up to buds. Thinly slice stalks crosswise on the bias and halve buds lengthwise; there should be 3 cups. Into a 10-inch skillet turn all the ingredients. Boil gently, covered, until the asparagus and carrots are tender-crisp. Start with ¼ cup water and add more if necessary; lift cover and stir gently a few times. Makes 6 servings.

Buckwheat Groats

1 cup coarse brown buckwheat groats
1 egg, slightly beaten
2 cups (about) boiling - hot chicken stock
Salt to taste
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

In a buttered 10-inch skillet stir together the groats and egg. Over low heat stir groats until dry and browned slightly. Add 2 cups stock and bring to a boil; cover tightly and simmer until cooked through and liquid absorbed — 20 to 30 minutes. If liquid is absorbed before groats are tender, add 2 to 4 tablespoons hot or cold stock at a time. Stir in salt (amount will depend on seasoning in stock) and butter. Serve at once or reheat over boiling water. Makes 4 servings.

Court Ponders Pizza Cook's Patent Plaint

VICO EQUENSE, Italy (UPI) —Two pizza cooks are fighting it out in court in plagiarism

The battle between Luigi Dell'Amura and Antonio Imperato started when Imperato, a newcomer to the neighborhood, opened a restaurant next door to Dell'Amura's and put up a big sign reading: "Pizza by the Kilometer."

That, Dell'Amura said, was shameless plagiarism. His own pizza, renowned for its length, has long been billed as "Pizza by the meter" and he even had the name patented with the Industry and Commerce Ministry.

Imperato said a meter is one thing and a kilometer is another. What Dell'Amura patented was the meter, not the kilometer.

Nonsense, Dell'Amura said. First of all, the word kilometer on Imperato's sign was divide in two so it could be read "Kilo-Meter" and be taken to mean "Pizza by the Kilogram and Meter."

Secondly, who ever heard of pizza one kilometer long It takes Dell'Amura a lot of loving care, family know-how and an extra big oven to make pizza a few meters long. So if Imperato talked about kilometers, he was a liar, Dell' Amura said.

Imperato said the kilomete shouldn't be taken literally. The Vico Equense court will shortly rule on the case.

In Dell'Amura's favor is his long family tradition. His father, Antonio, long ago baked pizza at home — the restaurant then didn't exist in the family's most daring dreams — and peddled it in the streets to citizens and tourists. Little Luigi helped his mother prepare the dough and cut the parsley and mozzarella cheese that went into the pizzas.

Luigi later went into business on his own and saved enough money to open the restaurant with the help of two brothers and two sisters and of his wife, Concetta.

Five of the couple's seven children are now helping out in the pizza business. The sixth, Lucia, is a student, and the seventh, Francesco, appropriately is a lawyer and can help with some legal advice on the meter-kilometer battle.

Wall Street Report

Brokers said the market continue to be supported by generally favorable business news. They are expecting a flow of corporate reports of improved earnings.

RCA, which Wednesday reported record profits for the seocnd quarter and the half, advanced a fraction.

The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon was up .5 to 318.0 with industrials up .9, rails off .1 and utilities up .4.

At noon., the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials had gained 0.47 to 845.92.

Electronics and chemicals were in the plus column. Other groups were mixed.

Zenith advanced about half a point and Raytheon and Sperry Rand were ahead by lesser fractions.

Control Data, which ran up more than 4 points Wednesday, was hit by profit-taking and lost better than a point.

Du Pont helped the averages with an advance of almost two points while Allied Chemical and Eastman Kodak were up half a point.

American Telephone lost a minor fraction.

IBM added 2 points and Zerox and High Voltage Engineering tacked on about half a point.

Corporate and government bonds were mixed.

Grain Market

CHICAGO (AP)—A moderate volume of commercial support imparted a little firmness to the wheat futures market today, but other commodities on the Board of Trade were mostly weak.

Declines ranged to major fractions or more in the early afternoon with transactions at a very slow pace. Both oats and rye posted losses of a cent or more.

Brokers said a good deal of the pressure appeared to have been related to rather liberal tenders on July oats and soybean contracts in the pit.

Three Successes Scored for Polaris

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —The Polaris A2 missile closed out its test firings at Cape Kennedy Wednesday with three straight successes.

The nuclear submarine John Adams launched the missiles on 1,500 - mile flights down range from a submerged position about 30 miles offshore.

Phil Winslow Motors Inc. Moves Into New Building

The "little" car dealership in Colorado Springs has grown up all of a sudden.

Volkswagen dealer Phil Winslow Motors Inc. will formally open newly constructed facilities at 730 N. Circle Dr. Friday and Saturday. The new sales and service center was recently completed at a cost of more than $300,000.

"For years we've been successfully urging people to 'think small,'" Winslow, general manager, said. "The result is that we've had to think big in constructing our new facilities."

The new center utilizes a 70,000 square feet area. The building itself contains more than 16,000 square feet of space. Within are modern offices, a large showroom, a complete parts and accessories department, enlarged service and shop facilities, as well as a customer lounge and similar niceties.

"We even have outside infrared heat," Winslow said. "We plan to see that our customers are comfortable and happy even before they get in the door."

Winslow said his firm's concern with customer service was a major factor in prompting it to build the new quarters. Winslow Motors feels that customers are deserving of service as fine as the quality of the car that they bought. The new service and parts area, he's confident, will make it possible for his service personnel to do their jobs with maximum efficiency.

The public is invited to the firm's grand opening from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. Friday and Saturday. There will be free refreshments for everyone, and a hard cover book, "The Little Red Volkswagen That Would Not Stop Running," for each youngster. Three ASC-registered Daschund puppies will be given away.

The VW sedan, a sunroof model, a convertible and a station wagon will be available for inspection. Also on display will be an Italian designed Karmann Ghia and a luxury sports car, the Porsche.

The building was constructed by local sub-contractors under the direction of general contractor Bruce Hughes Inc. Edwin A. Francis and Carlisle B. Guy were the architects.

New Jersey Negro Cause Turned Down

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — The New Jersey State Board of Education has refused to overturn the neighborhood school concept as a means of ending racial imbalance in Union Township.

It rejected Wednesday a request by a group of Negro parents to compel the Union Township School Board to transfer pupils to reduce imbalance at the 95 per cent Negro Jefferson elementary school.

The board said "it does not consider the neighborhood school system inviolable" but prefers to retain the concept where possible. It said it believed the public interest required that the voluntary transfer plan be upheld because "parents of students of primary school age generally desire to have their children attend schools as close to home as possible."

Frontier Sets Record Breaking Traffic Mark

Record breaking passenger traffic in June established a new 19-year record for Frontier Airlines, Lewis W. Dymond, president of the company, announced today.

Revenue passenger miles totalling 16,787,000 was a 28 per cent increase over the 13,091,000 totalled a year ago. The 55,700 passengers carried during the month were a 22 per cent increase over the 45,600 passengers of June, 1963.

For the first 6 months of 1964 Frontier has flown 85,761,000 revenue passenger miles for a 31 per cent increase in the same period a year ago. Passengers totalled 297,500 for the half hour period — this was a 22 per cent increase over 1963's half year showings.

New service with jet - prop Convair 580 equipment inaugurated on June 1 plus a traffic stimulating package tour program to national parks were contributing factors for the increase.

Colorado's nine cities served by Frontier showed an overall 27 per cent increase in passenger boardings. Passengers throughout the state totalled 17,784 compared with 14,019 passengers in June, 1963. Showings during the month by cities in Colorado were as follows: Alamosa: 350 passengers compared with 329 passengers last year for a 6 per cent increase; Colorado Springs: 716 passengers; Cortez: 285 passengers compared with 260 passengers for last year; Denver: 12,002 passengers compared with 9,649 passengers for last year for a 25 per cent increase; Durango: 723 passengers compared with 811 passengers for last year for a 11 per cent decrease; Grand Junction: 2,364 passengers compared with 1,830 passengers last year for a 29 per cent increase; Gunnison: 133 passengers compared with 170 passengers for last year; Montrose: 398 passengers compared with 408 passengers last year; and Pueblo: 813 passengers compared with 571 passengers last year for a 42 per cent increase.

Business Riding Spectacular Profit Wave

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—American business is riding a profit wave as spectacular as any challenged by the surfboard set.

A flood of earnings reports for the second quarter is starting. Early tallies and estimates reveal only a small minority of companies that aren't doing better than a year ago. Many are reporting new highs for the quarter. Some are setting records for any three-month period in their history.

The good news is encouraging the bulls in the stock market. Also gladdened are the hearts of shareowners who hope for further increases in dividends.

The U.S. Treasury will be a big winner, too. Even at the lowered tax rates on corporate incomes, the record gross earnings will mean a flow of tax receipts. The bigger-than-expected jump in profits in the first three months of the year is being extended through the latest period.

Earliest reports are from corporations with fiscal years ending ahead of the calendar year, so that their second quarter books were closed before June 30. But the nation's banks are reporting for the April - May-June quarter and most of them show gains over last year. Officials of many of the large corporations yet to report formally also are on record as estimating that the gain over last year will be substantial.

Among the big companies already reporting increased earnings are American Telephone & Telegraph, Firestone Tire & Rubber and Douglas Aircraft. Preliminary estimates also put Du Pont and Parke, Davis & Co. in this group. Most steel companies are expected to join the list by the end of the month. The big motor companies are considered sure members of the club.

Retail chains reporting so far are almost all in the plus column. Included are J. C. Penney, R. H. Macy, Federated Department Stores, Bullock's, Marshall Field, May Department Stores, Associated Dry Goods, Allied Stores, Russeks, and Lane Bryant.

Executives of a number of the nation's largest corporations are on record as predicting that the rate of the profit increases may slow a bit in coming months but that the figures will stay well above those of a year ago.

They, like many stock traders already have put 1964 down in the books as the most profitable, in terms of dollar totals, in American business history.

Canvas Grocery Store Defies Big Builders

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—O. T. Norton, owner of a tiny wood and canvas grocery store, says he has 15 months to go on his lease and he won't move to make way for a 25-storied building.

Constructors said Tuesday that was all right, they would just build around him. The store will be in the center of the new structure's plaza.

Cow Palace Becomes Place Only for People

By MORRIE LANDSBERG

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Cow Palace is no place today for cows. Or people.

Work is moving along briskly and noisily to transform the big exhibition hall and home of a professional ice hockey team into the arena for selecting the 1964 Republican ticket. The convention opens Monday.

Flags of the states have been draped on both sides. A new electronic score board has been installed to flash a running total of the vote for the presidential nomination. Most of the delegation phones are in.

The major business of erecting the platform area, however, is only half completed. Workmen are still erecting partitions off the floor for various activities.

Members of the convention arrangements committee made their way through the lumber and wires Tuesday to assess the progress.

"It's working out very well," said Clare Shank of St. Petersburg, Fla., a GOP national committeewoman and a former assistant national chairman.

Mrs. Shank said she was delighted that so little room for the 1,308 delegates had been sacrificed in enlarging the platform space allowed for the 1956 Republican convention in the same hall.

Back at the headquarters hotel, there were happy tidings for people who'd like to attend the "GO Party Gala" convention eve but don't have $500 in cash for a ticket.

Just charge it, the sponsors said.

More specifically, the national Republican senatorial and congressional committees announced they'll accept credit cards for the foremost social event of the convention.

What will the guests get for their $500?

—An engraved ticket, the size of a calling card, engraved in silver and blue, and packaged in a dark blue leather jewelry box. The box also will contain a tiny silver pin in the shape of the Capitol dome.

—A chance to get a close look at all party presidential possibilities and dignitaries and to mix with what advance publicity bills as numerous movie and television personalities.

—An elaborate buffet and drinks, dancing to two orchestras and banjo entertainment.

LIST MAILED

DENVER (UPI) — A list of 283 organizations named as subversive by the U.S. attorney general will be mailed to members of the Rocky Mountain Better Business Bureau. Bureau General Manager Dan Bell said the purpose of the mailing was to help business firms to avoid contributing funds to solicitors of questionable organizations.

Man Fined $75 On Two Counts By Justice

Carlos Henry Ornels was fined a total of $75 plus $8 costs in Justice of the Peace H. C. McShane's court Tuesday on two separate charges. Ornels, 18, 554 E. Bijou St. was first picked up June 24 on Colorado Highway 115 by State Patrolman Paul Cornell as he had not compiled with the inspection law and was without a valid operator's license. Two days later on Ramona Street he was stopped again by Cornell for the same violations. He was fined $15 and costs on the first ticket and $60 and costs on the second.

John Harvey Toombs, 23, 817 S. Foote Ave. paid a $30 fine and costs for careless driving on East Colorado Avenue June 22, for having no operator's license, and hit and run. Police Officer C. J. Cates gave him the summons.

Careless driving cost Paul William Hann, 47, Miami, Fla., $15 and costs. State Patrolman Arnold Ferrero cited him Friday on Prairie Road.

Jeannie Lee Eakles, 19, 726 E. Moreno St. was charged with careless driving and speeding. According to State Patrolman J. Fred Henderson,, the defendant was driving at 75 miles per hour in a 60 zone in Monument Friday. A $20 fine and costs was imposed.

State Patrolman Paul Cornell ticketed Robert Lee Gillian, 27, Ft. Carson, for driving the wrong way on a one-way street. The violation happened June 8 on Arvada Street and Gillian was fined $6 and costs.

Daniel R. McElheney, 20, Ft. Carson failed to appear to answer a charge of driving without an operator's license and forfeited his $10 bond. McElheney got the ticket on Cascade Avenue May 20 from Police officer D. Ranney.

John L. Baker of the state patrol ticketed Leo William Kalman, 22, 2208 W. Vermijo St., for driving under suspension. The violation happened Thursday on U. S. Highway 85-87 and the defendant was fined $50 and costs.

Not obeying the inspection law cost Phelps Henry Preston, 24, Ft. Carson $3 and costs. Baker cited him June 13 on U.S. Highway 85-87.

Clarence J. Frazier, 26, 422 S. Conejos St. was fined $3 and costs for not complying with the inspection law. He was ticketed Friday on Cheyenne Road by State Patrolman Arnold Ferrero.

Jacqueline L. Eaton, 19, Box 89, Bradley Road, disregarded a stop sign on U. S. Highway 24 May 23 and was fined $8 and $4 costs. Ken Smith was the state patrolman.

John R. Enright was charged with reckless driving and fined $25 and costs. Enright, 20, 908 Cedar St., got the ticket Monday on Fillmore Street from State Patrolman Robert DeFelice.

Samuel Dwight Gieck, 19, 532 William Ave. was ticketed on Pine Avenue July 1 by State Patrolman R. D. Allen for not yielding the right of way. A $10 fine and costs was imposed.

Footwork Comes First in AFA Training

Although feathered fledglings fly before their feet touch the ground, Academy fledglings (basic cadets) find foot work comes in large doses long before they take to the air.

Now in the second week of their eight-week basic training cycle, "doolies" are learning the fundamentals of close order drill and the basic fact that it takes a heap of hiking to master marching skills.

During later weeks of the training schedule, members of the new class will become well acquainted with the infantryman's M-1 rifle. They will both learn to drill with M-1 and fire it for familiarization on the Jack's Valley range.

Despite the emphasis on military rudiments, basics do get a chance to "try their wings." The entire class is scheduled for orientation flights in T-29 and T-33 trainers.

PROBATION DENIED

DENVER (UPI)— Disbarred Denver attorney Raymond D. Buckles Tuesday lost his bid for probation in connection with a 1963 conviction for receiving stolen goods. Buckles, a former bail bondsman, was given until July 16 to appeal his 2-to-3-year prison sentence. The 43-year-old lawyer charged he had not been given a fair trial in district court.

Youth Prevailing in Trans-Miss

BETWEEN THE LINES

by Loy Holman

Group With a Cause

Harry Logan was careful to preface his remarks with a touch of modesty on the part of his beloved tournament, and it was enough to insure honesty in his opinion.

As he stood ankle deep in the grass bunker that guards the rear side of the Broadmoor's famous finishing 18th, the Trans-Mississippi executive secretary proudly proclaimed that the current golf attraction on the long list of premium events on the local links is second to only one other tournament on the play for fun tour.

"Only the National Amateur could be considered above this tournament," Logan opined as he shuttled each golfer directly to the scoreboard keeper. And a quick peek at the sub - par rounds that were being registered were evidence to his claim.

"The Amateur has a few who didn't enter here, such as (Charlie) Coe, (Deane) Beman and (Billy Joe) Patton, but hardly without exception we have the finest golfers in the West and many of the young players who will be making all the headlines in the future."

Logan, who operates his office all around the clubhouse with the efficiency of a ticker-tape business, was justly proud of the field that has gathered this week in Colorado Springs matching shots for one of the country's most esteemed titles. That was certified by the par-plastering rounds of those like San Francisco's Ron Cerruto (six under for 36 holes)or Los Angeles' Fletcher Jones (four under) in the qualifying.

Medalist Cerruto, who has been threatening the cover of the ball every time he looks down the shaft of his driver, is leading the charge of the fuzzy-cheeked crowd that has all but shoved the old timers off the course and into the rockin' chairs.

Not that the teenage types have taken over completely, especially in match play like that in this and most amateur tournaments where experience often puts brains over brawn, but it's quite obvious that the younger set are the ones to watch anytime the ball is teed.

"The recent popularity of golf through television has to be a big factor in bringing out so many fine young players," Logan stated. "And, of course, the big money that's involved in the professional tournaments.

"But I also blame TV for much of the slow play that you see in all the tournaments," Hogan continued. "They call it deliberate, but I say it's slow play when they drag a match out from what should be played in three hours into a four or five-hour affair. I can't help but believe that a lot of it comes from watching the pros linger over a putt for several minutes."

Still ,there's no denying the growth of the sport in the last 10 years or so, from an obscure country club recreation to one of the major athletic activities of the entire world. And Logan agrees with many that the view through the tube and the increased space devoted by the news media has been largely responsible. . .along with the weekenders who like to watch the "big boys" play the game the way it is supposed to be played.

This has also ballooned the prestige for college sponsored teams and players, which in turn has resulted in more scholarships or grants to those involved in the game who would like to further their educations.

There are several different types of grants offered along this line, including those to schools out to build a golfing dynasty replete with the "red shirt" corps, training tables, alumni gifts, and all the fringe benefits that go with sweat suit businesses like football or basketball among our collegians.

One is the Chick Evans-Eisenhower program which furnishes needy caddies the means of a higher education. This has been flourishing throughout the country for some time due to the efforts of members of the Western Golf Association. In fact, there are some half dozen or more currently in school at Colorado U. from the Colorado Springs' area because of the work put in by dedicated individuals such as localite Roy (Wally) Walholm.

Association, however, has a

The Trans-Mississippi Golf Association, however, has a rather unique scholarship program which fully recognizes the growth of the sport and its playing grounds.

Several years ago the Trans-Miss Assn. realized a definite need for highly trained course administrative people and it offered a scholarship plan for those especially interested in turf management and grass culture. Now there are students at a half dozen Western colleges and universities to study agronomy—or the best way to make grass hold up under the punishment of cleated golf shoes —including some at Colorado State University at Ft. Collins.

"When the Trans-Miss was first formed, it was merely a means of getting clubs in the mid-west together for social play," Logan said. "But we realized that no longer was there a need to try and popularize the sport and we decided there should be a purpose to our association."

Thus was born this relatively new scholarship program, which derives the majority of its funds from the annual tournament for seniors held at the Desert Inn in Las Vegas, Nev. Some 300 seniors pay 10 bucks a year in dues and the rest is taken from the entry fee of the tournament. And the enrollment of grass experts in the making has grown from an original two students at CSU to the current 14 at six schools.

"It's made sense to the course managers, too," Logan said. "It was just good economics to hire experienced, educated people to care for the grounds rather than lose a green that may cost $30,000 to replace."

This is no hand out of asking donations, but rather just a very worthwhile project by the Trans-Mississippi Golf Association: a group of many of the country's finest golfers who are devoted to the game they play and its future.

Emerson Set For Davis Cup

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—President Norman W. Strange of the Lawn Tennis Association of Australia said today he is now confident Wimbledon champion Roy Emerson will play in the Davis Cup for Australia this year.

Strange said he received a cable from Emerson today guaranteeing he will stay in Australia next season until the official closing date laid down by the LTAA—Feb. 28.

Strange said this promise will remove the last objections to removal of the ban on Emerson and will ensure a favorable vote when the LTAA meets Friday to consider the matter.

Emerson also told Strange in a telephone conversation today that he is willing to cancel engagements in Europe and make himself available for selection in the first Davis Cup match against Canada if required.

College Age Players Dominate First Round

By TOM CUSHMAN
Gazette Telegraph Sports Writer

If Wednesday's opening round of the Trans-Mississippi Tournament is an accurate gauge, the Broadmoor Golf Course is about to be converted into a playground for the young!

The well-worn argument of youth versus experience had a lengthy workout Wednesday as the prominent amateur tourney began the process of determining its match play champion — and experience ran a poor second.

This morning, as the 32 survivors launched second round action, the "Old Guard" had very few representatives remaining. Instead, the dominent group was the college set and the odds that the new champion will emerge from its ranks were climbing rapidly.

There were several exceptions to the general rule Wednesday. Scattered throughout the bracket this morning were still such names as Ed Hopkins of Dallas, Jim Vickers for Wichita, & Les Fowler of Boulder and all posed a solid treat to collegiate supremacy. All turned in exciting victories under intense pressure during the first round.

Fowler produced the gem of the day! The lean Colorado University golf coach fired an even par round across the Broadmoor's sloping fairways and it was sufficient to expel Oklahoma City's George Hixon, one of the top representatives of the college ranks. It was the second straight disappointment for Hixon on this course. He was eliminated during an early round of the NCAA Tournament here three weeks ago. In between, he had won the amateur championship in Oklahoma.

Hopkins, a former runner-up in both the Trans-Miss and the U. S. Amateur, as well as the 1948 NCAA champion, had a vicious struggle with Nicky Brice of Robstown, Tex. He trailed by a hole going to the 14th, but dropped a birdie there and eventually pulled out a one-up victory with a six-foot birdie putt at the 18th. That final shot left him with a one-under-par 70 for the round.

Vickers had an even more exhausting time. Walt Fondren carried him 21 holes before yielding and then it was a Fondren error that provided the opening. Vickers had dropped his second shot short of the lake at the foot of the par five green. Sensing an opening, the Texas golfer attempted to carry the water with his second and pulled the shot into a creek-bed at the left of the green. The ball lodged between two rocks and Fondren fanned before finally jarring it loose. Vickers clamly got down in par for the victory.

Elsewhere around the course, the young blood was running hot, however. Ron Cerruto of San Francisco, the tournament medalist, continued to tame the Broadmoor course as he was even-par for the 15 holes required to oust Dallas Peters of Champagne, Ill., 5 and 3. Sherman Finger, the All-American from USC, stroked a three-under-par round and flattened Craig Metz of Commerce, Tex., 5 and 4.

Houston's hot hands were Marty Fleckman and Randy Petri off the Cougar's National Championship team. Petri has a sensational five-under-par effort for the 13 holes it took him to eliminate Floren DiPaglia of Des Moines, Iowa, 7 and 5. Fleckman was three-under in his 8 and 6 win over R. B. Lau of Lincoln, Neb.

Meanwhile, Fletcher Jones, the veteran from Los Angeles who had been runner-up to Cerruto in the medalist race, was stumbling over Roger Brown of Arkansas City, Kan., 2 and 1. He was one of the day's top casualties, along with Hixon.

Colorado golfers enjoyed a banner day. In addition to Fowler's upset triumph, Ron Moore of Denver posted a 4 and 3 victory over George Boutell of Phoenix, Ariz. with a two-under-par round. Hale Irwin, the state medal play champion; Gary Polumbus, and Larry McAtee, the state match play champ, were all among the winners.

Fowler who capped his smooth round with a 12-foot birdie putt on the 14th hole that gave him the lead, was well-pleased with his effort. "Let's say it was a most satisfying win," the C.U. coach smiled. "I'm sure he is a better golfer than I am, but he has plenty of victories ahead of him."

A glance down the bracket this morning indicated that the entire college group may have a lot of victories in front of them.

Devlin Takes Early Lead In British Open Golf Today

By TOM REEDY

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP)—Bruce Devlin, the former plumber's assistant from Australia, matched par today for the second straight day over the wind-blown old course for a half-way score of 72-72—144 and the early second round lead in the British Open Golf Tournament.

Max Faulkner, last Birton to win the tournament, had his second 73 in a row for 146 as North Sea gales rocked the course as they had Wednesday.

Most of the Americans in the field were among the late starters in the field of 120.

The winds, which were the only thing to break 70 on opening day, returned with a vengeance and the par of 72 seems safe again. Only two men broke it Wednesday, Christy O'Connor of Ireland and Jean Garaialde of France, who had 71s.

Bruce Devlin, the young Australian who was a strong factor in this year's Masters tournament, matched par for the second straight day with 72 for 144.

Devlin, with the wind at his back, slammed his drive to the green on the 381-yard 18th, and two-putted for a birdie three.

Nicklaus dropped a shot to par by three-putting the second hole and never recovered it on the front nine. He turned in 37.

The Ohio Golden Bear played a disciplined game, taking no chances with the big wind that was building up again to the 60-mile an hour bursts it produced Wednesday.

Added to a bright sun, the gusts turned the greens as slick as billiard tables.

Sanders had three straight threes on 7-8-9.

"I played well until I got on the green," he said. "I've always tended to move on a putt, and in wind like this I don't move, I sway."

Sanders flirted with disaster on the 17th, the famous Road Hole, when his second shot landed on the road. But he ran it up stiff to the flag and saved his par four.

Nicklaus drove the 18th green, too, and two-putted for a birdie from 40 feet. He finished 37-37—74 for 150, six strokes back of Devlin.

Finley Denies Athletics Up for Sale

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Charles O. Finley, owner of the Kansas City Athletics, has put a $10 million price tag on his last place American League club, the Milwaukee Sentinel said Wednesday night.

Lou Chapman, Sentinel sports writer, said Finley was contacted in Chicago Wednesday in connection with a rumor originating in Milwaukee that Robert Uihlein and associates were trying to buy the A's if the Milwaukee Braves leave the city.

Uihlein, head of a brewing firm, denied the rumor. Chapman quoted Finley as saying "No one has contacted me about buying the Athletics."

"I'm real happy in Kansas City," Finley said. "The Athletics are not for sale."

The Sentinel story said that when asked "not at any price," Finley replied, "I wouldn't consider selling for less than $10 million — not one cent less. That's the minimum. If someone did offer me that, I'd call a board meeting to consider the bid."

U.S. Women's Golf Tourney Starts Today

By BOB MYERS

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Fifty four of the nation's leading gal golfers, led by defending champion Mary Mills, top challenger Mickey Wright and a young upset threat, Sandra Haynie, teed off today in the first round of the $10,000 United States Women's Open Golf Championship.

Play is at the San Diego Country Club. It has women's par of 36-37—73, measures 6,470 yards of narrow fairways, nice greens, and the rough is toughened up to fit the standards of the U.S. Golf Association, under whose auspices the event is held.

Miss Wright, 29, now plays out of Dallas, but all of her younger years were spent in the San Diego area, and the San Diego Country Club was one of her most - often - played training grounds.

Mickey has won the U. S. Open three times—she did not compete last year—and is obviously favored to capture this 12th annual event staged by the USGA.

Sandra plays out of Phoenix, Ariz., but is a native of Fort Worth, Tex. One of her fondest memories is that another Ft. Worth golfer, a fellow by the name of Ben Hogan, walked in the gallery when as a kid of 12 she played in the Texas women's open.

Pitching Strong Cubs Top Giants; Buhl Posts Win

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

At their current pace, the Chicago Cubs will win only 74 games but may wind up with three 20-game winners.

Bob Buhl became the third member of the Cubs' staff to reach the 10-victory plateau at the halfway mark of the season when he shut out San Francisco 2-0 on four hits Wednesday before the Giants took the second game of the doubleheader 7-2.

Bringing his record to 10-4 with his third shutout, Buhl joined teammates Larry Jackson, 11-5, and Dick Ellsworth, 10-8, as possible 20-game winners and gave the Cubs a shot at duplicating a feat that hasn't been accomplished in the National League in 41 years.

Not since the 1923 Cincinnati Reds has a NL team had a trio of 20-game winners. Adolfo Luque won 27, Pete Donohue 21 and Eppa Rixey 20 on that club. The last American League club to do it was Cleveland with Bob Lemon, Early Wynn and Herb Score, each winning 20 in 1956.

Significantly, neither the Reds nor the Indians won pennants. Both finished second.

The Cubs, however, currently are tied for seventh place—with good reason. While Buhl, Jackson and Ellsworth have accounted for 31 victories, the remainder of the staff has put together only six.

Ernie Broglio, the heralded trade acquisition from the St. Louis Cardinals who was supposed to step in as the No. 4 man, hasn't won as a Cub. He lost his fourth straight as Willie Mays powered his 24th homer for the Giants in the nightcap, called after seven innings because of darkness at the lightless Wrigley Field.

The triumph—ending the Giants longest losing streak of the season at four games—kept second-place San Francisco 1½ games back of the front-running Philadelphia Phillies, who were rained out of a scheduled game with St. Louis.

In the only other game scheduled in either league, home runs by Manny Mota and Willie Stargell triggered Pittsburgh to a 9-1 victory over Cincinnati.

Buhl, 10-4, got the only run he needed in the opener when Joe Amalfitano doubled in the first off Bob Hendley, moved up on a sacrifice and scored on a single by Ron Santo. Billy Williams, who previously had stroked a single and double, wrapped up the scoring in the seventh with his 20th homer.

Buhl also benefited from shodey San Francisco base running. He picked Willie McCovey off second base in the second inning and picked Chuck Hiller off first in the third. Jose Pagan, after doubling to open the fifth, was nailed trying to make third on Del Crandall's routine grounder.

The Giants stormed back in the nightcap, tagging Broglio, 3-9, for five runs and six hits in the first two innings. Mays' homer, with two on in the second, gave him a league-leading 58 runs batted in and proved more than enough support for Ron Herbel, 7-4.

Mota started the scoring for the Pirates with a two-run homer off Jim Maloney in the first and Stargell put it out of reach with a three-run shot in the sixth. Bob Veale, 8-6, and Al McBean held the Reds to four hits.

Sertoma, Rotary Register American Legion 'A' Wins

By CHARLIE DREUX
Gazette Telegraph Sports Writer

Despite a fine performance by pitcher Danny Gieck, the winless Lions team failed to record its first American Legion "A" league victory Wednesday night as the undefeated Sertoma squad pulled its second straight squeaker of the week with a 4-2 triumph over the Lions at Memorial Field.

In the opener Wednesday, Gerry Hughes' Rotary club managed to break the two-team tie for second place in Legion "A" standings when the Rotary aggregation slapped a 6-0 shutout win over the Elks nine.

The two local Legion teams, Rotary and Sertoma, return to Memorial Field Saturday night when they host the visiting Pueblo Legion "A" team. Sertoma will entertain the Pueblo team in the opener at 3 p.m., followed by the Rotary-Pueblo game at 5 p.m.

That same night, the local semi-pro Colorado Springs Athletic Club team attempts to pick up its second win against visiting Jones' Mortuary team from Pueblo. The local semi-pro team, composed primarily of college stars from the Colorado Springs area, downed a team from Ft. Carson, 14-1, two weeks ago and is presently planning to enter the Semi-Pro Baseball Tournament at Hugo, Colo., beginning July 22.

This Sunday's American Legion "A" slate calls for two games. The Elks and Sertoma tangle in the opener at 1 p.m., followed by the Rotary-Lions encounter at 3:30 p.m. Both games are scheduled for Memorial Field.

In Wednesday's games, the Lions came within range of snapping Sertoma's six-game win streak as they loaded the bases in the opening frame. However, the Lions failed to score in that inning.

Bob Torrie was credited with the win for Sertoma. Torrie was tagged for two runs on two hits and the strong right hander encounter control problems as he walked eight Lions batsmen and struck out nine.

Although Gieck was tabbed for five hits, the former Harrison pitching ace struck out 11 and walked four during the six-inning contest. The game was called after six full innings because of the two-hour time limit.

Terry Stillwaugh supplied the stick power for the Sertoma group as the left-fielder collected one hit for two times at bat and scored two runs. Budgie Hamilton, Torrie, and Frank Baird accounted for the additional hits including Jim Smith's triple.

Ted Jones maintained control on the mound for the Rotary group as the fireballing right hander contained the Elks to two hits during the seven-inning contest. Jones walked three and struck out eight to record the win.

Bill Brandt started for the Elks but was relieved by Ray McCaffrey in the fourth stanza. Brandt gave up six runs on nine hits. McCaffrey managed to limit the Rotary group to one hit.

Saints Bombard Lancers; Gardner Hurls One-Hitter

The Broadmoor Rotary Saints bombed the Elks Club Lancers 10-3 and the Braves outlasted the Babe's Market Red Sox 11-7 in a Young America Heavyweight baseball doubleheader Wednesday night at Monument Valley Park.

The unbeaten Saints recorded their fifth straight win behind a 14-hit attack and the one-hit pitching of John Gardner. First-baseman Galen Graham had four singles in four trips to the plate and catcher Jim Cech had a triple and two singles to account for seven of the Saints' hits.

Catcher Frank Nelson had a single, a double and a triple to lead a 10-hit Brave assault against the Red Sox. Centerfielder John Kieth homered for the Braves while third-baseman Mike Schmidt connected for the losers.

The undefeated Rick's Nursery Sioux continued their Vermijo Park winning streak and three abbreviated no-hitters were thrown in Young America League Middleweight baseball Wednesday.

The first-place Sioux downed the second-place Southgate Bank Chiefs 5-2 and the Collier Lumber Eagles stopped the Willis Agency Cubs 9-1 at Vermijo, the Rocky Mountain Electric Red Sox blanked the Bruins 13-0 and the Bums dumped the Pirates 13-2 at Bonney Park.

Phil Puzick of the Red Sox and Gary Ball of the Bums both pitched no-hit ball at Bonney. Puzick stuck-out seven and walked none to hurl the first-place Red Sox to their sixth straight victory. Ball stopped the Pirates in four innings, losing a shut-out on four walks and two errors in the second inning. aCtcher Jim Hendricks had two singles and a double to pace the Bums. Right fielder Stan Rogers had a pair of hits for the Red Sox.

Rick Richner stopped the Chiefs on only two hits to pitch the Sioux to their big win at Vermijo. Centerfielder Ron Parra had a pair of RBI hits for the Sioux.

Denver's WHL Franchise Set For Victoria

SEATTLE (UPI) — Denver's Western Hockey League franchise will be moved to Victoria, B.C., this fall.

League headquarters announced Wednesday that a majority of stockholders of the Denver franchise had voted to make the transfer.

A spokesman for the league said that the Denver club lost "$100,000 or more" last year.

At the league's annual meeting this spring, the club was given six weeks to sell 2,000 season tickets to justify spending another season in Denver. The drive fell short with only about 1,350 season tickets sold.

Victoria played in the Western Hockey League from 1949 until 1961 when the franchise was shifted to Los Angeles.

Pennant Hungry Orioles Set For Twin Bill With Indians

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

When Hank Bauer played in his first of nine world Series, Wally Bunker was four years old.

Bunker is 19 now and is the surprising ace of Manager Bauer's pitching staff in the Baltimore Orioles' drive for their first American League pennant.

Tht Orioles, three games in front of second-place Chicago and third-place New York, battle Cleveland tonight in a doubleheader. Bunker, 8-2, is slated to pitch the second game with Milt Pappas going in the opener.

A $70,000 bonus baby, Bunker got his chance to start earlier this season when injuries fiddled Bauer's staff. Neither Bunker nor Bauer ever could have received a better break.

For Bauer, the break could lead to his first Series since 1958 and his first as a manager. A pennant certainly would be a giant step forward for the former Yankees outfielder who finished in ninth place with the Kansas City Athletics in his first two years as a manager.

The season, of course, is not even half over or the AL contenders. A three-game lead today could be a three-game deficit next week. But the Orioles must be considered a threat to dethroning the perennial champions, the Yankees.

With Bunker leading the pitching staff and Brooks Robinson and Boog Powell pacing the hitters, the Orioles have been in first place except for five days since June 14. They haven't been lower than second since May 19.

They started their present buildup June 23 with a 9-8 victory over the Yankees. The triumph, the first of three straight over New York and the first of seven in a row over-all, was the result of a fantastic seven-run rally in the eighth inning and put them on top of the league.

The White Sox, though, may be frustrated by the Yankee complex. That's the feeling that says Chicago just can't beat New York. The White Sox may not really see it, but it is fact. Ten straight defeats without a victory says it is.

The Yankees, on the other hand, indicated in the last series with the Orioles that it's not time for their pennant drive. After blowing a 8-2 lead in the eighth one night, they came back the next night and lost 7-4 when two errors gave the Orioles three runs in the eighth.

Put that kind of play together with such positive performances as a pair of one-hitters by a 19-year-old like Bunker, and you have a solid reason why Baltimore is in front.

No games were scheduled in the AL Wednesday night, but in the National League, San Francisco dropped a 2-0 decision to Chicago before winning 7-2 and Pittsburgh trounced Cincinnati 9-1.

Bears Outlast Okla. City; Maintain Lead in PCL

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The San Diego Padres are wondering what they have to do to gain ground in the Western Division of the Pacific Coast League. The Pads blasted Hawaii 5-2 Wednesday night for their seventh straight victory but they've made up precious little ground on the Portland Beavers, who just keep winning, too.

Ex-Yankee Jim Coates twirled his eighth win of the season as San Diego plunged hapless Hawaii to its 10th defeat in a row. Tommy Helms' homer ran his hitting streak to 17 games. San Diego wrapped up the contest with three runs in the third on three hits.

Portland stayed 3½ games in front by blasting Spokane 7-2 behind the pitching of Steve Hargan and the slugging of Ray Barker, who knocked in four runs on two singles and a double. Hargan fanned nine Indians.

Denver clung to its half-game lead in the Eastern division by outlasting Oklahoma City 10-9 in a wild slugfest which saw the teams combine for 30 hits.

Denver scored five times in the first and second innings and barely hung on, using four pitchers to stem the 89ers. John Weekly tagged a two-run homer for the losers in the first. The 89ers committed four errors and handed the Bears eight unearned runs.

Costen Shockley and Norm Gigon smashed two homers each as the Arkansas Travelers blasted Indianapolis 13-3. Pat Corrales added a solo homer to the 17-hit Arkansas attack and Gary Johnson connected for the Indians. Shockley's second homer, his 23rd of the season, touched off a four-run seventh inning.

Seattle's light-hitting Rainiers absorbed their seventh straight loss, 3-2, at the hands of Tacoma. The Giants' Al Stanek and Bill Hands collaborated for a two-hitter against the Rainiers. Tacoma scored twice in the sixth on a single by Jose Cardenal and a double by Dick Dietz to wrap up the game.

Tennis Classes At Cheyenne; Begin Friday

Cheyenne Mountain High School has announced it will hold registration for its second four-week session of tennis lessons this Friday, July 10, at the high school gymnasium, between the hours of 8 a.m. and noon.

Classes for beginners, intermediates, advanced and ladies will be filled on a first come, first served basis. Class times will be arranged at registration.

The 12 lessons will cost $10 plus three new tennis balls. All lessons will be held at the Cheyenne courts. Additional information may be obtained from the instructor, Kent Nelson, at registration.

Jones Expects Sooners' Lines To Be Tough

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Oklahoma's new head football coach Gomer Jones, who turned out nine All-America linemen in his 16 seasons as line coach of the Sooners, said Wednesday he'll have two lines capable of playing both offense and defense.

Jones said also that he'll have three backfield units, one of which can play both ways.

Jones took over as head coach from Bud Wilkinson, who resigned last February to run for the U.S. Senate.

One of his biggest problems, he said, is to find a quarterback with passing ability. All Oklahoma's quarterbacks will be back and Mike Ringer is considered the top passer, he said.

Oklahoma lost 25 seniors last year, but Jones, 52, said his staff has recruited a fine crop of freshmen. Several sophomores, he asserted, will be strong.

Navajo Hogan Team Wins Pueblo Softball Tourney

The Navajo Hogan softball team of Colorado Springs has won the Pueblo Invitational Tournament for the second straight year with a come-from-behind rally through the losers' bracket on the final day of play in the 10-team, double elimination tourney in the Steel City last weekend.

The Hogans started out by besting T. P. Black of Cheyenne, Wyo., but then suffered their only loss to Benardo's of Colorado Springs in the second day of action.

On Sunday, the winners had to take five straight games to win the crown. First they measured the T. P. Black nine again, 4-0, then beat Martin Moore Insurance of Pueblo, 5-2, Benardo's in a rematch, 5-1, and then faced the only undefeated team left in the tournament, Allen Dale Pharmacy of Arvada.

The Hogans first beat the Dale team, 3-1, and came back in the final game against the same squad and won 4-2. Pitcher Jim Willey won four games during the final day's action, striking out 58 batters in five games. Bob Gieck did the rest of the pitching for the champions.

Named to the tournament All-Star squad from Navajo Hogan were first baseman Jack Bounds, center fielder Tom Michaels, right fielder Dave Gutierez, catcher Jim Chambers and pitcher Swilley.

This weekend the Hogans travel to Lamar for an eight-team invitational tourney, and the following Saturday and Sunday they will be playing in a 14-team meet at Canon City. In tonight's regular City League play in Colorado Springs, the Hogans are to meet Benardo's in a 7 p.m. game at Memorial Park.

Jack Dempsey Set For Appearance Here

Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight boxing champion of the world originally from Colorado and now of New York City, will appear here in Colorado Springs in early August, it was announced today.

Dempsey has been named "Colorado's All-Time Greatest Athlete" by the local chapter of the International Footprint Association, and is scheduled to receive his award on Sunday, Aug. 9.

The Dad Bruce Chapter of the law enforcement group will greet Dempsey in Denver via motorcade and the famous fighter from Manassa, Colo., will be the guest of the Broadmoor Hotel on Saturday, Aug. 8, according to a Footprint official.

Dan Thornton, former governor of Colorado, will come with Dempsey to Colorado Springs, and Sen. Edgar Chenoweth of Trinidad is expected to fly in from Washington for the presentation. The honor will be given Dempsey at the Ft. Carson Officers' Club and a couple of exhibition bouts are scheduled on the program with Dempsey as referee.

Dempsey confirmed that he will come here Wednesday, while traveling to California where he will help campaign for Gene Tunney's son who is running for state senator there. It was Tunney who lifted the crown from Dempsey's head in the ring.

Born at Manassa on June 24, 1895, where he started his fighting career in 1914, Dempsey defeated Jess Willard at Toledo, O., on July 4, 1919 and became world champion. He held this title until Sept. 23, 1926, when he lost to Tunney. In a return match at Chicago in 1927 he, again, lost to Gene Tunney. All through the years, Dempsey has been fondly called the "Manassa Mauler." Dempsey continued fighting until 1940.

In 1942, Dempsey joined the U.S. Coast Guard and was commissioned a lieutenant commander.

Abe Marylander, local fight promoter, recalls having Dempsey in Colorado Springs to referee a boxing show to promote the sale of War Bonds. The price of the show was the purchase of a bond. Nearly $100,000 in bonds were sold that night.

Governor John Love, Ex-Governor Thornton, Byron Anderson, Colorado secretary of state and Eddie Bohn, Colorado Boxing Commission head are among the 500 that are expected to attend. The dinner will be for Footprinters and their invited guests.

Firemen Nip Phonemen In Softball

The Fire Department edged the Telephone Company 4-2 in eight innings Wednesday night to annex the first round championship in the Industrial League in softball action at Memorial Field.

Denver Equipment outslugged Simms Supers 16-8, City Utilities coasted past the Colorado Springs Silents 17-9, and Phil Long Ford dumped the 425L Gofers 9-2 in second-round Industrial League contests.

Third-baseman John Southcotte singled to drive home second-baseman Leland Kinnex with the winning run in the top of the eighth for the Firemen. Kinnex had led off the extra frame with a double. Catcher Rip Litell singled home first-baseman Lloyd Chamberlin with an insurance tally.

Winning pitcher Howard Gosnell, who stopped the Telephone Company on six hits, led off the seventh inning for the Firemen with a solo home run which gave the Fire crew a 2-1 lead. Owen Renca's one-out double and Len Gammel's single gave the Phonemen the tying run in the last half of the seventh.

The Fire Dpartment finished first round play with an 8-1 record. The Telephone Company has a 7-2 mark.

A three-run homer by John Kuhns and a two-run blast by Harold Atwell powered City Utilities to their win over the Silents.

Left fielder Tony Long slammed a pair of two-run homers to pace Denver Equipment to their victory over Simms Supers. Long also had a triple and walked twice.

Former KC Pitches Near Perfect Game

ANDERSON, Mo. (AP)—Jim Wyatt, once a minor leaguer owned by the Kansas City A's, came as close to a perfect game as it's possible Wednesday night in a semi-pro game.

Wyatt retired the first 26 batters to face him, then struck out the 27th batter but the ball got through catcher Butch Todd and the man reached first. The right-hander retired the next man to preserve his no-hitter.

Jarrett Wins Stock Car Race

MANASSAS, Va. (AP)—Ned Jarrett, limiting himself to only one pit stop, won a two-way battle with Dave Pearson Wednesday night and captured the Northern Virginia 400 late model stock car race at Old Dominion Speedway.

Some 5,500 fans watched Jarrett hold his 1964 Ford in the lead for the first 181 laps after starting on the pole. Pearson took the lead in his 1964 Dodge and held it until the 223rd lap when he made a second pit stop, allowing Jarrett, who made but one pit stop, go into the lead for good.

Jarrett, of Camden, S.C., turned the 400-lap, 135 mile race in 2 hours, 14 minutes, 2 seconds over the 1-3 mile oval.

Pearson finished second and Jimmy Pardue of North Wilkesboro, N.C., was third in a 1964 Plymouth. Buddy Arlington of Martinsville, Va., was fourth in a 1963 Dodge, followed by Curtis Crider of Charlotte, N.C., in a 1963 Mercury.

Fullback Peaks Says He's Glad to Leave Eagles Nest

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Clarence Peaks, the sometimes fullback of the Philadelphia Eagles since 1957, says he is happy to be leaving for the Pittsburgh Steelers after Wednesday's four-player National Football League trade.

"It would be a pleasure to play with 11 guys who are not afraid to hit," Peaks said. "Out there they got 11 guys on the field who want to do a job, not two or three prima donnas trying to get a bigger piece of the pie," he daded.

Peaks and linebacker Bob Harrison were sent to the Steelers for flanker back Red Mack and defensive back Glenn Glass in the sixth deal under the free-wheeling regime of Jo Kuharich, the new Eagles' coach.

"I told Kuharich that I would like to go to Pittsburgh," Peaks said. "In fact, I talked to Buddy Parker (Steelers' coach) and told him I would like to play for him if he could make a trade for me. Kuharich was very helpful. He knew I wanted a change of scene," he said.

The Eagles' first draft choice in 1957, Peaks was the leading ground gainer for the NFL championship team in 1960. But since then he has been repeatedly sidelined with a series of injuries.

A star of Big Ten and Rose Bowl championship teams at Michigan State, Peaks says "I'm a runner and I'm still going to prove I'm a runner. I certainly never got a real chance to prove it here."

Ted Dean, another part-time fullback for the Eagles was traded to the Minnesota Vikings for four players earlier this year.

The heir to the vacated position is Earl Gros, obtained along with all-pro center Jim Ringo from the Green Bay Packers in another Kuharich trade.

Kuharich said that the Peaks-Harrison trade was "designed to strengthen the club's defense and provide a backup man for first-string flanker Ron Goodwin."

Mack, a 5-foot-10, 185-pounder who played one season under Kuharich at Notre Dame, has been an effective deep receiver for the Steelers since 1960 despite surgery on both knees.

Glass has proven a versatile man in his two NFL saesons, playing the corner back position on defense and returning punts and kickoffs. He came to the Steelers from Canada after the Chicago Bears had given up draft rights to the former Tennessee star.

Harrison saw limited action last season because of a neck injury. He was drafted second from Oklahoma by the San Francisco 49ers in 1959 and traded to the Eagles in 1962.

Venturi Sharpens For PGA Open Play

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW ROCHELLE, N.Y. (AP) — The inevitable letdown that comes with winning the National Open golf championship almost has run its course for Ken Venturi, who says, "I feel I'm getting in the pitch again."

"The Round Robin here should be just what I need to get back on the beam," the articulate ironmaster from San Francisco added today. "it's a good tournament and there won't be too much pressure.

"I should be ready for the PGA next week."

The PGA championship opens next Thursday at the Columbus (Ohio) Country Club and Venturi will enter the event as one of the favorites along with defending champion Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer.

Nicklaus is playing this week in the British Open at hallowed St. Andrews and Palmer is tuning up for the only major pro title he hasn't won, but Venturi is sharpening his game in the $25,000 Wykagyl Round Robin here.

This is a mathematical nightmare in which 16 leading pros play each other in a 90-hole, four-day marathon in which the winner is decided on the basis of holes won and lost. Every man plays every other in the field. The winner is the one who winds up with the biggest plus score—most holes won.

Venturi, as Open champion, is the favorite but he will have stern competition from such players as Bill Casper, Gene Littler, Tommy Bolt, Bob Rosburg and Dave Marr.

The first round starts today at 12:45 p.m. EST.

"I had to have a tremendous letdown after winning the Open," Venturi, the onetime Golden Boy of golf, said. "It must have been a greater letdown for me, because the tournament meant so much.

"I was going down the drain. And then that last round of golf (the final round in the sweltering heat of the Congressional Club in Washington last month) changed my entire life.

"The impact on my confidence has been immeasurable. I'm not afraid to hit the ball any more. I feel sure that a bright, new future is ahead of me."

Olympic Rowing Meet Headed for Showdown

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Harvard's bid for its first Olympic rowing berth and California's ambitions for a fourth chance appeared headed for a Saturday showdown after the first trial heats Wednesday at the Orchard Beach lagoon.

Both Harvard and California maintained their unbeaten status by winning handily. They qualified for Friday's semifinals.

However a strong entry from the Vesper Boat Club of Philadelphia also appeared a sturdy challenger to both college eights and the revamped Yale crew also fought its way into the semis.

The four crews will be joined by four more after Thursday's repechage or second chance heats. Only the winners of each of the four repechages will go to the eight-crew semis.

The Laconia, N.H. Rowing Association, which entered three crews made up of collegians from nine different colleges, managed two seconds and a third and may prove formidable. Laconia's A and B crews meet in Thursday's third heat.

Don Spero of the New York Athletic Club, the national champion, and Seymour Cromwell 3rd of the New Rochelle (N.Y.) Rowing Club, also seemed on the way to a winner-take-all meeting in the final.

Two scullers from Philadelphia's Vesper Boat Club, David Knight and Robert Lea 3rd, the winners of the other heats, are expected to be the top challengers.

Jim Storm of the San Diego Rowing Club, whose second place time of seven minutes 19.0 seconds was second best in the trials to Spero's 7:15 also may be a factor in the repechages.

Wayne Frye, a Naval flyer who was No. 7 oar on Navy's 1952 Olympic champs, also gets a second chance. Frye was leading in his heat Wednesday until he hit a buoy about 400 yards from the finish. The first two in each repechage heat will go into the 12-man semis Friday.

The best time for the eights was California's 6:22.4. Harvard was clocked in 6:24.3. The Californians used a fast stroke of 39 to 40 during most of the race and stepped it up to 42 at the finish.

Bob Buhl Could Be Headed for Best Pitching Year Since Braves Hey-Day

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Bob Buhl, the Chicago Cubs' 35-year-old right-hander, could be headed towards his best pitching year since his hey-day with the Milwaukee Braves.

Buhl recorded his 10th victory of the season and his third shutout with a slick four-hitter and a 2-0 decision over the San Francisco Giants in the opener of a doubleheader Wednesday.

Buhl scoffs the suggestion he might become a 20-game winner, topping his best seasons with the Braves — 18-8 in 1956 and 18-7 in 1957.

"The goal I have is to have just a winning season and help this club go further than anybody expected," said Buhl, now in his 12th major league season and his third with the Cubs, who acquired him from the Braves in a 1962 swap for pitcher Jack Curtis.

Buhl, whose 16 starts this season have been marred by only four defeats, has not had a winning season since a 16-9 effort for the Braves in 1960.

In 1961, he finished 9-10. He was 12-13 in 1962 and last season he was 11-14.

"Buhl should have been at least a 15-game winner last year," said pitching coach Fred Martin. "He pitched his heart out every time, but we didn't come up with the runs he needed.

"I'll tell you one thing. He wouldn't give you a good pitch intentionally if he was 20 runs ahead of you."

This season, Buhl missed two turns because of a pulled thigh muscle from stepping on a catcher's mask while trying to cover home plate.

"He's always been good against top clubs like the Giants."

Buhl naturally doesn't suggest he is doing anything differently after all these years of big league pitching.

Kennedy, however, thinks he has changed "a little bit."

"Buhl has changed his pitching pattern somewhat—not his style or delivery. I guess you would call it a thinking process. He now is keeping a guess ahead of the batter. There is no question, though, that he is a little sharper than the past few years."

The Cubs dropped by 7-2 the darkness-curtailed finale of Wednesday's twin bill, played before the largest Wrigley Field crowd of the season — 30,156. Willie May's three-run homer in the second inning clinched the seven-inning contest.

Two Sportsmen In Accidents

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) (AP)—Two professional sports figures are involved in auto crashes in Minneapolis Wednesday night, one of them a fatal accident.

Gert Ohl, 32, of Minneapolis was killed when his car collided with one driven by 28-year-old Jim Marshall, an end for the Minnesota Vikings football team.

Police said three witnesses told them Ohl's car went through a red light. Marshall and a passenger were treated for minor injuries.

The second crash involved a car driven by Jerry Kindall, second baseman for the Minnesota Twins baseball team. He said another car ran a red light just before the collision. Kindall's wife suffered a foot injury.

Tested, Talented Russians Set for Dual With Yanks

MOSCOW (AP) — The Russians are going to Los Angeles with a tested and talented group of men and women for the sixth U.S.—U.S.S.R. dual track and field meet, July 25-26.

Igor Ter-Ovanesyan, holder of the world broad jump record, won't make the trip because of illness, but the Russians again will be represented by world record holders and Olympic champions headed by Valery Brumel.

Brumel set his world record high jump of 7-5¾ at the fifth meet in Moscow last year and has been gearing himself for another outstanding performance at Los Angeles.

The team, announced by the Soviet Track and Field Federation Wednesday, will include 42 men and 18 women. The first group is expected to leave by plane July 15 with the others following the next day.

Soviet officials, who rely heavily on psychology, regard the meet as the key test of the potential of their athletes for the Tokyo Olympics, Oct. 10-24.

The American men have won all five of the meets while the Russian women also have a perfect record. The Russian men, however, have been making it closer each year. The Yanks' winning margin was only five points — 119-114—in 1963.

In addition to the 22-year-old Brumel, Russia's stars include Pyotr Bolotnikov, 34, Olympic and European champion at 5,000 meters; Vasily Kuznetsov, 32, bronze medalist in the decathlon in the 1956 and 1960 Olympics; Vladimir Golubnichy Olympic champion and world record holder in the 20-kilometer (12.5 miles) walk.

And Tatyana Shchelkanova, 27, who set a world record of 21-11¾ in the women's broad jump last Saturday, and the terrific Press sisters, Tamara and Irina. Tamara holds the world record in the shot put and discuss and Irina is the Olympic champion in the 80 meter hurdles.

Dodgers Topple Farm Team

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Ron Fairly slammed a two-run homer and Doug Camilli and Wes Parker each connected with the bases empty Wednesday, bringing the Los Angeles Dodgers a 5-3 victory over their Santa Barbara farm club.

The Dodgers had a shutout until the ninth inning, When Howie Reed was touched for two homers, one by Kenny Washington Jr. with no one on and one by Dennis Marquardt with a man aboard.

Outfielder Willie Crawford, recently signed by the Dodgers for $100,000 and assigned to the Class A Santa Barbara club, singled his first time up and struck out his next three.

Elorde to Prepare For Kosaka Bout

TOKYO (AP)—Flash Elorde, the world junior lightweight champion from the Philippines, will arrive in Tokyo Tuesday to prepare for his title defense against Japan's Teruo Kosaka.

The July 27th match will be Elorde's seventh defense of the title he won in 1960.

Western Tennis In Third Round

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The rain-delayed Western Tennis Tournament went into the third round today with only one seeded player missing.

Ron Fisher of Houston, Tex., seeded No. 5, was defeated Wednesday by David Tate of Kingston, Jamaica, 8-6, 6-2. Tate lost in the second round to Lancellot Lumsden of Kingston,, a West Indies David Cup player, 6-2, 2-6, 6-2.

Top-seeded Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., moved easily through two matches, defeating Stan Malless of Indianapolis and George Sokol of Bryn Mawr, Pa., by the same scores, 6-0, 6-1.

Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., and Northwestern, ousted Henry Whitesell of Indianapolis 6-0, 6-2, and Tom Karp of Los Angeles 6-3, 6-2. Riessen, the Big Ten champion is seeded No. 2.

Third-seeded Charles Pasarell of Santurgo, Puerto Rico the 1962 winner, defeated Fred Drilling of Plaza Del Rey, Calif., 6-3, 6-1, and William Tym of Montville, N.J., 6-0, 8-6.

In women's singles, the four seeded players, led by No. 1 Judy Alvarez of Tampa, Fla., advanced to the quarter-finals without dropping a set.

Ticonderoga Sets Yacht Racing Record

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The 72-foot ketch Ticonderoga, winner of the Los Angeles to Tahiti yacht race, appears to have cut more than 24 hours off the former elapsed time record set by Morning Star in 1961.

The Ticonderoga's unofficial time for the 3,571-mile race was 17 days, 7 hours 27 minutes and 55 seconds, sources at Tahiti said. The yacht arrived there Tuesday night.

The Morning Star's time was 18 days 18 hours.

The Rascal, reported at 690 miles out of Tahiti, could still take first place in corrected time if it arrives within 3 days 19 hours 23 minutes 51 seconds of the Ticonderoga.

WEST JORDAN, Utah (AP)—Utah middleweight Don Fullmer, brother of former middleweight champion Gene Fullmer, signed Wednesday to fight Ron Thompson of Oregon on Aug. 15 in Eugene, Ore.

ILTF Turns Down Pro Proposals

VIENNA (AP)—The International Lawn Tennis Federation again has closed the door on open tennis.

In three sweeping decisions Wednesday, the ILTF turned down proposals to open amateur tennis tournaments to professional players, threatened sanctions against countries refusing to play others for political reasons and decided to ask that tennis be restored to the Olympic program for the first time since 1924.

Two British proposals for open tournaments, supported by France and other countries, were turned down by large votes at the federation's annual Congress. The United States and Australia were strongly opposed to the plans.

The British proposal for open tournaments in general was defeated by 145-79 in the balloting by 70 delegates representing 47 countries. The proposal for open Wimbledon tournaments in 1965 and 1966 on an experimental basis was defeated 151-68.

The Big Four of international tennis—the United States, Australia, Britain and France—had 12 votes each while less important members had fewer votes.

ILTF President John Eaton Griffith said no further action would be taken against the Soviet Union and Hungary, whose players pulled out of Wimbledon matches against South Africans as a protest against South Africa's apartheid policies.

The new rule says that teams or players "shall not withdraw except for reasons of health or bereavement or with the consent of the organizing committee' and offenders "shall have their entry refused for future tournaments."

On the plan for returning tennis to the Olympics, the federation said it would ask the International Olympic Committee to restore tennis to the program in time for the 1968 Games at Mexico City.

Dizzy Dean Told Tone Down on TV

PASCAGOULA, Miss. (UPI)—Sportscaster Dizzy Dean expressed "complete surprise" Wednesday night at a report his sponsor has ordered him to stop praising Mississippi on nationally televised baseball games.

"This is all news to me. I don't know a thing about it," said Dean.

The St. Louis Brewing Company which sponsors Dean's baseball telecasts declined to comment.

Sports Editor Herb Phillips of the Mississippi Press Register reported Wednesday that the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) had threatened a national boycott against the brewing company if Dean didn't quit talking about the "good folks" in Mississippi.

Phillips' story quoted a brewing company employe as saying the CORE directive demanded that "you either refrain Mr. Dean from the discussions of anything favorable to do with Mississippi or Mississippians or you have him chastise his home state and its racial bigots and politicians who have legalized murder and urged rebellion against our laws and Constitution."

Phillips wrote he was told by the brewing company spokesman that the firm had decided to comply with the CORE demand.

Dean said he first heard of the matter when UPI contacted him at his home in Wiggins, Miss., Wednesday night. He said he had been on the golf course most of the afternoon.

"I try to say something nice about everybody and every place, especially Little league teams, whether they're from Arkansas, California or Mississippi," Dean said.

Dean often tells his co-announcer Pee Wee Reese on the baseball games of the week on Saturdays and Sundays that "I'm a Mississippian tried 'n true, podnah." Frequently he reads telegrams from "the good ole folks down thar in good ole Mississippi."

Trotter Gets New Friend: Bill Goat

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Once upon a time there was a very sad horse by the name of Adois Tartan.

His people friends, Don MacFarlane of Detroit who owned him, and the trainers at the Billy Haughton Stable in Orlando, Fla., knew Adios Tartan was a good horse. After all, his daddy, Adois, was a top-flight pacer.

But what was wrong with 2-year-old Tartan?

Perhaps he's lonely, said the horse doctor. So the people friends went and found a playmate for the young bay.

The playmate's name is Billy. He's a goat.

Now Adios Tartan is a happy horse. Billy travels all over with him to the harness tracks where Adios Tartan paces. They share a room and have their meals together.

They are at Sciot Downs in Columbus now and happy Adios Tartan will try to win Friday night's $10,000 Challenge Stakes.

PLAN TO MARRY

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UPI)—Author Budd Schulberg and actress Geraldine Brooks announced Tuesday they plan to marry Sunday at the home here of producer Collier Young.

This will be the third marriage for Schulberg, 49, and the second for 38-year-old Miss Brooks.

Tshombe to Be Named New Congo Premier

By ROBIN MANNOCK

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Moise Tshombe expects to be installed by President Joseph Kasavubu today as head of a provisional government of "national reconciliation" to seek peace in the Congo.

Tshombe submitted a list of ministers to the Congolese president Wednesday night but apparently still did not have a full endorsement from the Congo's many contending political factions.

The former Katanga secessionist leader complained that members of outgoing Premier Cyrille Adoula's government had tried up to the last moment to sabotage him. There also were indications of opposition to Tshombe from other quarters.

But at the end of a day of hectic talks with representatives of all major groups, Tshombe confidently announced he had come up with a cabinet of "new, dynamic and capable men" who had not served in any of the Congo's previous governments.

Tshombe did not disclose the names but predicted Kasavubu would issue a presidential decree installing the new government.

Tshombe said he would need six months as premier to end the armed revolts in Kivu and Kwilu Provinces and in the northern sector of his own Katanga stronghold.

New parliamentary elections are to be called within nine months. The old Parliament died June 30, the fourth anniversary of the Congo's independence from Belgium. Adoula and his ministers remained as a caretaker government.

Tshombe, 44, returned to the Congo two weeks ago after a year of self-exile in Europe. He claimed the support of all major groups for his effort to end hostilities. Kasavugu named him premier-designate on Monday.

Tshombe said he would be premier and also his own foreign minister, information minister and minister of planning and coordination.

Women's College Insists on 'Different' Study

By MARGARET WILSON

ROCK HILL, S.C. (AP)—Winthrop College, South Carolina's state-supported college for women, may be considered a luxury in this age of mass higher education.

Winthrop President Charles Davis strongly disagrees but admits: "I don't know how long we can keep it this way; how long the taxpayers will stand for it."

Davis took over at Winthrop in 1960. He had been quoted as saying: "In my judgment, nothing could be more frustrating than for a woman to find that she had spent four years in college learning how to be a successful man and then have to spend the rest of her life trying to learn by herself how to be a successful woman."

Winthrop, a liberal arts college, has teacher preparation and home economics as its main departments.

It is generally agreed that mounting enrollments and pressure from parents of prospective male students in the Rock Hill area may prompt some modification of Winthrop's admission policy.

Some male students already attend evening classes and summer sessions, taking liberal arts courses. They are not eligible to receive degrees.

Winthrop trustees voted in 1962 to grant degrees to male students who satisfy requirements through only summer and evening classes. A change in state law is necessary to put the proposal in practice.

"We have no problems getting women students," said Walter D. Smith, dean of the college. Winthrop expects an enrollment of 2,410 this fall, an increase of about 300 over last year.

Dr. Smith said the college is operating near capacity but that if necessary its classroom facilities could absorb another 1,000 students providing additional faculty members are hired.

"There is a real opportunity for leadership at a women's college," she said. "Women don't just end up as secretaries of an organization."

"Women have developed faster usually but are hesitant to excel academically on a coed campus for fear of being thought unwomanly," she said.

Winthrop girls have few dating problems, she said, because of numerous exchanges with other colleges.

Mrs. Gibson said most students at women's colleges favor the all-female arrangement.

Mahon Elected Vice President Of Wycon Firm

Robert H. Mahon, 815 Orion Dr., purchasing agent of Colorado Interstate Gas Company, has been elected vice president of Wycon Chemical Co. by the board of directors of Colorado Oil and Gas Corp.

Mahon will be in charge of manufacturing operations of Wycon, which presently is constructing an ammonia plant for the production of nitrogen fertilizer near Cheyenne, Wyo. Wycon is an operating division of Colorado Oil and Gas Corp., a subsidiary of Colorado Interstate Gas Co.

It also was announced that Raymond O. Gibson, 2360 Condor Circle, chief section engineer, has been named chief engineer for the Wycon plant, which is expected to begin production during the first quarter of 1965. Gibson has been project engineer for the construction of the Wycon plant.

Kirkpatrick McCord, 3113 San Luis Dr., assistant purchasing agent for CIG since 1958, has been promoted to take Mahon's post as purchasing agent.

In further alignment of duties within the Colorado Interstate Gas Co. procurement department, it was announced that Worth Stimits, 1428 Bellaire St., assistant purchasing agent, will have supervisory authority in all sections of the department. It also was announced that Gene Hagans, 1100 Main St., Security, a buyer, had been promoted to supervisor of purchasing.

Mahon has been with Colorado Interstate since 1953, when he joined the firm as purchasing agent. Prior to joining CIG, he was employed for a number of years by other firms within the natural gas industry. During World War II, Mahon was a bomber pilot for the U.S. Army Air Force.

A graduate of the Colorado School of Mines, Golden, Gibson joined Colorado Interstate in 1955 as a junior engineer. Previous employment included work with the Texas Company as a gas engineer. Gibson served with the U.S. Army during the Korean conflict.

McCord joined Colorado Interstate in 1953 as transportation manager and later was promoted to assistant purchasing agent. A graduate of Texas A&I, McCord was employed by various Texas construction firms and later by another pipeline firm.

Stimits has been assistant purchasing agent since June, 1962. He joined Colorado Interstate in 1953 as traffic manager and continued in that post until named assistant purchasing agent.

Redus started with Colorado Interstate as an engineer trainee in 1956. A graduate of the University of Oklahoma, Redus became a senior engineer in September, 1963.

Hagans was employed by CIG in 1953 as a field clerk in Boise City, Okla. In 1955 he moved to the general superintendent's office as senior clerk, became chief clerk in 1958 and joined the Procurement department as buyer in 1961.

Birth Control Project Urged For Poor People

BEREA, Ky. (AP) — A New York businessman has contributed $25,000 to finance free sterilization operations for a birth control project in a poor section of Kentucky.

"I'm not a do-gooder," said Jesse Hartman of New York Wednesday. "I just want to help in this fight on poverty."

The six-month pilot program, called the Hartman Plan, is being operated by the Human Betterment Association for Voluntary Sterilization, which was organized in 1937.

The association sets up local programs, accepts applications for sterilization, screens them and refers about one-fourth to physicians cooperating in the program.

Dr. Millard A. Shepherd, a state health officer, is confident the project will lead to sterilization programs elsewhere.

"The purpose of the program is to demonstrate in 22 counties the efficacy of it financially, morally and otherwise," he said.

Those backing the project note several problems they must face:

1. The Roman Catholic Church opposes any means of artificial birth control. Wood said sterilization operations are banned at Catholic hospitals.

2. "Most physicians are in the dark" about sterilization and "hospitals have had many misgivings about the legal issue," Shepherd said.

3. Shepherd said there are men who believe "the only way to prove you're a man is by having children" and they would decline to submit to an operation.

4. Wood said private funds, such as Hartman's, will be used until "the time comes — and it must come — that public health departments and other agencies can appropriate funds for this."

Night Sky Light Measured by Rocket

WALLOPS ISLAND, Va. (AP) — National Aeronautics and Space Administration scientists fired a 65-pound package of instruments to an altitude of 104 miles early today to measure light intensity in the night sky.

Before splashing into the Atlantic 98 miles down range, Sammy — named after Rice University's mascot "Sammy the Owl" — measured the air glow of the flow of charged particles at various altitudes and transmitted the data to ground stations.

The fifth in a series of rocket firings to measure and study the night sky, Sammy was launched for Rice University of Houston, whose professors and students designed and built the experimental package.

Continental Expanding Its Credit Services

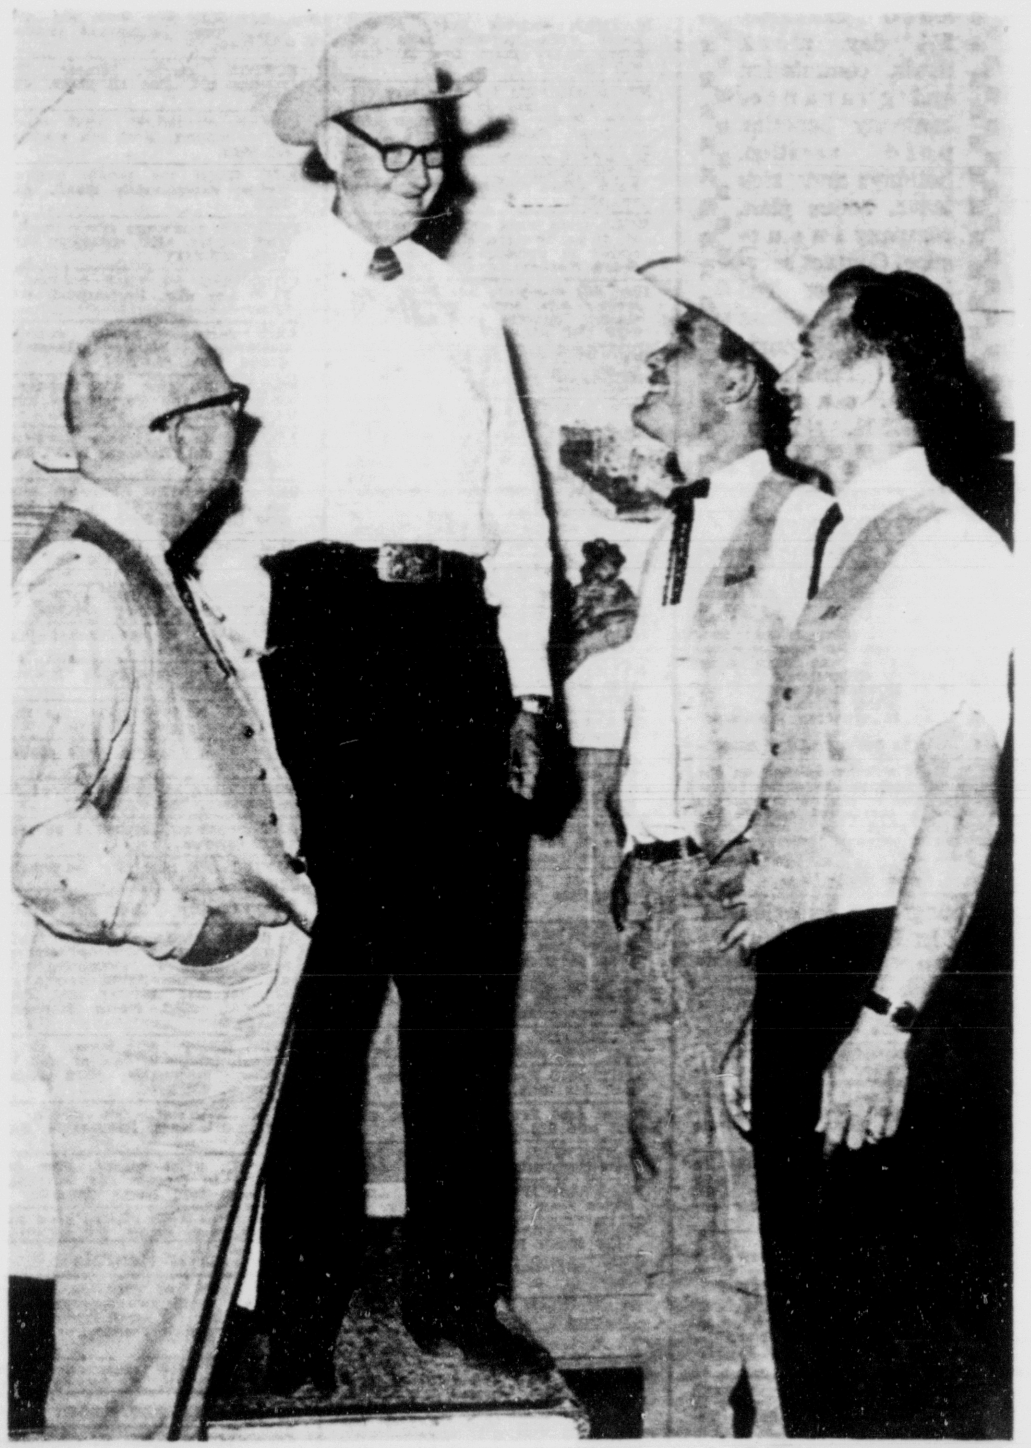
Continental Airlines this summer is greatly expanding its credit services to permit travelers to pay for transportation on a monthly installment basis, it was announced by Marvin L. Davis, vice president - sales.

Under the company's four-point program, extended payment plans will be available to holders of Continental's own System Travel Card, Carte Blanche Card, American Express Card, and BankAmericard.

Continental previously has offered a monthly charge account through the System Travel, Carte Blanche and American Express cards. The agreement with the Bank of America represents the first arrangement between Continental and that firm.

The broadened System Travel card plan went into effect July 1, Carte Blanche and BankAmericard programs are effective July 10, and the American Express expansion will be effective Aug. 6.

In each case, the charge privileges will be applicable to transportation anywhere on Continental's nine - state, 21 - city system, but may not be used for off - line travel.



TALL RODEO MAN — Three Pueblo visitors found out why the Pikes Peak or Bust Junior Rodeo Board (Ramrods) picked L. A. McElhinny as their president. He's just about the biggest man in town! The Puebloans were here to seek support for the forthcoming State Fair at Pueblo, August 24-29. "Big Mac" assured them of local support and gently suggested the Puebloans support the Pikes Peak or Bust Rodeo in Colorado Springs, August 5-8. The trio took one look at sky-high "Big Mac" and snapped a unanimous "Yes, Sir!" Left to right Norvel "Andy" Anderson, McElhinny, Jack Holden and Al Orr, all but "Big Mac," of course, being members of the Pueblo Chamber of Commerce staff. The Steel City group also were invited to join the rest of the public at the Rodeo Street Breakfast in downtown Colorado Springs at 6:30, July 15, at one dollar per head. Everybody's Business

Why Businessmen Do Not Put Up Adequate Defense

By SAM CAMPBELL

Major businesses have all the power that is necessary to protect themselves from the badgering that the Socialistcrats hand out. The question is, why don't they put up a defense?

Socialistcrat Arthur Schlesinger once observed the unwillingness of businessmen to act for their own preservation and listlessness as a "death wish."

Somehow or other, it is difficult to imagine that business people have any desire to be relieved of their investment or livelihood. It is more probable that some combination of one or more of the following reasons account for the modern enterpriser's failure to participate in the manly art of self defense.

First, he may not understand right from wrong or the nature of evil and thus be led to believe that payment of some kind of compromise ransom will diminish the appetite of his harassers for theft.

Second, there is a breed of big-business executive who is satisfied with his place in the "pecking order." Like a hen in the chicken yard, he doesn't mind if some Socialistcrat pecks him if he can pass the peck along to an employe or customer.

Third, the business executive may be a kind of non-government version of a bureaucrat himself and lack the initiative to step out of a familiar and comfortable role to battle with the forces of enslavement.

The second and third of the foregoing reasons arise from defects in character and no number of mere words can contribute anything by way of remedy.

On the other hand, the first and fourth reasons arise from a deficiency of knowledge. Here explanation can be of help. So this column and the next will be devoted to those topics.

First, right and wrong are not the same thing, but two different things. That means they are divided. The means of division is called a principle, or basic law, or sometimes natural law.

In practice, this principle usually is obscured. Right and wrong thus become mingled. The mixture sometimes leads men to say that right and wrong do not exist. And they treat these two different qualities are one quality, just as a mingling of white and black is called gray. But gray is only black and white after the mixing process.

This means one ought not to take the property of another without the consent of the owner. The rule is all inclusive and right to the point.

It does not say the taking of property without consent is lawful under certain circumstances, or if done under the color of law, or if the theft is done for a good cause, or if it was approved by a majority of the eligible voters, or if it is done by the government or some other group instead of by an individual thief, etc.

No, the ban enjoins all theft in all forms. It enjoins theft under all circumstances, even under the pressure of what some may deem to be a necessary evil.

Only when the businessman understands "thou shalt not steal" in its completeness and finality will he be able to explain to others the injury he suffers at the hands of the Socialist marauders.

'Man in Middle' Faces Decisions At GOP Meet

By ARTHUR EDSON

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Melvin Laird, a tall, bald, mild mannered congressman from Marshfield, Wis., who is chairman of the GOP Platform Committee, is the Republican in the middle today.

Those who hope Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania will somehow, someway overtake Sen. Barry Goldwater in the chase for the presidential nomination next week have made his committee their target.

In one way, Laird's job is simplified. In theory he's neutral. Politically, his heart belongs to Rep. John W. Byrnes, Wisconsin's favorite son, although this romance may not last through the first ballot.

"Let's get on with the business."

For Laird, this is old stuff. Although he's only 41, he was on the GOP Platform Committee in 1952, 1956 and 1960.

"This is the most important work that the Republican convention has to do," Laird says of his committee's task.

But Goldwater, the front-running candidate, has repeatedly said that he doesn't think much of platforms, that he thinks both parties ignore them once the elections are over and that he prefers a statement of general principles.

Delegates rarely speak of writing a platform, by the way. Almost invariably they said Wednesday that the platform would have to be hammered out.

But whether the committee is busy hammering or yammering, so far Mel Laird has managed to keep smiling.

Penney's June Sales Rise 15.1% to Peak

The department store chain reported sales of $156,176,843 against $135,687,820 last year, an increase of $20,489,023.

"Unusually strong" buying activity was noted for Father's Day with traditional gift items faring well. There was continued strong demand for summer apparel, especially sportswear and swimwear, as well as other merchandise for vacation use.

While this June had 26 shopping days one more than a year ago, there were only four Saturdays compared with five during the 1963 month.

Sales for the first five months of the 1964 fiscal year which began on Feb. 1 amounted to $706,695,265 compared with $618,664,200 in 1963, an increase of $88,031,065 or 14.2 per cent.

WOMAN SUES

DENVER (UPI) — A woman who slipped last March on a Stapleton Field walkway filed a $50,000 suit Wednesday against the City of Denver, Braniff International Airways and a contractor. Mrs. Mabel Leonora From of Venango, Neb., said the city and Braniff were negligent in failure to post warning signs. She charged water dripped from a walkway superstructure erected by Gerald H. Phipps Inc. of Denver. The woman broke her right leg in the fall.

Red China, Romania To Extend Cooperation

VIENNA, Austria (AP)— Communist China and Romania have agreed to expand cooperation in scientific and technical fields.

Radio Bucharest said Wednesday that the agreement called for the exchange of data and analyses in the oil, chemical and food industries and in agriculture.

The signers were U Hen, vice president of the Chinese Commission for Science and Technics, and Cioroiu Raducanu, Romanian deputy minister for chemical industries.

The agreement appeared to be another indication of Romania's growing independence of the Soviet Union. Romania has balked at the Kremlin's attempt to relegate it to the role of an agricultural producer for the Soviet bloc.

Romania has tried to increase its trade ties with the West as well as with Red China in an effort to speed Romanian industrialization.

Restaurant Man Pulls Gun to Chase Negroes

By KATHRYN JOHNSON

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A restaurateur who pulled a pistol to chase away three Negroes, says he has since been receiving financil support from over the country to aid his legal fight.

"Only today, a businessman walked in with $100," Lester Maddox said. "It's not primarily merchants who're sending in money, but they're the ones who've got the most to lose by integrating."

Maddox, 48, refused to say how much he has received since last Friday, when three Negroes tried to eat at his restaurant.

"We don't have much money yet but it's increasing daily," he added, "and it shows a wonderful expression of support."

When the Negro technological students attempted to integrate the restaurant, Maddox drew a pistol and provided ax handles for his customers and employes.

"I'll go to jail before I integrate," Maddox said. "And I'll take any suit all the way to the U.S. Supreme Court to see if Lester Maddox is right or the Constitution is dead."

After hearing conflicting testimony as to whether Maddox pointed a pistol at the three students, a Fulton Civil Court judge said Wednesday there was "a justifiable issue" for a jury to decide.

Maddox was ordered held for trial in criminal court under $1,000 bond.

The restaurant owner said his business has increased 25 to 40 per cent in volume since Friday.

He said he has often told merchants, other restaurant owners, bankers and various businessmen that he needed their help in putting across his program.

HOME FLOORING

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — A Pittsburgh construction firm has introduced a new method of attaching home flooring which eliminates cracked and buckling floors and even does away with the squeaks.

The new adhesive lamination process for subflooring and underlayment used by Ryan Homes Inc., virtually eliminates lateral movement, the major cause of damage to resilient floor coverings. The process, using an adhesive called Floor Lok, developed by National Starch and Chemical Corp., provides a seamless wall to wall subflooring.

Cascade News

By CAROLYN McADAMS — MU 7-9065

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Tesker of Cascade are Mr. and Mrs. Norman Law and son Ronald, of Chicago, who are visiting here for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Heinz and children Mike and Sara, of Salt Lake City, Utah, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gil Nixon for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rollin and children Dianne, Lindsay, and Randy of Montreal, Quebec, Canada, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Dick Wilson, formerly of Cascade, now of Colorado Springs. The Rollins plan to spend a few days in Colorado and then journey on to California to visit other relatives.

Both Frank and Nick Sanborn "lucked out" this year in the Peak Hill Climb. Frank when he failed to complete the race and Nick when his Sting Ray blew a tire two miles from the finish line thus putting him in seventh place in the sports car division.

The Friday night pictures in the Community Building were by Elmer Tesker of Cascade. The theme of the pictures was "The Four Corners," which showed area scenes of Utah, New Mexico and Colorado, the only place in the United States where corners meet exactly and at right angles. Pictures next Friday night will be entitled, "A Fire Called Jeremiah" and will include a lecture.

Leaving June 22 and returning July 2, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Ernst and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Romero drove to Las Vegas, Nevada, where they vacationed for two days. From there they traveled to Lake Tahoe, Sacremento, Calif., and Reno Nevada. At Lake Tahoe, Ray Romero visited his brother Frank, whom he had not seen for four years. The Romeros brought back with them their niece Elsie, who will be their guest for several weeks. Mr. Romero's brother Frank is the chef at Harvey's Club at Lake Tahoe.

The George Kaufmans and son David vacationed during the past few weeks, beginning with a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Hans Mendelson in Indianapolis, Ind. From there it was to Washington D. C. for three days of sightseeing, then on to New York and the World's Fair for 13 days of thrills and excitement. Traveling to Michigan for a five-day visit with friends and relatives, George returned home last week. Nadja and David Kaufman have remained in Michigan for another two weeks.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Fravell are Mr. and Mrs. Case of Marion, Kansas; Mrs. Olive Hoffman, Mission, Kansas; and Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Ward, Garden City, Kansas.

Hospitalized last week in Penrose Hospital with pneumonia was Elizabeth Pole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pole.

ASPINALL SPEAKER

BASALT, Colo. (UPI)— Rep. Wayne Aspinall, D-Colo., will preside over ceremonies July 19 to mark construction of the Ruedi Dam on the Fryingpan River. Aspinall is chairman of the House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee. The program marks beginning of construction of the key unit in the $170 million Fryingpan-Arkansas transmountain water diversion project.

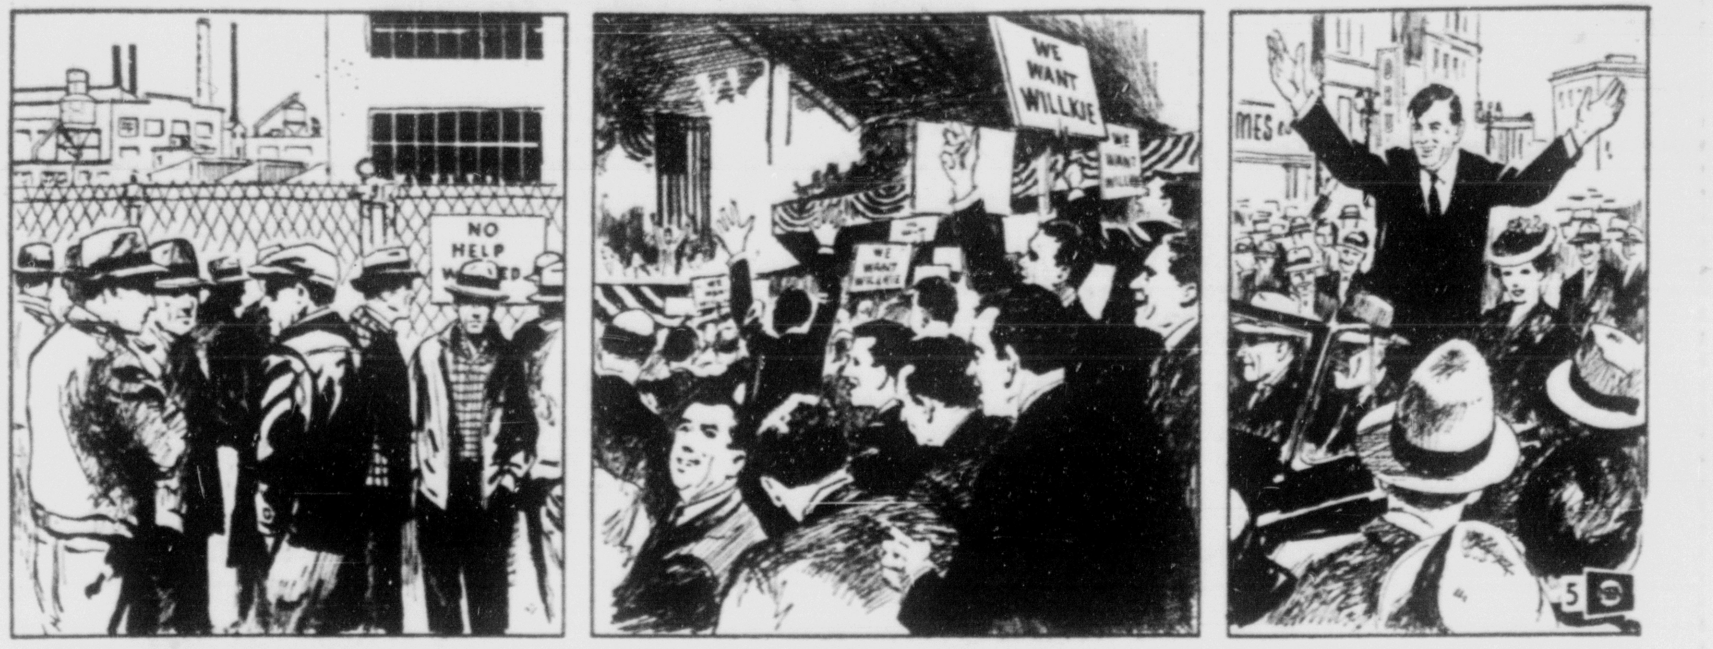
CONVENTIONS AND CRISES/The Republicans

by Don Oakley and Ed Kudlaty



In 1940, the Republicans had real hopes of ending their eight-year drought and flushing Franklin D. Roosevelt and his whole New Deal crew out of Washington.

First, the Depression had staged a comeback in 1937 and still wasn't licked. The mid-term elections in 1938 had shown a definite swing toward the Republicans. The "phony war" in Europe had turned very real and deadly and millions of Americans were encouraged to look upon the GOP as the "peace party." Then there were all those who would simply vote against any man with gall enough to run for a third term.

The nominee who would emerge from the convention in Philadelphia that June would probably be Thomas E. Dewey, the young, gangbusting D.A. from New York who was going into the convention with over 300 votes in his pocket. Other strong contenders were Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio and Sen. Arthur Vandenburg of Michigan.

There was also a fellow named Wendell Willkie, Indiana lawyer and Wall Street corporation president. He was called a dark horse, but as convention time neared, his complexion had lightened considerably.

The old-line conservatives didn't want him, however. He was a glad-handing liberal who had been, until recently, a registered Democrat. But as the delegates assembled, signs of a real grassroots movement for the Indiana amateur became evident.

Dewey shot his 360 votes on the first ballot (501 were needed to win) and thereafter receded. Harold Stassen, governor of Minnesota, managed Willkie's campaign on the floor and wisely held back Willkie's full strength. As second, third, fourth and fifth ballots were taken, punctuated by constantly erupting chants from the galleries of "We Want Willkie! We Want Willkie!", the tally for Willkie steadily swelled.

On the sixth ballot, he had the nomination with 659 votes, which was quickly made unanimous. Sen. Charles McNary of Oregon, who was against everything Willkie was for, was chosen as his running mate.

It was "The Barefoot Boy from Wall Street" vs. Roosevelt, the Old Pro. At the end of a campaign that started blandly and turned bitter, Roosevelt won 38 states to Willkie's 10. Willkie could hardly believe it.

It wasn't the same kind of landslide that had obliterated Alf Landon in 1936, but it was bad enough.

NEXT: Some Didn't Like Ike

CAPITOL STUFF

By TED LEWIS

Washington — Those underpaid, overworked servants of the people comprising the 535 members of House and Senate are about to send to the White House a bill giving themselves a big fat pay raise.

It was about time they decided to take care of themselves and their families. They haven't had a pay increase since 1955. Anybody who has lived in this capital for a year or more knows that it is impossible to make both ends meet at home, and put on the required social splash on a Congressman's pay of $22,500 a year.

So why should Congress act with the embarrassment it has displayed in debating the pay hike? Especially as it is definitly questionable that the $7,500 a year increase is going to be enough to provide such normal luxuries as roast beef once a week and an extra car for junior.

In our book, no senator or representative should find it awkward in a reelection campaign to defend his vote for more money for himself.

All he has to say is that while he has always been willing to serve the people at considerable financial sacrifice, he is sure that the voters appreciate the fact that he is a most important cog in the federal power structure and $22,500 isn't what it used to be in purchasing power.

So here was a bill sent to Congress by the President that provided for pay increases of $4,500 for top rank bureaucrats now making $20,000 a year, of $7,000 for Cabinet officers, upping them to $32,500 and of salary hikes which would give Supreme Court justices $42,500 instead of $35,000.

Isn't a member of Congress as important, or close to being as important as a member of the Cabinet or of the Supreme Court? That question might be posed in a campaign defense of the Congressional pay hike. As Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-S.C.) told the Senate during consideration of the bill, members require $30,000 a year minimum just to maintain their "prestige, dignity and status."

MORE GOES OUT THAN COMES IN

It is unfair to label the pay bill a Congressional anti-poverty measure, but several congressmen have been willing to seek public sympathy by detailing their grim financial plight.

Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La.) produced his income tax return to show that for one recent year he was $4,000 in the red. He made a convincing appeal for being able to make at least "a few dollars out of the job."

Or take a look, and shed a tear for Sen. Frank Church (D-Idaho). Before he came to the Senate eight years ago he had $15,569 in savings accounts. The balance is now $6,800. The trouble, according to Church, is not the salary, but the expenses.

He has a point. As Sen. Winston L. Prouty (R-Vt.) argued in the Senate: "People throughout the country have a feeling that the salaries which we receive as members of Congress are high enough to enable us to live luxuriously."

Prouty said they fail to realize and appreciate "the tremendous burden" of Senatorial expenses.

SALARY ISN'T THE LURE OF CONGRESS JOBS

There are the heavy campaign expenses, he said, plus a Congressman's expenses for "entertainment of his constituents, for his travel and in many other ways — expenses which no business or professional man is faced with."

Prouty then laid it on the line: "We knew what the office paid when we sought it."

That is the crux of the pay issue. No member of Congress sought the job in the first place because it paid $2,500 a year. And no future candidate for House and Senate will be tempted much by the $30,000 salary the job will pay beginning next Jan. 1.

Those now in Congress wanted to be there because it was a prestige job, packed political power, and was the road to success as a big shot public servant. In some cases there was the idea of service to the nation. In all cases it was not the money that counted, so why do any members have a right to bleat at any time about the size of their take-home pay?

To be forthright about it, any Senator or Representative finding himself short of cash to meet mortgage payments or his daughter's sorority dues, knows full well that moonlighting pays off in a big way, once one is in Congress and attains a certain prominence.

THERE'S GOL DTO BE HAD IN SIDELINES

There are lobbyists eager to butter up any Congressman by passing on a sound tip on a stock that's about to soar, or on investing in a company with the inside track on a defense contact.

Then there are those "honorariums" for speeches before civic clubs, college audiences, or the Society to Send Milk to the Hottentots. These appearances pay from $100 up to $3,000.

Extra cash is also easy to pick up from magazine articles. If the Congressman lacks skill or the time to put pen to paper, he can let one of his aids do the job and all he has to do is put his name under the title.

It is definitely not unethical to put the bite on organizations back home with a legislative ax to grind. They are always glad to contribute to help defray office expenses above a Congressman's salary and allowances.

If senators like Long and Church are having financial troubles it is because they are not taking advantage of opportunities loudly pounding at heir door.

They have a cushy job anyway, and they should appreciate it. As Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis.) has said, there is a big nonmonetary reward and great satisfaction in just being in the Senate, "being one's own boss and able to work in accordance with one's own conscience."

ATHENS—Greece's new king may sell some royal holdings.

Did you think of Canada Dry first? That's natural. After all, Canada Dry Ginger Ale is the original pale dry ginger ale.

It was first made back in 1906. It's the perfect blend of costly ingredients plus pinpoint carbonation that gives it Special Sparkle. That's what keeps it so lively right down to the bottom of the glass. Since 1906, over 20 billion bottles of Canada Dry Ginger Ale have been poured. Today, it's bottled in 331 plants in 57 countries.

CANADA DRY

Say, if you didn't think of Canada Dry Ginger Ale first—where have you been since 1906 anyway?

How to Keep Well

By DR. T. R. VAN DELLEN

TEEN-AGE ACNE

Acne is normal during adolescence but it need not be the tragedy of youth. When teenagers have pimples and blackheads galore, along with deep abscesses and scars, the condition is abnormal. The cause usually is total neglect, overtreatment, or too much squeezing. These boys and girls have a true disease rather than a passing annoyance.

The deeper the pustules extend into the skin, the greater the chance of developing scars. Heat should be applied so that the pimples can come to a head spontaneously. Deeper abscesses must be lanced, to minimize scarring. Squeezing is taboo.

There are many causes of acne but in general, the oil secreting glands are too active. The result is greasy skin and enlarged pores. Cleanliness is the first rule in eradicating the eruption. Washing the face three times a day removes bacteria, oil and dead skin. Ordinary soap is used except in the more severe cases, which require a detergen tsoap such as Acne-aid or one containing hexachlorophene: or skin cleansers like Brasivol or Fostex. A medicated pad is available for day time use. Its content of salicylic acid and alcohols is designed to cleanse the skin and keep down excessive oiliness.

The second recommendation is to apply a cosmetically acceptable product that leads to slight peeling of the skin. Creams or cakes containing sulfur are popular and are effective when applied twice a day, especially at night after washing the face. Treatment should not be discontinued when the skin becomes dry: this can be alleviated with a cream such as Nivea.

Pustules are caused by bacterial invasion of the hair follicles. Antibiotics are used occasionally but the results usually are temporary. Vaccines also are available to build up immunity against the causative organisms.

The relationship between diet and acne is a moot question but it is logical to avoid any foods that aggravate the skin lesions. Maintain good health by ample sleep and out of door activities. Sunshine helps to dry the blemishes.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if a stamped, self - addressed envelope accompanies request.

Arthritis From Infections

D. L. writes: What is infectious arthritis?

Reply

A form of arthritis caused by the invasion of a jont by a specific organism. It differs from the aching in the areas of joints that occurs when an individual has a cold or following the use of a vaccine.

Mental Retardation

M. B. writes: Are all mongoloids considered idiots?

Reply

No—and this is why the term, mongolian idiot, has been discarded. Mongoloids usually reach a mental age of 6 or 7. Send stamped, self - addressed envelope for leaflet on mongolism.

Cause Of Bleeding

B. A. writes: Could bleeding hemorrhoids become cancerous if not attended to?

Reply

No. But consult your physician to determine whether the blood is coming from hemorrhoids or from cancer of the rectum.

Same As Before

M. M. writes: Is it true that the heart of a man who has recovered from coronary thrombosis can become as good as before the heart attack?

Reply

Hanover News

By MRS. RUTH CHISMAN

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Porter and family are expected this week from Panama Canal zone, to visit relatives here. The Porters have been in that area for the past two years and are on a two months' leave. Then they plan to return for two more years.

"Happy Birthday" was sung to Ninetta Vette and Naoma Kerlin at the Sunday School hour. Nellie Dickson's birthday was also honored.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Akerman and daughter, of Gill, Colo., spent Sunday with the Claude Vette family.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Christian of Greeley, who have a baby son, born Sunday, July 5.

Mr. and Mrs. Wasson and family, of Dodge City, Kan., sister of Rosa Baker, spent from Thursday night until Sunday with the Bill Baker family.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Reble, David and Mark, of Colorado Springs, spent Sunday, July 5, with the W. D. Rebles.

Dennis Chrisman turned cowboy Sunday and rode his horse to within six miles of his grandparents' from Colorado Springs. He wanted to pasture his horse out while he is away on vacation. We expect Dennis is pretty stiff after the long ride. Charles Chisman picked up horse and boy and brought them in. Dennis stopped by the Bill Hammers, where he and horse were. Both served refreshments in true western style.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Kerlin and Naome, of Colorado Springs, visited the Hanover community Church Sunday morning. Rev. Kerlin delivered the message. Services were held Sunday evening and Glen Wilcox delivered the evening message. Mr. and Mrs. Wilcox and four children of Security, were visitors Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Chisman and Grace Finch joined Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chisman, Marvin and Ramona of Pueblo, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chisman and Dennis and Laura Gehrung and Myra Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Chisman, Brenda and Sheryl and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hogue of Honolulu, Hawaii, who are on a year's tour of the States with their trailer. Paul and Carol became friends of the Hogues while stationed in Hawaii. This group all joined Mr. and Mrs. Paul Geist and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Neal and girls at a fourth of July picnic up West Creek Valley, and in the evening the Mr. Hogue showed movies of the Islands and his travels since last December in the States at the Paul Geist home, where they all gathered to see these wonderful pictures. Mr. and Mrs. David Geist and girls, also Ronnie and Bobby Geist and Linda Crosby also enjoyed the pictures and at the Geist patio also homemade ice cream and fireworks.

Word was received from Mrs. T.J. Bruce of Fountain that T.J. was moved to the Garden of the Gods Nursing Home from Penrose Hospital about 10 days ago. He is still gravely ill, and prayers go out to the Bruce family in this time of need.

The fund for the inside rest rooms at the Hanover Community Church has reached a little over $190 at present. So it's growing. They will be installed later on. These are being built through the donations of money and laobr.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Reble and little David, son of Billy Reble, visited at the W.D. Rebles the evening of the Fourth and had some fireworks. David spent the weekend with his grandparents.

The Fred Days spent the evening of the Fourth of July with friends in Security.

'Spies' Turn Out to Be Just Sea Turtles

PORT CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Reports of unathorized divers around two nuclear Polaris submarines set off a port-wide search Tuesday.

Two Navy frogmen spotted what they thought was another diver while inspecting underwater electronic attachments on the hulls of the submarines Daniel Boone and John Adams. Civilian divers and an FBI agent joined in the search.

After several hours, they agreed the intruders were not spies. Just some large sea turtles.

ALLOTMENT INCREASED

DENVER (UPI)— The Colorado Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service said Tuesday the state's 1965 wheat allotment had been set at 2.4 million acres—8,255 above that of this year. Wheat allotment for the nation was unchanged at 49.5 million acres.

VISITS WORLD'S FAIR

Nationalists Continue China Reconnaissance

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The Chinese Nationalist air force said today it would continue reconnaissance flights over Communist China despite the loss of another U2 plane, the third claimed by the Communists.

Peking radio said the high-altitude U2 was shot down at noon Tuesday. There was unofficial speculation in Taipei that the plane had been downed by a ground-to-air missile, but the Nationalist air force would say only that it "met with an accident."

Sweet treat recipe from Adele Holly, Director Holly Sugar Kitchens

COCONUT CHIFFON CUPCAKES

2¼ cups sifted cake flour
1 cup HOLLY sugar
2¼ teaspoons baking powder
(Double Acting)
1 teaspoon salt
⅓ cup salad oil
1 cup milk + 2 tbsp.
1½ teaspoons vanilla
2 eggs, separated
½ cup HOLLY sugar
1 3½-ounce can flaked coconut

Sift together flour, 1 cup sugar, baking powder, and salt into mixing bowl; make a well in dry ingredients. Add salad oil, half of the milk, and the vanilla; mix to blend. Beat 1 minute at medium speed on mixer. Add remaining milk and the egg yolks. Beat 1 minute. Beat whites till soft peaks form, gradually add ½ cup sugar and beat till very stiff peaks form; fold into batter. Place paper bake cups in muffin pans; fill ½ full. Sprinkle coconut on tops. Bake in hot oven (400°) 12 to 15 minutes or till done. Makes about 3 dozen.

Florissant News

By MRS. BEN GARVER

Bumper to bumper traffic poured into this area over the holiday weekend, seeking relief from the heat. There were scarcely camping spaces available for all the visitors at Eleven Mile Canon and the Eleven Mile Reservoir resembled a small city for a few days.

Recent guests at the Ira Moreland home have been Kelly and Cliff Coley and Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Moreland of Colorado Springs. The Otie Crafts of Denver and Mrs. Dutch Coleman and Sharon, of Jefferson, were Sunday guests. Marilyn Mathews has been house guest of Mrs. Jesse Morland of Colorado Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Harbert, of Kansas City, Mo., visited friends here last week. Mrs. Harbert is the former Diane Robbins, daughter of the Neal Robbins.

Larry Warling is presently here from Dallas, Tex., on vacation, visiting the Emil Warlings.

Mrs. Dorothy Erb and Mr. and Mrs. Alan Erb and Missy of Colorado Springs spent the holiday weekend visiting the Bill Watts at Nucla, Colo. Zane and Debbie Watts, who have been visiting Mrs. Erb, returned home to Nucla.

Miss Carol Swisher of Ozark, Ark., arrived last week to work here over the summer months.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Garver visited the Pearlie Rideouts of Canon City and picked cherries. They also visited Mrs. Frank Duniel. Pearlie Rideout is presently improved in health.

The Luke Madoles joined the Billy Manuels and the Larry Madoles in a pleasant picnic at Elkhorn on the Fourth.

Sympathy is extended to the Ira Morelands as Mr. Moreland's sister, Mrs. Tressa Owen, of Calhan, died. Services were held last Friday. The John Caylors were called to Grand Island Nebr., as the Caylors' brother died.

Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Wamsley arrived here from Wichita, Kan., to spend the summer at their Lake George home. They are looking forward to the arrival of their daughter and family from Texas.

Mrs. Kate Jones, of Columbus, O., is visiting her daughter and son-in-law, the Jack Rodgers.

The dining room of the Thunderbird, operated by Gene Clare, opened for summer visitors Saturday. Mrs. Wylie Barr, a cook of long experience, is in charge.

Mrs. Zane Harper and Mrs. Ethel Wagoner visited at the Loren Wagoner ranch near Yoder one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Parns and Mrs. Gladys Gilley were business callers to Canon City Thursday.

Mrs. Anne Barber and children, of Oklahoma, a former resident, visited Florissant friends last week.

Goldwater 'Not Worried' About GOP Platform

By WALTER R. MEARS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater isn't worried about the Republican party platform, his campaign director said today.

Denison Kitchel said in an interview he doesn't think the forces opposing the senator in his front-running bid for the GOP presidential nomination have enough delegate strength to win adoption of platform planks aimed at embarrassing the Arizonan.

Goldwater takes his conservative case to the resolutions committee Friday morning. He will fly to San Francisco Thursday.

Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton has demanded platform planks repudiating "extremist groups of both the left and the right" with a specific condemnation of the John Birch Society; and declaring the constitutionality of the new Civil Rights Act.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller seconded those proposals before the committee in San Francisco Tuesday but stopped short of calling for specific condemnation of the Birch Society.

Goldwater has said he disagrees with the leaders of the Birch Society, but declared in San Francisco March 15. "I will take the support of any American who is not a Communist."

He voted against the civil rights bill on constitutional grounds.

Kitchel said a plank affirming constitutionality of the new law would be ridiculous because that is a judicial question, not a political one.

He said the suggestion that extremist groups be denounced would turn the platform into a long list of organizations.

"If they start it they ought to list them all," he said. "Any of these groups that won't fight or won't pray or won't do this, that and the other."

Kitchel said the two proposals "don't have enough substance" to win adoption.

The Goldwater campaign chief said he expects the platform plank on civil rights to offer a broad expression of the party's stand on equality, then mention the present law and declare it will be enforced.

"That's the most reasonable and appropriate thing," he said.

Goldwater is known to hold that view. Aides said he planned to spend the day working and relaxing at his Washington apartment.

NEW DELHI (UPI)—One person was killed and 25 were injured Monday when police fired into a crowd of rock-throwing students in the town of Nirmal, the Press Trust of India reported today.

The news agency said the incident occurred when students demonstrating against a local shopkeeper became violent and police were sent in to disperse them. The shopkeeper was believed to have beaten up a reporter.

In the summer and fall of 1964, the services of the main reading room of the Library of Congress are transferred to the Thomas Jefferson Room in the annex. A new heating-ventilating system is being installed in the reading room.

Romney, Lodge Influential in Platform Work

By LEWIS GULICK

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Two prominent Republicans who once figured in speculation for the 1964 presidential nomination tell platform writers today what pledges they think the party should make in the coming campaign.

Henry Cabot Lodge and Gov. George Romney, who say they are not available, were the scheduled star witnesses as the GOP platform committee reached mid-point in its pre-convention week of hearings. Thursday and Friday the avowed candidates, Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton and Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, take the stand.

The 1960 Republican vice presidential nominee and ambassador to the United Nations during the Eisenhower administration, Lodge resigned as ambassador to South Viet Nam last month after nearly a year in the job under the Johnson-Kennedy administrations. He said he was returning to push Scranton for president.

So far foreign policy has not been the bone of much contention among the string of GOP platform witnesses. In general, the Republican speakers have attacked what they label as President Johnson's vacillation and expediency in handling foreign affairs.

Lodge, however, has maintained that the campaign against Red guerrillas in South Viet Nam is on the right track and can be won if the Washington and Saigon governments keep at it.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, now boosting Scranton after dropping out of the presidential race himself, jabbed indirectly at the front-running Goldwater on both foreign and domestic issues in speaking to the plank writers Tuesday.

But Goldwater's representative on the platform group, Arizona Rep. John J. Rhodes, said afterwards "I thought he (Rockefeller) showed a wide area of agreement among Republicans."

Ohio Rep. William M. McCulloch, chairman of the platform panel which heard civil rights witnesses Tuesday and an architect of the new law, said he believes there is still room between the Goldwater and Scranton positions to work out wording endorsing the law.

Press aide Ed Nellor said after talking with Goldwater by phone that he could report the senator "is not fighting with anybody on anything" as far as the platform is concerned.

Goldwater voted against the civil rights bill in the Senate, saying major parts of it are unconstitutional. He says he would enforce the law as president because that is the chief executive's duty.

The platform group's executive committee held its first meeting Tuesday night and authorized drafters to start work on the document.

Loatian Premier Warned by Commies

"Of late, Prince Souvanna Phouma has vilified China in one speech after another," the Peking People's Daily said. "We must tell Prince Phouma in all seriousness that it is very dangerous for him to continue along this way."

BEES TALK BY SMELL

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The language of the bees includes chemical reactions. Scientists at the University of California report that chemical messages are released and dispersed effectively in the close confines of hives, and even work out of doors.

"With bees, the dominating chemical message at any moment largely determines the society's behavior," says Dormar E. Gary of the UC Department of Entomology.

Shaking Motorist's Ears Lead to Suit

WINCHESTER, England (UPI) — Farmer Douglas Wilshire, 48, has filed a claim for damages against constable Dennis Barrett charging the police officer shook him by the ears when he arrested Wilshire for speeding.

"He grabbed one ear in one hand, one ear in the other and shook madly. My ears almost came off," Wilshire said Friday.

During World War II, at the height of meat rationing, a Texas shipyard used bananas instead of grease to prepare the ways on which new ships slid into the water.

Polaris Submarine Deployed by U.S.A.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has deployed its 16th Polaris missile-firing submarine.

The Woodrow Wilson, packing 16 nuclear-tipped rockets with a range of 1,725 miles, went on patrol in the Atlantic over the July 4th weekend, it was learned.

Moonport Slowdown Ended by Strikers

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —A full work force was expected to report today at the nation's $170-million moonport after the Teamsters Union agreed to withdraw two pickets who caused a slowdown Tuesday.

Approximately a third of the 4,500 construction workers of the moonport had refused to cross the two-man-picket line.

District Attorney Takes On Louisiana Legislature

By BEN THOMAS

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)— In two hectic years in office, Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison has locked horns with French Quarter vice, the New Orleans police and all eight of the city's criminal district judges.

Now Garrison has taken on the entire Louisiana Legislature.

The legislature—to a man—lashed back at Garrison Tuesday night, censuring him for "deliberately maligning all of the members."

"I am greatly honored," commented Garrison after learning of the 39-0 Senate vote and 99-0 House vote.

The latest uproar involving the 6-foot-6 prosecutor started last weekend when Garrison called for an investigation by grand juries over the state into legislative approval of a bill which would allow bondsmen six months to recover fugitives before bail bonds are forfeited. The present law calls for forfeiture in 60 days.

Garrison, 42, hinted at bribery in connection with the passage of the bill, saying eight New Orleans bail bondsmen were approached to contribute $1,000 each toward passage of the bill.

There was talk of voting to removing Garrison from office. Both chambers held several closed sessions Tuesday to discuss the situation.

A committee of senators and representatives conferred with Gov. John McKeithen, who had credited Garrison with helping him get elected earlier this year.

Garrison asked the governor to veto the controversial bill. McKeithen declined public comment.

Then came the censure vote. Said Garrison: "I got even more votes than the bail bondsmen's bill."

Garrison came into office swinging two years ago. His first target was his predecessor, Richard A. Dowling, whom Garrison accused of dismissing too many cases.

He made accusations of police corruption, brutality and "solid resistance to investigation of organized vice."

Then he took on the judges, claiming his crusade was hampered by the courts and that there was "a racketeering influence on our vacation-minded judges."

The judges charged Garrison with defamation. He was convicted and fined $1,000. The case is now on appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

What's ahead for Garrison? He has been considered a potential candidate to run in 1966 for the U.S. Senate seat now held by Allen J. Ellender, D-La.

To such talk, Garrison says only: "The report is very flattering."

Reports Will Be Filed on Probe Of Baker Case

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — A politically divided Senate Rules Committee files Democratic and Republican reports today on Bobby Baker's money-making dealings.

Baker resigned under fire last Oct. 7 as secretary of the Senate's Democratic majority after a $350,000 damage suit against him and others by a local vending machine company spotlighted his outside business dealings.

Testimony received by the committee showed that Baker, a one-time Senate page boy from Pickens, S.C., claimed to have acquired a fortune of more than $2 million before he resigned his $19,600-a-year post.

President Johnson's name was injected into the probe by Don B. Reynolds, a local insurance agent with whom Baker was associated and who sold Johnson two $100,000 life insurance policies.

Reynolds testified that after the sale of the first policy in 1957, while Johnson was the Democratic leader of the Senate, he bought $1,208 worth of advertising time on a television station in Austin, Tex., owned by the President's family.

Reynolds said he did so at the request of Walter Jenkins, a long-time Johnson aide, even though he had no use for the television time. He also said that at Baker's request, he gave Johnson a $585 stereo set.

The President has said he thought the set was a gift from Baker, who served as his right-hand man in the Senate.

Outnumbered Republicans on the committee tried to have Jenkins and others called as witnesses. When truned down by the Democratic majority, they raised a cry of whitewash. The Democrats retorted the GOP members wanted to prolong the probe in hopes of making political capital.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona already has said that if he is the Republican presidential nominee he has no intention of forgetting the Baker case as a campaign issue.

Just last weekend he listed "the dark shadow of scandal that hangs over even the White House itself" as among the main issues in the forthcoming presidential campaign.

Cripple Creek - Victor News

By NAOMA POPE — 277J

Baptist Ladies Aid met Thursday at the church. Present were: Mrs. Olive Wire, Mrs. Eva Fisk, Mrs. Manie Bunner, Mrs. Jessie Dunn,, Mrs. Margaret Blackledge, Mrs. Elodia Pedrie, Mrs. Bess Hamelton and Ximena Johnson. Following a delicious dinner a meeting was opened, with Mrs. Mamie Bunner, the president, in charge. Mrs. Wire gave a prayer & Mrs. Bunner read from the Bible. Mrs. Hamelton had the mission lesson on "When Saints Lose Their Power." The meeting was closed by all repeating the Lord's Prayer.

Victor will hold a dance marathon in preparation for Gold Rush Days. The prize will be $5, awarded to the couple able to dance the longest.

Mr. and Mrs. James Larsen of Cripple Creek announce the birth of a daughter, Cynthia Denise, Tuesday night, June 30, at Hill Top Hospital. The newcomer weighed six pounds and twelve ouncces.

Successor to Khrushchev No. 1 Question in Russia

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP)—Who is going to succeed Premier Khrushchev, and when?

It fascinates 10 times more, even 100 times more, some 220 million people in the Soviet Union.

It is of very special interest also to the leaders of some 700 million Chinese.

But the greatest interest of all is bound to be shared by a tight cluster of men Khrushchev has gathered around him For—as of right now—the choice of the next leader of the Soviet Union almost certainly would be made by that group of five, and almost certainly one of the five would be chosen.

Foremost among the five are President Leonid Brezhnev, 57, whose star continues slowly rising, and Nikolai Podgorny, 60, a man who grew up in the food industries.

Other members of that corporation include the old Bolshevik, First Deputy Premier Nastas I. Mikoyan, 69, party theoretician Michael Suslov, 62, and Alexei Kosygin, 60, first deputy chairman, along with Mikoyan. Kosygin is an industrial and economic specialist.

Although they have senior titles, Mikoyan and Kosygin are not likely to get the job with the power. Mikoyan has become a perennial No. 2 man, welcome in any group because of his great party and governmental wisdom, and the fact that he seems to have no desire to advance beyond No. 2. Kosygin is a business executive, without special party background.

Frol Kozlov, 56, used to be considered in that group as well, right at the top under Khrushchev. But in the past two years he has suffered two heart attacks and a stroke. His name still is included among members of the Presidium, but Kozlov, whom Khrushchev once designated as his successor, evidently is out.

The man likely to succeed Khrushchev is Brezhnev, if the change comes now. He is technically chairman of the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet, or Parliament. By Soviet practice, that makes him president, or chief of state. Moreover, some months back he got an important job in the party secretariat. That was a big step toward leadership.

Khrushchev, now 70, still is very much the man at the top, and though a couple of years back he told a Young Communist League gathering that he couldn't expect to go on forever, nobody expects him to drop out voluntarily. He still seems to have as much vigor as any of the "inner circle" in the Presidium.

Barring accidents or heart attacks or strokes, Khrushchev could go on for several years.

Some observers abroad believe there is a palace clique ready to chuck him out for as spectacular a series of failures as a chief of state could expect to chalk up:

1. Unsteady farm production.
2. The split with China.
3. He precipitated the affair of the rockets in Cuba that forced him into a spectacular retreat.
4. He has backed away from his 1958 threat to force a Berlin settlement.

On his credit side, he has reduced tension between the Soviet Union and the United States since 1960, despite the Cuba interlude, and he has removed a lot of police tension from Soviet society.

It is likely that Brezhnev will exercise even less, if and when he succeeds to the leadership. Brezhnev doesn't appear to have the driving force of Khrushchev.

A strong Western supposition here is that Breznev will be a sort of caretaker premier, holding the country to the course it has set for itself under Khrushchev—until other forces in the country's politics make themselves felt.

And what next?

That is a bigger mystery still. Rising up as the next wave of Soviet authority is a small group of men born only at the hour of the revolution, men who didn't know Lenin.

They include:

Dmitry Plyansky, born Oct. 25, 1917. He is a member of the Presidium and made a warm impression on a tour of the United States six years ago.

Nikolai Patolichev, 56, minister for foreign trade, one of the most widely experienced of the upcoming crop. He was once a deputy foreign minister and has traveled abroad on trade missions.

Alexander Shelyepin, born in 1918, a man with hard gray eyes, who has been associated with police and supervisory agencies. He headed the Young Communist League, then the dreaded state security police, and more recently the state-party committee for supervising production efforts.

Honduras Jails Operators of Shrimp Boats

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—A local shrimp fleet operator said Tuesday night he has been advised that nine American shrimp boats have been fined $7,500 each, stripped of their gear and catches, and the crews jailed in Honduras.

Sam Tringali, owner of seven of the boats, said he received word of the Honduran government's action from one of his captains by ship-to-shore teletelephone.

Tringali said he had also received a report that one of the shrimper boats, Freddy Boy, was hit by at least 10 rounds of 30-caliber ammunition during the seizure last week about 30 miles offshore.

He said another boat, the Miss Loretta Ann, escaped from the Hondurans and was headed for Tampa. Two Honduran officials who had boarded the Miss Loretta Ann were dropped off at an unidentified location at the request of the U.S. government, Tringali said.

Honduran authorities said the boats did not have the proper papers.

Algeria Blames French for Revolt

ALGIERS (AP) — "The counter-revolution is being supported financially by French petroleum companies," President Ahmed Ben Bella of Algeria claimed Sunday.

Ben Bella faces guerrilla opposition in the Aures and Kabylie mountains led by some of his former comrades in revolution. He accused the oil companies at a mass meeting marking the second anniversary of Algeria's independence.

The U.S. vice-president has a flag of his own, by executive order of President F. D. Roosevelt in February of 1936.
